WASHINGTON — At least three dozen people in the United States suspected of ties to the Islamic State were under heavy electronic or physical surveillance even before the Paris attacks, senior American officials say. But unlike the attackers in France, the officials say, the majority of those under investigation here never traveled to Syria to fight alongside the Islamic State or receive training from it.

In many ways, the officials say, that makes the American investigations even harder. Those under investigation typically have little terrorism expertise or support from a cell, which makes thwarting an Islamic State-inspired attack in the United States less like stopping a traditional terrorist plot and more like trying to prevent a school shooting.

SYRIAN REFUGEES

Syrian refugees controversy gets Lansing's attention

Lansing State Journal, Nov. 19, 2015

LANSING - The resettlement of Syrian refugees in Michigan is a controversial issue, but several Lansing area organizations and leaders are ready to help others get out of the warn-torn country.

St. Vincent Catholic Charities has resettled in Mid-Michigan over 20,000 refugees from around the world in the last 30 years and hopes to welcome up to 100 from Syria within the next year — if the federal government continues allowing the placements.

"We'll keep doing what we do and we'll see what happens," said Judi Harris, program director for refugee services at St. Vincent. "I think it's a little too early right now to change anything."

Students, faculty respond to Snyder's refugee stance

Michigan Daily (U of M), Nov. 19, 2015

In wake of terrorist attacks in Paris that left 129 dead, Michigan Gov. Rick Snyder joined 31 governors in vowing to pause the entry of Syrian refugees into their states.

Early reports indicated that one the attackers may have been a refugee from Syria, though officials now say that theory was likely incorrect. Even so, that notion stoked fears that ISIS fighters would enter the country along with the refugees fleeing their violent campaigns.

In response, LSA senior Sarah Raoof and Public Health students Tala Dahbour and Reem Kashlan launched a letter-writing campaign on Facebook. The campaign encourages students to visit the "Share your Opinion" page on the governor's website to send either a pre-written or personal letter expressing opposition to his plan to block Syrian refugees.

Snyder trying to clear his record in statements on refugees

Michigan Radio, Nov. 19, 2015

Governor Rick Snyder was the first governor in the nation to speak out on refugees following last week's terrorist attacks in Paris and Beirut. And he may have come to regret it as he tries to clarify his position vis a vis what a lot of the nation's other Republican governors are saying about refugees and immigration.

Following the attacks, Governor Snyder said he was hitting the "pause" button on efforts to get more visas for Middle Eastern refugees to settle in Michigan.

Oakland County Executive orders staff to end support of Pontiac Syrian housing project

Oakland Press, Nov. 18, 2015

Oakland County Executive L. Brooks Patterson has stepped into the Syrian refugee debate by urging Pontiac Mayor Deirdre Waterman to discontinue her support of housing Syrian refugees in Pontiac.

The development in question is proposed for a 10-block area near Franklin Road and South Boulevard.

The move follows calls from several governors' announcements — including one from Michigan Gov. Rick Snyder — to postpone accepting Syrian refugees.

Snyder can't legally refuse refugees, but he probably won't roll out the welcome mat

Michigan Radio, Nov. 18, 2015

When Gov. Rick Synder's office released a statement asking the Department of Homeland Security to review the vetting process for Syrian refugees seeking asylum in the United States after the terrorist attacks in Paris, the reaction was swift.

Soon dozens of governors declared their opposition or support of settling Syrian refugees in their respective states.

However, Detroit Free Press Capitol Hill reporter Todd Spangler tells Stateside host Cynthia Canty that state governors have no legal say when it comes to accepting refugees.

Kaffer: Snyder's political pandering on refugees shames us all

Detroit Free Press, Nov. 19, 2015

One of the worst things about terrorism is it works. Last week's deadly terrorist attacks in Paris did exactly what its perpetrators intended: killed innocent Parisians, surely, but caused people across the globe to worry that they'd be next, to fear sudden death or torment at the hands of anonymous, implacable attackers.

It's hard to argue with fear. It allows little room for cool-headed decision making.

And in that context, the "circle the wagons" response of many Americans after the Paris attacks is understandable. It is manifest most publicly in a resistance toward accepting refugees from Syria, where the Islamic State in Iraq and Syria holds territory.

The U.S. has taken in 1,800 Syrian refugees in the last two years. Because conflict in Syria is ongoing, and because the number of refugees has taxed that country's immediate neighbors, President Barack Obama has said the U.S. will take in 10,000 refugees by the end of 2016.

Compounded by the current story that one of the attackers entered France with a phony passport, with a trail indicating he'd entered France as a refugee, it's easy to understand why many Americans might fear an onrush of poorly vetted immigrants from Syria that could include criminals bent on harm.

But that's not how it works.

And it's impossible to understand why some elected officials – like Gov. Rick Snyder – have opted not to educate and inform, but to fan the flames of suspicion and intolerance. Snyder, along with 33 other governors, have said they will halt efforts to accept Syrian refugees, something they are not legally capable of doing. This boneheaded move is particularly startling in Snyder's case; for years, he's pitched Michigan as a destination for immigrants, suggesting that new residents from overseas could help reverse the state's population loss.

MICHIGAN NUCLEAR

Michigan legislators urge new Canadian PM to say 'no' to nuclear dump

The Voice, Nov. 19, 201`5

Michigan's two U.S. senators and 10 of its 14 U.S. representatives wasted little time in signing a letter to new Canadian Prime Minister Justin Trudeau, urging his government to deny the necessary permits to Ontario Power Generation to build a nuclear waste dump 2,200 feet underground less than a mile from Lake Huron.

The letter went out on Nov. 5, the day after Trudeau was sworn in as prime minister and proceeded to appoint a diverse cabinet comprising 15 men and 15 women.

After congratulating Trudeau on becoming Canada's 23rd prime minister, the U.S. politicians zeroed in on the issue at hand.

Associated Press, Nov. 16, 2015

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A Republican legislator is renewing a push to lift Wisconsin's moratorium on new nuclear power plants, saying the state's manufacturers must have a reliable source of energy as burning fossil fuels grows more expensive.

Under current Wisconsin law, state regulators can't grant permission for a new nuclear power plant unless a federal storage facility for the waste from nuclear plants across the country exists and the plant wouldn't burden state ratepayers. No such centralized storage facility exists, however. President Barack Obama's administration pulled funding for creating one at Nevada's Yucca Mountain, leaving nuclear plants to continue storing waste on-site in pools and casks.

Flint leaders seek tougher rules on lead in drinking water

Associated Press, Nov. 18, 2015

Leaders from the Flint area want stronger regulation of public drinking water systems to avoid more problems such as the lead contamination that has plagued the Michigan city.

U.S. Rep. Dan Kildee told the Environmental Protection Agency's National Drinking Water Council the lead pollution of Flint's water was a "failure of government." The council met Wednesday near Washington, D.C., to discuss revising a federal rule on lead and copper levels in water.

Story of Flint water crisis, 'failure of government,' unfolds in Washington

MLive-Flint, Nov. 18, 2015

FLINT, MI – Elected officials and activists have delivered the story of Flint's lead in water crisis in person to the federal government, testifying Wednesday, Nov. 18, before a U.S. EPA advisory council.

"What happened in Flint is a failure of government, and we must ensure that it never happens again to Flint or any other community," U.S. Rep. Dan Kildee, D-Flint, said in opening testimony to the National Drinking Water Advisory Council. "The EPA has the ultimate responsibility to ensure that drinking water standards are followed."

In addition to Kildee, state Senate Minority Leader Jim Ananich, D-Flint; Dr. Mona Hanna-Attisha of Hurley Medical Center; Flint resident LeeAnne Walters; and professor Marc Edwards of Virginia Tech university all testified to the council, which is considering changes in federal rules on lead in water.

WASHINGTON, D.C. (WJRT) - (11/18/15) - The doctor who helped expose Flint's problem with lead in the drinking water spent Wednesday morning talking about the issue before leaders in Washington D.C.

Dr. Mona Hanna-Attisha testified before the Environmental Protection Agency, along with a Flint mother who claims her child has lead poisoning.

Hanna-Attisha used a PowerPoint presentation to showcase how something like this can happen anywhere across the country, not only in Flint.

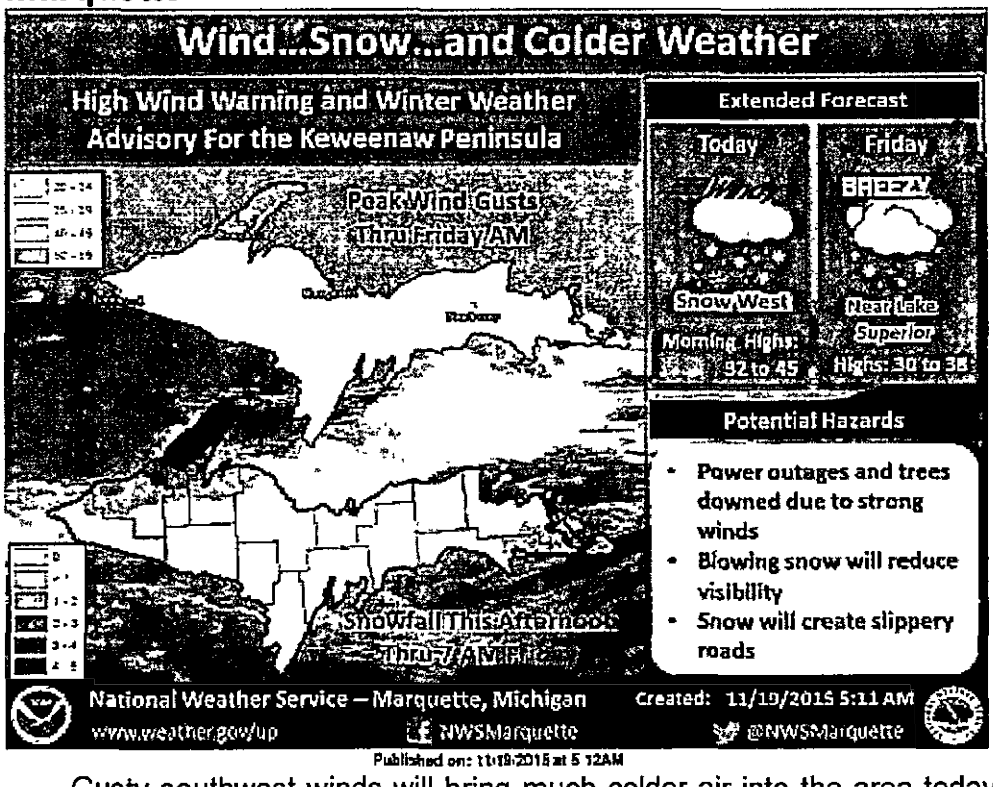
NATIONAL WEATHER SERVICE FORECASTS

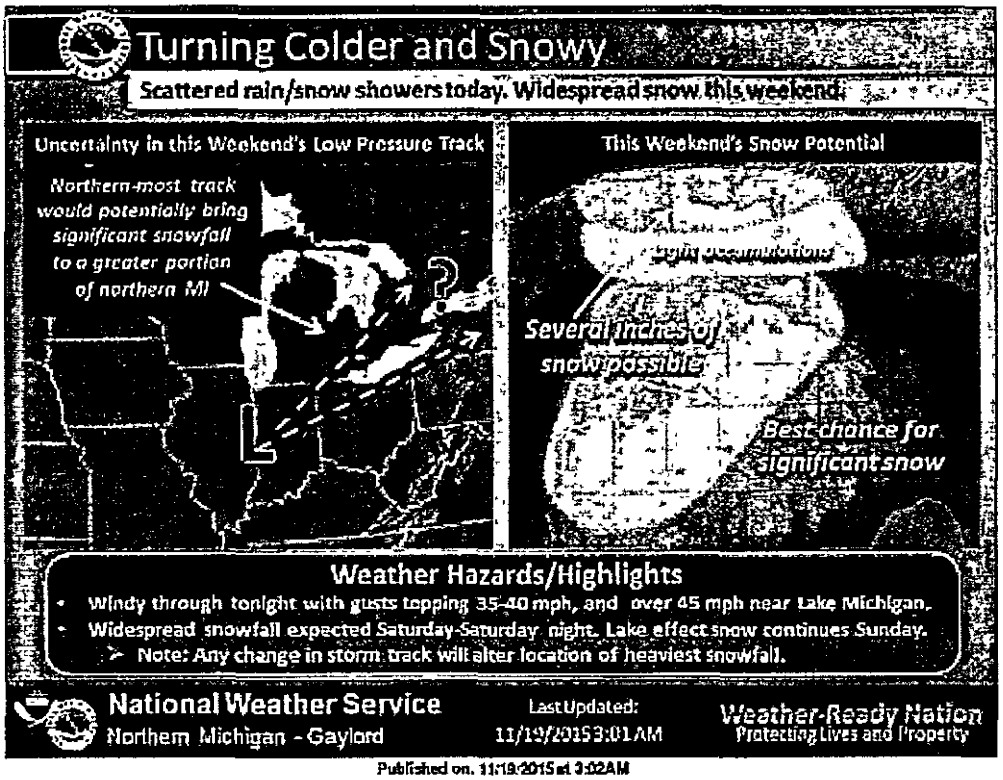
Marquette



Published on: 11/19/2015 at 5:12AM

Gusty southwest winds will bring much colder air into the area today, along with lake effect snow this afternoon over the Keweenaw and tonight over the western U.P. The strong winds will lead to some power outages and when combined with the snow, visibilities will be greatly reduced over the Keweenaw Peninsula.

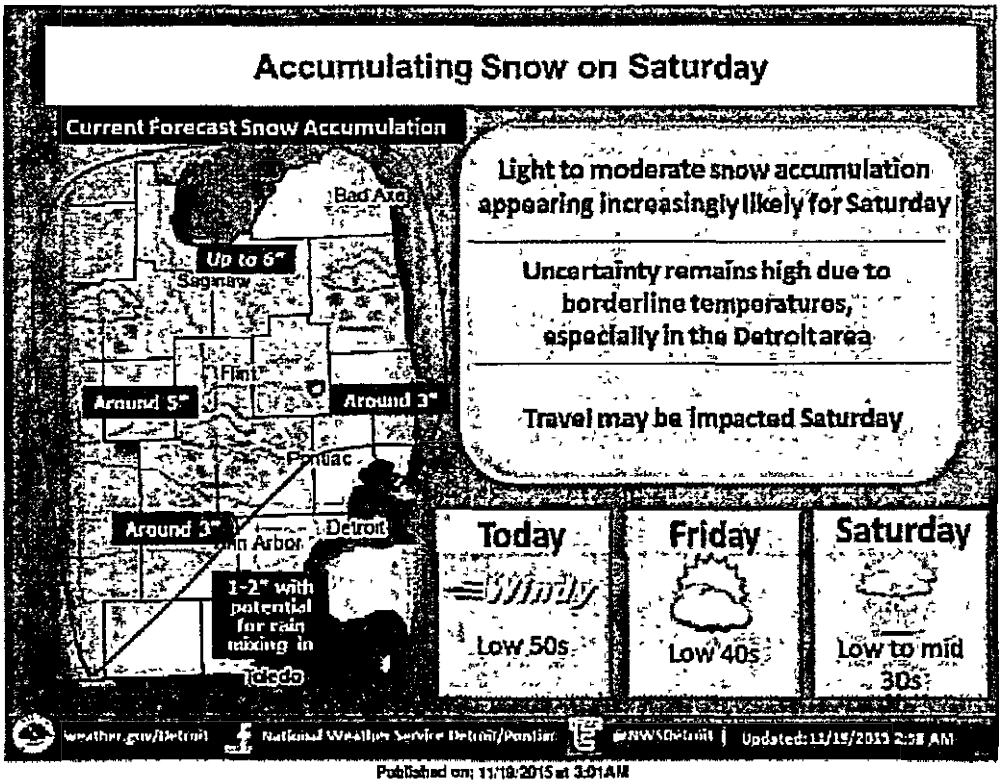
Gaylord



Published on: 11/19/2015 at 3:02AM

Scattered rain showers are expected to continue, mixing with snow on today. Potential is still for widespread snowfall across northern Michigan on Saturday with lake effect snow continuing Sunday.

Detroit



Published on: 11/19/2015 at 3:01AM

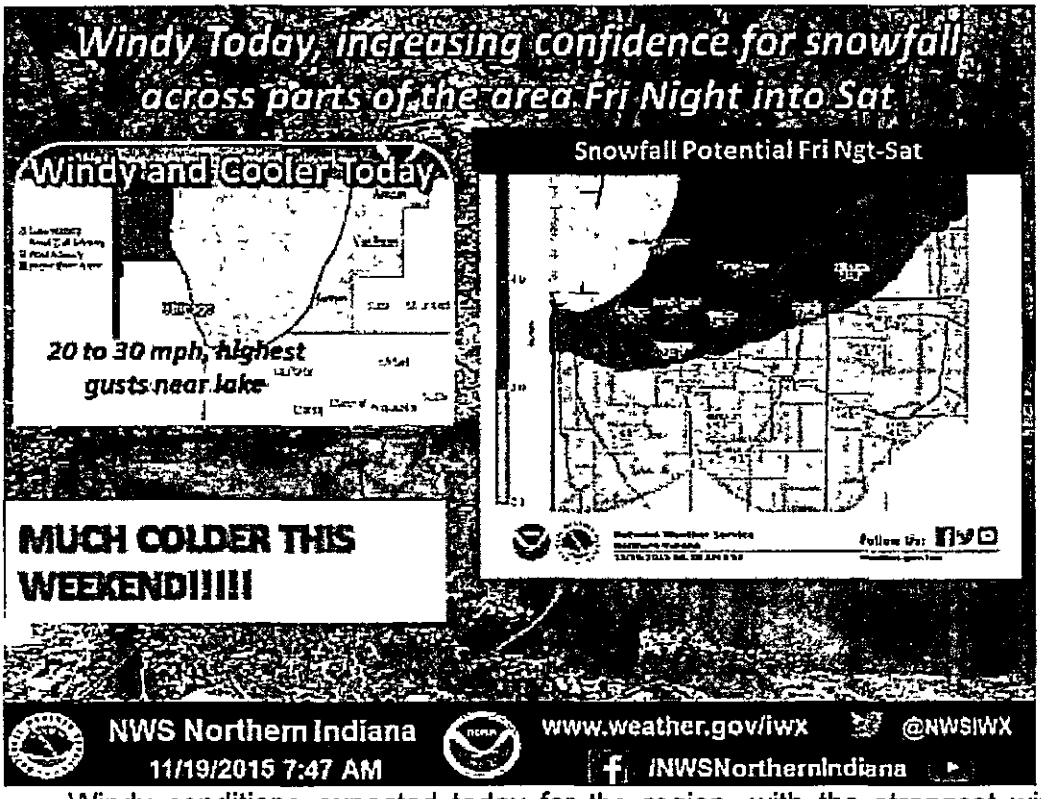
Gusty winds will be followed by falling temperatures this afternoon. A colder airmass in place for Friday will offset early day sunshine keeping highs near 40. Accumulating snow will move into the area during the day on Saturday. Uncertainty with regard to storm track and temperatures are still present, but it appears that northwest portions of SE Michigan will see up to 6" of snow. Amounts will taper off further south, with the potential for warm temperatures to cause rain to mix in at times for Detroit.

Grand Rapids

Published on. 11/19/2015 at 8:29AM

It will be another windy day with gusts around 40 mph inland and 45 mph along the lakeshore. This could lead to some scattered power outages. The temperature will fall especially later this afternoon. There will also be some light showers around. Accumulating snow (about 3-6 inches) and inconvenient travel are expected on Saturday.

Northern Indiana



Windy conditions expected today for the region, with the strongest winds expected closer to Lake Michigan, especially in Berrien county. Sustained winds of 20 to 30 mph with gusts to 40 mph will be common. Locally higher gusts to 45 mph or more are possible in Berrien county, warranting a Wind Advisory. Of greater focus is the increasing likihood for accumulating snow across parts of the area late Friday night into Saturday. The majority of the snow will fall during the day Saturday, which may limit amounts as temperatures in the mid to upper 30s and warm ground temperatures cause some melting of the snow as it falls. In addition, the track of the system is still being fine tuned with the highest amounts potentially shifting north or south. Once this system passes, MUCH colder air will arrive with highs Sunday struggling to climb above freezing.

Syrian refugees

Snyder change on Syrian refugees leads more opposition (Freep)
Gov. Rick Snyder's announcement Sunday that he would back off — at least temporarily — from an effort to relocate Syrian refugees in Michigan set off a wave of even stronger opposition by governors across the U.S. on Monday, with several saying they would reject outright any attempts to resettle Syrians in their states.

Snyder suspends Syrian refugee effort in Michigan (Freep)
Gov. Rick Snyder's decision to suspend efforts to bring Syrian refugees to Michigan in light of the deadly terrorist attacks in Paris on Friday has sparked controversy and launched the state into the national debate of how to protect U.S. citizens while providing a haven for those who desperately need help.

Snyder urges 'full review' of refugees, says safety is key (AP)
Michigan Gov. Rick Snyder is asking the Obama administration for a "full review" of security clearances for refugees who could be placed in Michigan. Snyder's office released a letter that was sent Monday to Secretary of State John Kerry and the head of Homeland Security after the attacks in Paris and Beirut. The governor says he's "unwavering" in welcoming refugees to Michigan but adds that his first priority is keeping people safe.

Governors Who Want To Ban Syrian Refugees Have Something In Common (FiveThirtyEight)
"Michigan is a welcoming state and we are proud of our rich history of immigration," Michigan Gov. Rick Snyder said in a statement Sunday announcing his position on refugees. "But our first priority is protecting the safety of our residents."

Michigan among those states not welcoming refugees (WWMT)
In the wake of the deadly terror attacks in Paris on Friday, the state of Michigan is one of 11 across the country that has announced it will not take in Syrian refugees. U.S. governors--including Michigan's Governor Rick Snyder, are saying no to Syrian refugees. The news comes with concern that terrorists may enter the United States under the cover of a refugee to cause us harm.

Michigan Commission on Middle Eastern American Affairs: "We support the governor" (WLNS)
We support the governor's step that is designed to ensure the safety and security of all Michiganders. We also ask our fellow citizens to stay away from stereotyping and racially-charged comments at this sensitive time. In unity, we will uphold the values that have served America well and made us the great society we are today.

Snyder Says Suspending Acceptance of Syrian Refugees is "Prudent" and Temporary (Michigan Radio)
Governor Rick Snyder stresses that he's only pausing, not ending, plans to welcome refugees from Syria and other Middle East countries to Michigan. Governor Snyder has a very pro-immigration record, and says there are humanitarian and practical reasons for Michigan to welcome refugees.

Border Not Closed: Snyder Clarifies Refugee Situation (WSJM)
Governor Snyder is clarifying his stance on allowing Syrian refugees into the state. On Sunday, Snyder said he was temporarily halting efforts to relocate refugees into the state pending a review by the U.S. Department of Homeland Security on the procedures for allowing them into the country. He also said yesterday that the borders aren't being closed.

Snyder Temporarily Blocks Refugees (WILX)
Governor Snyder says he's blocking more refugees from coming to Michigan for now in order to keep our state safe. "Most people are not terrorists," said Gov. Rick Snyder. With autumn in full swing, now is a great opportunity to take a course at the Emergency Management and Homeland Security Training Center (EMHSTC).

For this final quarter of 2015, the EMHSTC is highlighting a new federal course: Integrating Whole Community Inclusive Planning into the Emergency Management Process (AWR-330). This FREE one-day course provides students with an overview of basic concepts, legal requirements, and best practices for building the whole community into a comprehensive emergency management strategy.

The EMHSTC highly recommends anyone involved with emergency planning, response, and recovery to attend AWR-330. There will be one offering of this course in each part of the state.

We are also running other classes and a long-term power outage tabletop exercise. Don't wait and register today!

Upper Peninsula institutes join forces to combat campus sexual assault (Sault Ste. Marie)
Lake Superior State University, and other higher education institutions throughout the Upper Peninsula, are collaborating on a series of events designed to raise awareness regarding sexual assault.

Sexual assault 'no big deal' survey response baffles those addressing it on Michigan campuses (MLive)
When a University of Michigan researcher surveyed 3,000 students about sexual assault, he found only 3.6 percent of sexual assault victims told an official resource. When he asked why, he was unprepared for the most common write-in response.

DEPARTMENT NEWS

DEQ
State recommends all schools test water for lead — but no system exists to do so (Holland Sentinel)
In light of the crisis in Flint, the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality said this fall every school should be testing its water if the school has lead infrastructure. But no clear system exists to make that possible.

DNR
Michigan deer hunters enjoy mild opening day (WOOD)

At the DNR check station in Belding Sunday morning, successful hunters stopped by with their prize bucks. The DNR is reminding all hunters to be safe during the season. That means making sure everyone wears their hunter orange, which is required by law. DNR officers are also stressing that people be aware of their surroundings.

DNR reminds hunters to follow off-road vehicle laws (Up North Live)
With firearm deer hunting season starting, conservation officers at the Michigan Department of Natural Resources are reminding hunters using an off-road vehicle (ORV) to follow ORV land-use regulations.

MDNR concerned over spread of deadly deer disease (Up North Live)
The Michigan Department of Natural Resources launched a new public information campaign this week to stop Chronic Wasting Disease from reaching the Upper Peninsula. DNR agents have already discovered several cases of the disease downstate and in Wisconsin.

DNR: Deer killed in DeWitt Township may have chronic wasting disease (Lansing State Journal)
The Michigan Department of Natural Resources on Friday said a 1 1/2 year old buck suspected of carrying chronic wasting disease was killed in DeWitt Township. More detailed tests are pending.

Chronic Wasting Disease changes the game of hunting (WLNS)
The Department of Natural Resources strongly believes they have found a deer in Eaton County, with CWD. If tested positive, this will be the 4th deer to have CWD in the state including others in Ingham County.

Fired Saginaw nurse wins $1.2 million case argued at Supreme Court (Mlive)
A former Saginaw nurse has won the wrongful termination lawsuit against HealthSource Saginaw he has fought since 2008. The Michigan Supreme Court on Friday, Nov. 13, denied HealthSource's request to appeal a judgment upholding a jury's verdict that awarded $1.2 million to Roberto Landin.

LEGISLATIVE NEWS

Big issues left for Legislature: DPS and energy reform (Detroit Free Press)
With a road funding deal out of the way and only two, perhaps three weeks of legislative session left in the year, lawmakers are hoping to wrap up work on some big issues.

No charges forthcoming in extortion claim by ex-state Rep. Todd Courser (MLive)
Todd Courser said the decision by Lapeer County Prosecutor Tim Turkelson closed a chapter for him that's gone back months and led to the former 82nd House District representative stepping down from his seat and a fellow lawmaker expelled from office.

Michigan Political Points: Senate Republicans flex muscle following road funding deal (MLive)
With tough road funding votes behind them, Senate Republicans stepped on the gas this week, passing a series of partisan bills that Democrats could do little to stop.

DETROIT

$195M pension payment might derail Detroit's recovery (Detroit Free Press)
Post-bankruptcy Detroit is obligated to pay little to nothing into employee pensions over the next nine years. But then, an enormous bill comes due that has caught city and pensions officials off-guard, raising doubt about the data used in bankruptcy to calculate the city's obligations.

The Detroit Bankruptcy and the Regional Water Authority (WDET)
Detroit's bankruptcy case produced the Great Lakes Water Authority, a new regional organization that oversees water and sewer services to much of southeast Michigan. Supporters say it means more regional cooperation, and better management of its huge water system. But the Authority also has plenty of skeptics.

For Detroit Retirees, Bankruptcy Still Part of Daily Life (WDET)
For City of Detroit retirees, the changes brought by bankruptcy are measured in the cuts they've taken to monthly pension checks and health care benefits. Nearly a year after the case's resolution, some of them are recalling the bankruptcy proceedings and what the case has meant to their lives.

Detroit police on heightened alert after Paris attacks (AP)
Detroit law enforcement officials have called more officers to duty and moved some to locations deemed higher priorities following the deadly attacks in Paris.

Detroit casinos, labor unresolved over health care (The Detroit News)
Negotiations between Detroit's three casinos and the Detroit Casino Council, the umbrella organization for four employee unions, remain unresolved over health care. The two sides met on Wednesday evening but were unable to reach an agreement. They are scheduled to meet again Sunday through Tuesday.

OPINION

Is a gay rights petition drive in Michigan's future? (Mlive)

The strangest things happen in this business when a usually reliable source suggests one thing, but once you check it out, you discover quite another. Which is why LGBT advocate and lawyer Dana Nessel is wondering if some are trying to "sabotage" a proposed statewide petition drive to expand the state's civil rights act to include the gay community.

Who gets hurt when lawmakers put cost before value? (Detroit Free Press)
In a conversation with Michigan House Speaker Kevin Cotter a few weeks ago, I challenged him to defend the fact that the state's Department of Health and Human Services is so under-funded that it employs just 67 inspectors to oversee compliance in 10,000 child care centers.

Our Editorial: DPS deal needs realistic funding (The Detroit News)
Gov. Rick Snyder decided last week to delay the introduction of legislation to rescue the Detroit Public Schools until next month. That assures it won't be passed by the end of the year, as the governor had hoped. Before he does send the bills to the Legislature, he'll have to come up with a more realistic funding plan.

Snyder's Detroit schools plan falls short on leadership (Detroit Free Press)
While there are commendable aspects of Gov. Rick Snyder's plan for Detroit Public Schools, I have significant reservations about its viability and the long-term effects it will have on the city and the school system. The creation of a seven-member school board along with the creation of a five-member Detroit Education Commission, both appointed by the mayor and the governor, are problematic

State not so transparent and voters should do something (Detroit Free Press)
Michigan ranked last in the U.S. in a national study of state ethics and transparency laws. The study, released Monday, cites weak public record laws and the state's lack of laws requiring personal financial disclosures by lawmakers and top state officials.

Rubin: The Michigan Senate thinks you're an idiot (The Detroit News)
We expect a little chicanery from our beloved legislature. A touch of duplicity. Extended periods of befuddlement and bickering, punctuated by a few needless years of potholes. Those things barely get anyone's attention, except for the potholes. But nobody likes being treated like an idiot, especially by people radiating hypocrisy.

Export-Import Bank should be revived to aid Michigan industries (Mlive)
In Michigan we have come through difficult economic times with many of our businesses, big and small, selling to new customers overseas. With over 95 percent of potential buyers outside the United States, the need for strong exports has never been greater.

DEQ
Michigan, neighboring governments work to reduce Lake Erie pollution (Crain's Detroit Business)
Toxic algae bloomed in Lake Erie in huge numbers in August 2014, causing the city of Toledo to issue a "do not drink" advisory. Fears that this was only the beginning of similar occurrences were realized this summer, when the 2015 algal bloom was worse, closing beaches and threatening water supplies. Actions proposed by the state include: Monitoring and studying the causes of harmful algal blooms because (according to the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality) they are "not well understood."

'Water is a human right,' Democrats say with new bills addressing Flint crisis, Detroit shutoffs (Mlive)
"There's a moral goal here," said Rep. Sheldon Neeley, D-Flint, urging the Snyder administration to consider the package. Neeley plans to introduce legislation that would require the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality to collect water samples using federally-approved procedures. His bill would prohibit a sampling procedure known as "pre-flushing," which can lower lead level readings.

Flint may have failed to follow US water testing rules (The Detroit News)

Drinking water testing protocols call for cities to target neighborhoods most likely to have homes with lead connections and plumbing — called Tier 1 areas — since they run a higher risk of having contaminated water. A letter sent to Flint on Nov. 9 by Michigan's Department of Environmental Quality indicates state officials are unsure if the city did so in samples taken over the first half of 2015.

DHHS

DHHS improving technology for caseworkers (Lansing State Journal)

Nick Lyon, director of the Michigan Department of Health & Human Services formed this spring through the merger of the departments of Community Health and Human Services, told a legislative panel Thursday that a shared case management system was one of "five key infrastructure advancements" he was pushing as he continued work on fully integrating the two departments.

DNR

DNR launches campaign to keep chronic wasting disease from U.P. (Up North Live)

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources has launched a campaign to keep chronic wasting disease (CWD) from reaching the Upper Peninsula. CWD affects the central nervous system and is fatal to white-tailed deer, mule deer, elk and moose.

State urges hunters to help keep deer disease out of UP (Michigan Radio)

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources has launched an education campaign to try to keep chronic wasting disease from spreading to the Upper Peninsula. The disease affects the central nervous system and is always fatal to white-tailed deer, mule deer, elk, and moose, according to the DNR. And there is no known treatment.

LARA

Michigan announces net reduction of 2,100 rules since 2011 (AP)

Department of Licensing and Regulatory Affairs Director Mike Zimmer said he was "extremely thrilled" to have 2,000 fewer rules, saying that revisiting thousands of regulations — many of which had not been reviewed in decades — is part of a broader effort to alleviate barriers to business without risking citizens' health and safety. Of the state's 16 departments, LARA had the most net rule reductions, 642, because it has the most regulations due to its role

Williamson: Let's transform Detroit schools (Detroit News)
Sometimes it is just confounding to read the news about schools and education. Currently we are reading about the governor's efforts regarding the Detroit Public Schools. We are also reading about the FBI investigation of corruption in the Education Achievement Authority (EAA) and the plea bargain agreements of some of the education reform fraudsters involved.

Editorial: Michigan growing, but not fast enough (Detroit News)
Michigan has regained 400,000 jobs over the past five years, roughly half what was lost during the Lost Decade at the start of this century. Its economy is growing along with employment, and its business climate ranking has strengthened.

Dickens: Enforce Detroit pot laws with care (Detroit News)
Seven years after the passage of the Michigan Medical Marihuana Act (MMMA), the Detroit City Council is currently considering regulation of medical marijuana facilities within its city limits.

Don't slow Detroit's blight fight (Detroit Free Press)
As a lifelong Detroiter and someone who for the last 27 years has been working to eradicate blight in Detroit, I have learned a few things. First and foremost, blight is a cancer in our city. Without swift and aggressive treatment, it will spread, destroying Detroit neighborhoods. Without a clear strategy and a sense of great urgency, blight will continue to spread faster than it is removed.

Susan J. Demas: What Snyder gets wrong about welders and higher education (MLive)
I've interviewed Gov. Rick Snyder a number of times, but one moment has always struck me.

Is the state to blame for local financial distress? (Michigan Radio)
There is a lot of controversy surrounding Michigan's use of emergency managers. The Flint water fiasco, the decline of the Detroit Public School system – that all happened under the watch of state-appointed emergency managers.

Anderson: Road funding fix needs to be fixed (Lansing State Journal)
After five years of total control, State Representative Tom Barrett and his Republican colleagues finally got around to dealing with our crumbling roads. Sadly, the plan passed by the Legislature crumbles under the weight of scrutiny. This poorly thought out plan will eventually commit $1.2 billion in new road funding by asking more from average Michiganders and slashing critical services to the tune of $600 million from Michigan's general fund.

From the Daily: Testing Action Plan a good (M-)STEP (Michigan Daily)

A solution to fix standardized testing practices has recently bubbled up. On Oct. 24, the Obama administration admitted it had pushed too far in holding state schools accountable based on their students' standardized test scores. In light of this acknowledgment, the administration called on Congress to include specific measures that address the overemphasis on standardized testing in the Elementary and Secondary Education Act — a bill previously termed No Child Left Behind. Two different versions of the ESEA were reauthorized in July by both the House and the Senate, and the fate of the bill lies in the two chambers' ability to compromise.

Michigan revising rates for inmate calls after FCC decision (AP)

The Michigan Department of Corrections is revising rates for inmate phone calls after the Federal Communications Commission decided to reduce the cost of jail and prison phone calls. Corrections Department spokesman Chris Gautz tells The Detroit News (http://detne.ws/1QdBreL) officials are working to determine how the change will impact revenue. The department last year generated $11.5 million from inmate calls. The money flows into a "special equipment fund" used in recent years for security upgrades and counseling programs such as violence prevention and sex-offender treatment.

Where does Michigan rank in a "State Integrity Investigation"? Dead last (Michigan Radio)

Fiftieth out of fifty states. That's where Michigan ranks in a report released today by the Center for Public Integrity. The last time we wrote about this, Michigan ranked 43rd out of 50. In his piece on Michigan for the Center for Public Integrity, Chad Selweski details just why Michigan is at the bottom of the barrel: A significant factor in Michigan's 2015 ranking is its lack of effective disclosure rules for officials in nearly all facets of state government. Conflicts of interest and potential public corruption remain buried in an honor system with no honor.

Thanks to loopholes created by the legislature, big spenders representing special interests can dramatically influence an election without leaving a trace.

Integrity Report ranks Michigan worst in nation for government transparency, accountability (MLive)

Michigan has the worst government transparency and accountability laws and practices in the country, according a new corruptibility report card from the Center for Public Integrity. Michigan received a failing grade — and the lowest overall score — from CPI, which measured each state on 250 specific "indicators" related to ethics enforcement, lobbying disclosure, political financing, legislative accountability and more.

Bill would give some state workers police powers (Detroit Free Press)

Critics say a bill giving new police powers to certain state workers would create "welfare police" to punish the poor, but supporters say it's a stride toward efficiency and protecting taxpayer dollars. State Sen. Peter MacGregor's Senate Bill 384 would give arrest powers to employees of the Department of Health & Human Service's Office of Inspector General. That agency investigates welfare fraud, such as when food stamps are sold for cash or used for ineligible items such as cigarettes.

Hoadley: Legislators reviewing proposed Michigan energy bill package (WTVB)
Rep. Jon Hoadley says Michigan legislators have begun reviewing the details of a proposed state energy bill package. Hoadley, a Democrat from Kalamazoo, said it left committee last Thursday night, and votes on elements of the package could come as early as Tuesday in the House. "There's, like, four big pieces of it," Hoadley said. "How much is renewable? How much is energy-efficiency? How much our rate-payers going to pay? Hi Dave,

That's correct. All emergencies and disaster declarations begin and end at the local level through the Michigan Emergency Management Act (Public Act 390 of 1976).

Our third district Michigan State Police emergency management coordinator has been working closely working with Genesee County Emergency Management Coordinator Jenifer Boyer. At this time, the county has not requested state assistance through the Michigan Emergency Management Act.

Jenifer Boyer would be a good source to talk to about what sort of local declarations have been made and operations are taking place at the local level.

I hope this helps. Please let me know if you have any other questions.

Thanks,

Gov. Rick Snyder announces Flint Water Task Force to review state, federal and municipal actions, offer recommendations

Experts in public health, water management, environmental protection to focus on steps to protect residents

LANSING, Mich. – Gov. Rick Snyder today announced the creation of an independent advisory task force charged with reviewing actions regarding water use and testing in Flint and offer recommendations for future guidelines to protect the health and safety of all state residents.

Task force members include experts in public health and medicine, water management, and environmental protection from both sides of the aisle, and will be co-chaired by Ken Sikkema of Public Sector Consultants and Chris Kolb, of the Michigan Environmental Council. Also serving will be Dr. Matthew Davis of the University of Michigan Health System, Eric Rothstein, of the Galardi Rothstein Group and Dr. Lawrence Reynolds of Mott Children's Health Center in Flint.

"Transitioning back to the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department-Great Lakes Water Authority is a good first step to protecting public health in Flint, but it's not the last step," Snyder said. "Bringing in outside experts to evaluate our actions and help monitor and advise on potential changes to law, procedures and practices will be key to continuing work on the comprehensive action plan and ensuring safe drinking water for all the residents in Flint and all of Michigan."

Snyder said the administration will fully cooperate with task force members, saying he wants an unbiased report focusing on steps taken in the past and recommendations that could improve practices to ensure all residents have access to safe, clean water.

Ken Sikkema is a senior policy fellow at Public Sector Consultants, where he specializes in public finance, environment, and energy policy. Prior to joining the firm, Sikkema served in both the Michigan House and Senate, culminating with four years as Senate majority leader. He has also served as both an adjunct and visiting professor at Grand Valley State University.

Chris Kolb is president of the Michigan Environmental Council, a statewide coalition of 70 environmental, public health and faith-based nonprofit groups. Before joining the MEC, Kolb represented Ann Arbor in the state House for six years and served six years on the Ann Arbor City Council. He has been president of the MEC for six years.

Matthew Davis, M.D., M.A.P.P., is professor of pediatrics and internal medicine at the University of Michigan Health System and professor of public policy at the Gerald R. Ford School at the University of Michigan, having joined the faculty in 2000. Davis also is a professor of health management and policy at the School of Public Health. He previously served as the chief medical executive of the Michigan Department of Community Health/Department of Health and Human Services.

Eric Rothstein is a national water issues consultant and principal at the Galardi Rothstein Group. He served as an independent advisor on the creation of the Great Lakes Water Authority. Rothstein also has served as Jefferson County, Alabama's rate consultant and municipal adviser for litigation related to the county's bankruptcy and issuance of $1.7 billion in sewer warrants and led strategic financial planning for the City of Atlanta's Department of Watershed Management. He has more than 30 years of experience in water, wastewater and stormwater utility finance and rate-making assessments.

Lawrence Reynolds, M.D., is a pediatrician in Flint who serves as president of the Mott Children's Health Center. He received his medical degree from Howard University College of Medicine and has been in practice for 36 years. He has served as president of the Genesee County Medical Society and the Michigan Chapter of the American Academy of Pediatrics. He has been honored for his humanitarian and advocacy efforts on behalf of children from the Community Foundation of Greater Flint.

Snyder has said reconnecting with the authority is a critical step to resolving water quality issues and addressing related health concerns. It will not immediately resolve the city's problem with lead service lines or aging infrastructure. It will take time for pipes in Flint to become coated with the phosphate corrosion control.

To best protect public health, state and local authorities will continue to carry out steps outlined on Oct. 2 in a comprehensive action plan, including continued testing, the use of faucet filters and providing residents with accurate information about steps to eliminate lead exposure. The Michigan Departments of Environmental Quality and Health and Human Services are continuing to provide free water filters, free lead testing through the state laboratory for Flint water customers, and hiring additional staff to conduct health exposure monitoring for lead in drinking water.

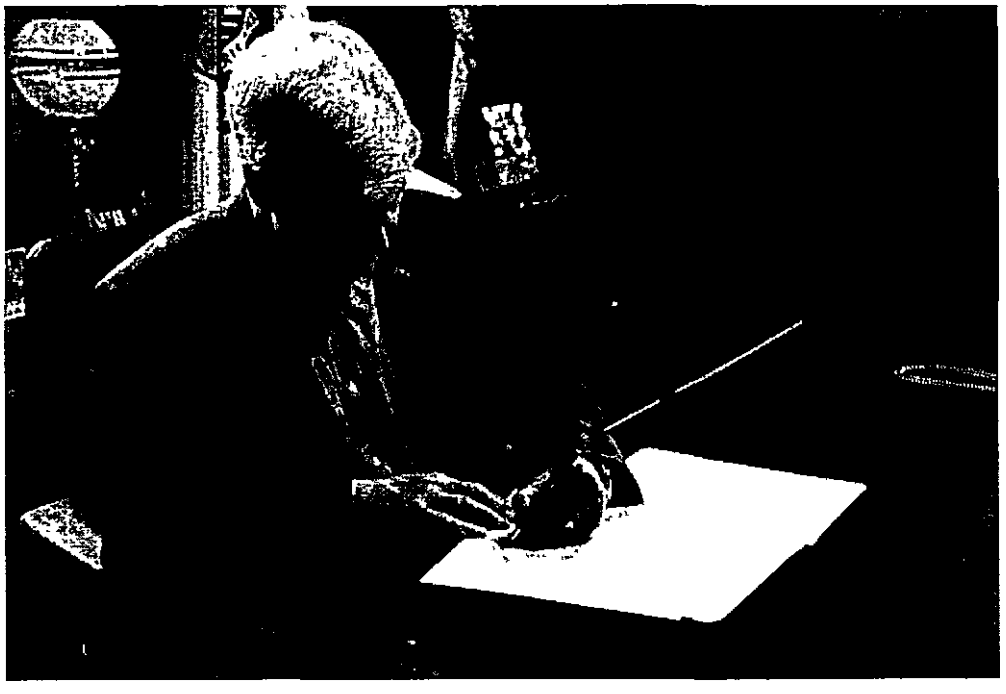
Gov. Rick Snyder signs bill authorizing funding for Flint to move back to Detroit water system

Temporary reconnection provides best protection for public health



LANSING, Mich. – Gov. Rick Snyder has signed bipartisan legislation that will direct funding to the City of Flint's emergency water services to reconnect the city's water supply to the Great Lakes

Water Authority until the Karegnondi Water Authority pipeline is completed.

"This funding is a coordinated response to a serious problem and I'm pleased so many parties came together to help deliver safe drinking water to the city of Flint," Snyder said. "Reconnecting to the Great Lakes Water Authority is only the first step, as the state will continue testing and inspections to ensure Flint families and children have clean water in their homes and schools."

House Bill 4102, sponsored by state Rep. Al Pscholka, authorizes $6 million to move the city back to Detroit's water system until the new pipeline is finished.

In addition to the $6 million:

- $300,000 goes to the Department of Environmental Quality's drinking water and environmental health services;
- $1 million will provide for DEQ to test drinking water samples;
- $1 million allows the Department of Health and Human Services to purchase and distribute water filters to Flint residents;
- $850,000 will aid in follow-up services for children, including testing, investigations, and case management for those with elevated blood lead levels;
- $200,000 will fund state plumbing inspections for schools and health facilities.
- The City of Flint city government will provide $2 million toward reconnecting the water supply and the Charles Stewart Mott Foundation has committed $4 million.

The bill was approved unanimously in both the House and Senate and is now Public Act 143 of 2015.

Flint Water Funds Head To Snyder

The Senate wasted no time in approving today more than $9 million to help pay for temporarily returning the city of Flint to the Detroit water system and fund additional staffing in the city's schools to gauge the exposure to lead.

The fix came with unanimous passage of HB 4102, a supplemental appropriations bill the House passed late Wednesday.

The bill allocates $6 million to get the city back on Detroit's water system; $300,000 for the Department of Environmental Quality's drinking water and environmental health services; $1 million for the department's laboratory services; $1 million for Department of Health and Human Services emergency services to purchase and distribute water to Flint residents; $850,000 for follow-up services for children, including lead testing and care for those with abnormal levels; and $200,000 for plumbing inspections.

Senate Minority Leader Jim Ananich (D-Flint) expressed thanks for his colleagues' support in the matter. The move to pump water for the city from the Flint River without proper corrosion controls allowed lead in service lines and welds to leach into the drinking water at levels beyond those requiring remediation.

Gongwer News Service will have more on this story in Thursday's Michigan Report.

People with special permits would be allowed to bring concealed firearms inside schools and other "gun-free" areas under legislation advanced Tuesday by a Senate committee. The bills, approved 4-1 along party lines by the Republican-led Senate Judiciary Committee, would let people apply for an exemption to carry their concealed weapon into areas that are currently off limits, including schools, child care centers, sports arenas, large concert halls, bars, places of worship, hospitals, dorms and college classrooms. They would also prohibit people from openly carrying guns in those areas, which permit holders are currently allowed to do under Michigan law.

Over strong objections from educators, a Michigan Senate panel approved legislation Tuesday to allow concealed weapons in schools and other places that are now off-limits for hidden weapons. The Senate Judiciary Committee, in 4-1 votes, approved Senate Bills 442 and 561. The package of bills is described as compromise legislation that would allow concealed pistol license holders to carry in schools and other areas that are now off-limits to them under state law. But it would prevent, in those same areas, the "open carry" practiced by gun rights enthusiasts that has caused disruption and led to legal action in places such as schools, universities and public libraries.

House Approves Flint Water Fix

The House unanimously voted this evening to approve $9. 35 million of state funds to return Flint to the Detroit water system and pay for additional state staff in the city's schools to gauge exposure to lead, handle evaluation and protocols on drinking water and to assist with plumbing engineers.

Governor Rick Snyder last week called for state funds to return the city to drawing water from the Detroit system and ending a disastrous move to pull water from the Flint River, as well as funds to pay for additional state staffers from the Department of Health and Human Services, the Department of Environmental Quality and the Department of Licensing and Regulatory Affairs working in the city.

The supplemental (HB 4102) allocates $6 million to get the city back on Detroit's water system; $300,000 for DEQ's drinking water and environmental health services; $1 million for DEQ's laboratory services; $1 million for DHHS emergency services to purchase and distribute water to Flint residents; $850,000 for follow up services for children, including testing lead levels and care for those with abnormal levels; and $200,000 for plumbing inspections.

Insufficient corrosion controls for water drawn from the river – which is inherently more corrosive than water drawn from Lake Huron, where the Detroit system draws its water – caused lead from the city's old service lines to leach into the water, leading to lead levels in the water exceeding the federal standard to trigger remediation and to elevated lead levels in the blood of some Flint children.

Snyder Asks Legislature For $6M To Reconnect Flint To Detroit Water

FLINT – Governor Rick Snyder said today that Flint will reconnect to the Detroit water system and no longer draw water for its residents and businesses from the Flint River, a move that comes in response to insufficient corrosion treatment for the river water causing unsafe levels of lead to leach into the water.

The announcement follows one of the most serious environmental crises to confront the state and a major outcry that Mr. Snyder's administration, and the man he appointed to run the city when it was in a financial emergency, failed to assure the river water – more corrosive than the water from Lake Huron, where the Detroit system draws its water – was properly treated before making the switch to the river. Testing has shown rising levels of lead in the blood of some children in the city and pockets of the city with lead levels in the water that exceed recognized limits for safety.

Mr. Snyder said it will cost $12 million to shift Flint to Detroit water through next summer, when a new pipeline to Lake Huron is expected to be completed to supply Flint and surrounding areas with its water. He said he is asking the Legislature to supply $6 million. The Mott Foundation will contribute $4 million and the city of Flint will chip in $2 million.

Gov. Rick Snyder: Move back to Detroit water provides best protection for public health in Flint

State, city, Mott Foundation, join to fund switch until KWA is ready

FLINT, Mich. – Flint families and children will be better protected by reconnecting with the Great Lakes Water Authority as the source of the city's drinking water until the Karegnondi Water Authority pipeline is completed, Gov. Rick Snyder said.

Snyder said Thursday that he will request the state Legislature to provide half, or $6 million, of the $12 million needed to reconnect with the authority through next summer, when the KWA is expected to be completed. The Flint city government will provide $2 million and the Charles Stewart Mott Foundation has committed $4 million.

"All Flint residents need clean, safe drinking water," Snyder said. "The technical experts helping the city on its water advisory all agree this move back to the Great Lakes Water Authority provides the best public health protection for children and families. This effort today is the result of people coming together to solve a problem. I appreciate Detroit's willingness to reconnect with Flint, the Mott Foundation's generous commitment, and the dedication of all parties to come together to protect Flint families and children."

Flint city leaders requested the state's help to fund the reconnection and to assist with health and infrastructure issues. Flint's move to the Great Lakes Water Authority is expected to cost about $1.3 million per month until the Karegnondi Water Authority is completed next summer.

"It's heartening to know so many people are working at so many levels to bring safe, clean water back to Flint," Mott Foundation President Ridgway White said. "We believe this transitional solution is the right and necessary thing to do, and we're glad we could help the state and the city make it happen."

The move to Detroit water, which is expected to carry, carries many public health benefits. As large bodies of water, the Great Lakes are naturally prone to fewer problems from large rain events and other runoff issues that can sometimes be present in shallower rivers. Additionally, the Great Lakes Water Authority water already has additional corrosion control, using phosphates to help coat the insides of pipes and limit lead from leaching into the water.

However, reconnecting with the authority will not completely resolve the city's problem with lead service lines or aging infrastructure. It will take time for pipes in Flint to become coated with the phosphate corrosion control. Additionally, some households in the city could experience lead in their drinking water until all lead pipes and plumbing are replaced.

"Reconnecting to Detroit is the fastest way to deliver clean, safe water to Flint and stabilize the infrastructure system," Flint Mayor Dayne Walling said. "I appreciate the state, the Mott Foundation, Detroit, and the county's participation in a solution for Flint's water problems. The health and safety of Flint's families, children and seniors is my top priority, and reconnecting to Detroit is a major step that the city could not take alone given budget constraints."

To best protect public health, Snyder said state and local authorities will continue to carry out steps outlined on Oct. 2 in a comprehensive action plan, including continued testing, the use of faucet filters and providing residents with accurate information about steps to eliminate lead exposure. The Michigan Departments of Environmental Quality and Health and Human Services today also committed an additional $3.5 million for water filters, free lead testing through the state laboratory for Flint water customers, and hiring additional staff to conduct health exposure monitoring for lead in drinking water.

Free filters are available for current MDHHS clients at the 125 E. Union St. or 4809 Clio Road MDHHS office locations. For residents who are not currently enrolled in MDHHS assistance programs, free filters are available at the Genesee County Community Action Resource Department offices at 2727 Lippincott and 601 North Saginaw in Flint. Staff will be at all four locations from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday, to distribute filters and assist residents who have questions about proper installation. At the Lippincott location only, extended hours will be offered this weekend, including until 7 p.m. on Thursday and Friday and from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday.

Other good practices for residents concerned about lead include turning on the cold water tap and running the water until it's as cold as it will go. Additionally, only use cold water for cooking, drinking and especially mixing baby formula.

School test results released; more investigation planned

The state today also released the first results from its lead screening program in schools and homes. Of 37 total samples taken at 13 buildings, four samples spread over three buildings exceeded the federal action level of 15 parts per billion.

However, this sampling provides only an initial screen, and the state is committing to further testing water and inspecting plumbing at these schools. Until testing is complete, schools are advised to continue using bottled water and filtration as a precaution to protect children.

In addition, free testing is still available for any other Flint school, including daycares and Head Starts. Free testing is also available for any Flint resident.

Additional information, including more detailed lead screening results, is available at www.michigan.gov/flintwater.

Attached is the email I received from Kris. I called her first thing this morning to clarify. At the time she informed me of 5 GCARD people and 3 DHS people that were working on the installation.

VAAA is not distributing the filters, they have agreed to take the information (NAME, ADDRESS, PHONE#) from callers of home bound and share with an agency that is distributing.

I just spoke to Matt Purcell at GCARD and he is willing to take the list that VAAA develops (at the end of each day) and begin a process of contacting those households to drop of filters and install if needed. The local plumbers union has donated $20,000 in labor to help with this endeavor! At this time we do not have a timeline as to how long, it depends on the demand and the time if takes from house to house. At this time it is the only way to document these needs and hopefully sooner than later, get them taken care of.

I would look to the human services experts to determine "home bound" for 211 to "vet" or "triage" the caller. I'd assume these are individuals that aren't on any type of program that do not have transportation to one of the sites due to health or physical issues and are unable to pick up a filter. Just as those original 12 where identified by VAAA Monday morning.

Jenifer,

Can you please confirm that DHHS and/or GCCARD has agreed to supply VAAA with the filters? Also, prior to me sharing with 211 I need an understanding of what the exact criteria is for a homebound person. I am not sure what you mean by It would be great if GCARD and DHS could utilize those 8 people to hit these individuals.

Thanks for the information!

I was under the understanding that I was going to help coordinate some of the homebound distribution.

Yesterday I spoke with Valley Area on the Aging and Kathleen Boles regarding how to work this...

My action plan was to give 211 information to direct anyone that needed assistance and fit the "homebound" criteria to VAAA.
Kathy agreed to receive those calls, take the names and addresses of individuals. This information could be sent to GCARD or DHS.
It would be great if GCARD and DHS could utilize those 8 people to hit these individuals.

I was getting volunteers to distribute and install to these individuals, but this morning I was told that there was enough people to distribute and install between GCARD and DHHS. I was asked to obtain volunteers to staff the 4 distribution locations. That is what I am working on now and hope to have something tonight for first thing tomorrow morning!

I welcome comments and suggestions!

All,

Please see the email below from Michigan Community Service Commission Director Ginna Holmes. I've highlighted the pertinent piece of her email that I am looking to discuss on Thursday. 211 has the ability to maintain a list of people calling who are unable to install the filters themselves. However, if a list is maintained it would be the expectation of those calling that someone will be coming to install their filter.

So if a list is maintained,

1. What agency will 211 send the list of people?
2. What agency will be installing the filters and what is their capacity?

At this point we have asked 211 to NOT keep a list until there are answers to the above questions.

Thank you,

Hello Everyone,

I thought I would pull together what information has been created so far and then Hilda can share additional information she knows at this point. This will allow 211 to let us know what information they still need to create for their talking points. (Tom I did not see LInda Tokarski's email, she will need to have this forwarded to her.) I used the email list started yesterday to help with the 211 talking points, but I recommend others be looped in once decisions are made and so they all have the same information.

Filter Distribution:

1. Available: Starting October 6 at 9:00 am

2. Provided by: Partnership of MDHHS and Genesee County Community Action Resource Department

3. Hours: 9:00 am to 4:00 pm Monday - Friday, staff available to answer questions at sites

4. Filters One per household. Currently there are faucet filters, but if they do not work, free standing pitcher filters will be available.

5. DHHS sites for current MDHHS clients:

- 125 E. Union St.
- 4809 Clio Road MDHHS office

6. Residents not enrolled MDHHS - go to Genesee County Community Action Resource Department offices

- 2727 Lippincott
- 601 North Saginaw

7. Filters available for any resident who receives Flint Water - free of charge - residents can go to any site but we are trying to have them go to the locations as listed below.

8. Bring Identification and Copy of Water Bill -

A. MDHHS clients who receive serves below - go to DHHS office to get filter.

- Family Independence Program (FIP),
- Food Assistance Program (FAP),
- Child Development and Care (CDC),
- State Disability Assistance (SDA),
- Social Security Insurance (SSI) recipients

B. Flint residents who are not active MDHHS clients should bring identification and their water bill to the GCCARD location.

9. Web-site: www.michigang.gov/flintwater - is this the main one that will be used or are their others?

Items that are still Needed - Plans that need to be Made:

Health Information - to be created by health department (a few questions asked earlier) - FAQ needs to be provided to distribution centers too.

- Can dishes be washed in dishwasher with unfiltered water and then used by people
- Can children take a bath in water with lead content
- Any additional information that would help people understand how to be safe
- Is there a number to refer caller to if they have health and safety questions beyond the basics
- How can I get my child tested for lead exposure
- What are the treatment options if my child has high lead level

Coordination Center

- If people can not get a filter themselves or if they need help with installation, we need to create a system to collect their information.
- Does 211 have the ability to gather their information?
- Jennifer Boyer has talked to the Valley Area on Aging and they said they would take names and numbers, but we need to first see if they have the ability to serve as the coordination center for all people who need help with installation and who are not able to get a filter themselves. At this time there are not volunteers set up for installation - this is a work in progress.

Volunteers

- At this time we do not have a group of volunteers that will be doing the installations, but Jennifer is working on it.

Plan for special populations
This was discussed but it needs to be recorded and so 211 knows about the plans and how volunteers will be helping these individuals and what services are being provided.

- Housing
- Meals on Wheels
- Schools
- ? special distribution days and sites - this weekend?
- Other targeted groups and plans to meet their special needs?

Press Release Sent by State October 5, 2015:
Water filters available for MDHHS clients in Flint beginning Tuesday
LANSING, Mich. – Free water filters will be available to current Michigan Department of Health and Human Services clients and Flint residents at four locations beginning Tuesday, October 6, at 9 a.m. through a partnership between the MDHHS and the Genesee County Community Action Resource Department. Free National Sanitation Foundation certified water filters are being provided to Flint residents as part of the administration's comprehensive approach to addressing water concerns in the area.

Current MDHHS clients are encouraged to visit either the 125 E. Union St. or 4809 Clio Road MDHHS office location to obtain a free, certified home water filter. Residents who are not currently enrolled in MDHHS assistance programs should visit the Genesee County Community Action Resource Department offices located at 2727 Lippincott and 601 North Saginaw in Flint. Staff will be onsite at all four locations from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday, to distribute filters and assist residents who have questions about proper installation.

"Ensuring that families in the Flint area have access to resources that will help reduce the potential for lead exposure is our top priority," said Nick Lyon, director of the MDHHS. "I want to thank our partners who have mobilized to make water filters available – a point that highlights the importance of continued collaboration at the local, state and federal level as we move forward."

MDHHS clients in the city of Flint who are active Family Independence Program (FIP), Food Assistance Program (FAP), Child Development and Care (CDC), State Disability Assistance (SDA), or Social Security Insurance (SSI) recipients should bring valid identification and a copy of their water bill to their local MDHHS office to receive their filter free of charge. Flint residents who are not active MDHHS clients should bring identification and their water bill to the GCCARD location.

Although blood lead levels throughout the city of Flint have remained steady, last week, MDHHS data was found to be consistent with a recent Hurley Children's Hospital study indicating increased blood lead levels in children residing in two Flint ZIP codes after a 2014 change in water source. While lead paint remains the number one cause of lead poisoning in Michigan, the recent data prompted MDHHS to take action to reduce potential lead exposures through water sources.

MDHHS is urging parents in Flint and throughout the state to do their part in preventing elevated blood lead levels in children. For more information about steps you can take now, visit www.michigan.gov/lead, or contact your local health department. For updates on Flint water and available resources, visit www.michigang.gov/flintwater.

I'm looping Jennie Pollak at Central Michigan 2-1-1 into my reply since her team will be handling the majority of calls from Flint, as well as Linda Tokarski, Technology Manager for Michigan 2-1-1, so she can address any potential routing or IVR issues.

- 2-1-1 will be phone number for residents to call as well as website
  - We didn't discuss the web site on the call. Are you looking to send Flint residents to the UW-Genesee web site, the Central Michigan 2-1-1 web site and/or the MI211.org web site? MI211.org will need information at least 24 hours in advance in order to set it up on the web site. Social media on Facebook and Twitter have a shorter turnaround.

Jennie - I imagine we can link to pre-programmed database searches to provide information, for example: click here for water filter or testing information.

- Site can be setup within 24 hours as long as you have the following information: Again, with the information on eligibility, distribution points, types and number of filters available(faucet or pitcher, one per household), we should be able to start handling caller questions and providing referrals. Getting information online or posted to social media could take longer, depending on the format and complexity of the materials. Jennie & Linda, is there additional information we need to assist callers and track these referrals? Jennie: hours of distribution. The attached "New Program Form" includes all the information fields that we like to include about a new service so staff are informed.
  - Distributions Points
  - Information that can be shared to public
  - Eligibility for filters - open distribution within zip codes
- Questions - health specific (ex. can my child take a bath, how do I install filter, filter type or intake type, (filters will be faucet and pitchers only)
  - Providing installation information could be outside the scope/capacity of 2-1-1 agents. It would be very helpful if there are directions or an online video we could refer callers to. At a minimum we will also need a sample filter and a pdf of the installation/usage directions.
  - Is there a DHHS number to refer callers to if they have health and safety questions beyond the basic bathing/drinking questions? For example, how can I get my child tested for lead exposure? What are the treatment options if my child has high lead levels?
  - Jennie: Echoing Tom's response...FAQ sheet would be helpful for staff. We're not trained in public health, but experts at providing information & referring; providing support & empowering callers. If there is information we need to relay, we can do that but also a number to call for questions outside the scope would be helpful.

Jennie and Linda, please respond with your questions, information needs and any concerns related to this project.

Flint had no plan to minimize lead corrosion in people's drinking water post river switch
Michigan Radio
10.06.2015

Confused about corrosion control? We were too.

In Flint, lead levels in some children's blood have spiked dramatically. Scientists believe the Flint River is part of the problem. Flint switched from Detroit's water system and started pulling water from the Flint River last year.

We've been hearing some conflicting things from state officials about what exactly Flint has been doing — if anything — to cut down on lead in the water.

The confusion

State regulators told federal regulators earlier this year by email that Flint is not using corrosion control.

Corrosion control is important because it helps prevent lead from leaching out of old pipes into people's tap water.

But on Friday, Michigan Department of Environmental Quality Director Dan Wyant said this:

"Know that when the city switched from Detroit sewer and water, that the city utilized corrosion controls," he said.

That directly conflicts with what the state said before.

After Friday's press conference, we asked DEQ spokesman Brad Wurfel to clarify. He then said the corrosion control Flint used was lime.

"Flint was trying to address the hardness of the water, so they chose lime to address the hardness," he said. "That is also a corrosion control agent. It's a recognized corrosion control agent. It just wasn't, it wasn't cutting it."

We ran this by some outside experts.

Daniel Giammar is an expert on lead in water. He's a professor of environmental engineering at Washington University in St. Louis, Missouri.

"Simply claiming to have lime addition as corrosion control is insufficient," he says.

Giammar told us that you can use lime for corrosion control, but you have to have a plan. You want to make sure your water hits a certain pH range and alkalinity so that you minimize the amount of lead in the water.

"Whether or not you have corrosion control isn't whether or not you're adding lime, but it's rather, are you achieving the target pH that you set out?" he says.

The softening process could be making the situation worse.

Marc Edwards is a civil engineering professor from Virginia Tech University and a nationally renowned expert on water treatment. He was also confused by Wyant's claim that Flint had corrosion controls in place. So, over this past weekend, he took a closer look at Flint's data.

He says the water softening treatment Flint is using is actually making Flint's water more corrosive.

"Even as they're denying the water is corrosive and it's causing this higher lead, the pH value is plummeting, it's becoming more acidic," Edwards says. "And it led me to wonder, I mean, are they even watching what's happening to the pH of their water? It's like flying a jumbo jet without checking your gas tank."

We requested an interview with someone from Flint's water department, but they did not provide anyone to talk to us for this story by our deadline.

The DEQ's response

The DEQ says they have been keeping an eye on the pH of Flint's water.

Liane Shekter Smith heads up DEQ's Office of Drinking Water and Municipal Assistance.

"Absolutely, we've been monitoring the pH data. We monitored it prior to the switch to the Flint River and we monitored it since. And we've compared the pH data and there has not been a significant change."

Shekter Smith says they consider a pH of 7.5 to be acceptable. But both Marc Edwards and Daniel Giammar told us cities should shoot for a pH of 8 or above to minimize the amount of lead getting into drinking water. That's because you want the water to be less acidic to minimize corrosion.

Data available online from the City of Flint show that the pH of treated water leaving the plant has been trending downward - becoming more acidic. Monthly average pH measurements dropped from 8.07 in December 2014 to 7.34 in August 2015.

A key point here: there's a difference between having some kind of treatment process that might work and having an approved corrosion control plan.

Yesterday, Shekter Smith confirmed that Flint does not have a corrosion control plan.

"At the time they proposed switching to the Flint River and implementing the lime softening treatment method, there was an indication that the pH control provided by that method perhaps would provide optimal corrosion control," Shekter Smith says.

It's clear that method didn't work.

Tomorrow, city, state, and federal officials will get together to come up with some kind of plan to control the corrosion.

Gov. Rick Snyder: Comprehensive action plan will help Flint residents address water concerns

Collaborative effort with state, federal and city leaders focuses on testing, assistance

FLINT, Mich. – Flint residents need to have access to safe, clean, water now and long into the future, Gov. Rick Snyder said, announcing a comprehensive action plan created with state, federal and city leaders to address concerns about drinking water.

The water leaving Flint's drinking water system is safe to drink, but some families with lead plumbing in their homes or service connections could experience higher levels of lead in the water that comes out of their faucets.

The action plan focuses on increasing water testing, offering additional precautions for families with lead plumbing in their homes, and providing long-term solutions to address the city's water infrastructure challenges. The plan was created at Snyder's direction by the Michigan Departments of Environmental Quality (DEQ) and Health and Human Services (DHHS), the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, and the city of Flint.

"We are focused on helping ensure safe, clean, accessible drinking water and addressing and mitigating concerns and protecting public health," Snyder said. "Today's action plan builds upon ongoing work with local, state and federal agencies and our partnership with city and community leaders. Together, we are working to ensure that all Flint residents have accurate information and know that help is available to address potential problems."

The city and the state also are working together to gather more data to ensure the water that leaves the treatment plant as well as the water that arrives in Flint homes is safe for all residents. The plan includes:

- Testing in Flint public schools immediately to ensure that drinking water is safe, with testing also available at no cost to any other school in Flint.
- Offering free water testing to Flint residents to assure their drinking water is safe.
- Providing free water filters to residents.
- Expanding health exposure testing of individual homes.
- Accelerating corrosion controls in the Flint drinking water system.
- Accelerating water system improvements to address replacing lead service lines.
- Expediting the completion of the Karegnondi Water Authority pipeline.
- Expanding a Safe Drinking Water Technical Advisory Committee to ensure the best technology, practices and science are being followed by adding an expert from the Environmental Protection Agency's Office of Research and Development to the group.
- Naming Dr. Eden Wells, chief medical executive for the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services, as the Flint drinking water public health adviser.
- Boosting a comprehensive lead education program to make sure residents have detailed information about how to protect themselves and their homes.

Residents can have their water tested by calling 810-787-6537 and pressing 1, or emailing flintwater@cityofflint.com. The DEQ is covering the cost of this testing.

State leaders have been working closely with state and federal lawmakers to tap resources at all levels of government to address concerns.

State health experts said there has been an increase in elevated childhood blood lead levels in some specific communities. Initial analysis of MDHHS data found that blood lead levels of children in Flint have followed an expected seasonal trend. While this analysis for Flint as a whole remains true, a comprehensive and detailed review breaking down data by ZIP codes with the city revealed that MDHHS data is consistent with a study presented recently by Hurley Children's Hospital.

"While we cannot conclusively say that the water source change is the sole cause of the increase, this analysis supports our efforts as we take active steps to reduce all potential lead exposures in Flint," MDHHS Director Nick Lyon said. "As part of this, we are working closely with our public and private partners to provide Flint residents on MDHHS assistance programs with free water filters and inform families about the steps they can take to reduce all lead exposures in their home."

As a part of the action plan, National Sanitation Foundation certified water filters will be made available to Flint residents through emergency state funds and coordinated efforts with local community agencies and donors. Information about how to obtain the filters will soon be available.

"This action plan offers concrete steps we will take in a local, state and federal partnership to ensure all Flint residents have safe water to drink," DEQ Director Dan Wyant said. "The DEQ will work closely with the city to gather further data to ensure the water that leaves Flint's system as well as the water that arrives in Flint homes is safe to drink."

Flint River will remain as city water source in state plan to address lead
MLive, Oct. 2, 2015
FLINT, MI -- The city would continue to use the Flint River as its water source, according to a plan expected to unveiled today, Oct. 2, by state officials.

A person with knowledge of the plan said it includes the immediate testing of water in all Flint schools, faucet filters for city residents and expanded testing for lead among city residents.

The plan is being unveiled at a 1:30 p.m. news conference at Kettering University.

The person familiar with the plan said it does not include reconnecting to the Lake Huron water through the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department.

Parts of the plan include:

- Immediately test water at Flint schools at state expense, working with administrators.
- Expand lead exposure testing for individuals.
- Continue offering free water testing to Flint residents at no charge.
- Expedite optimization of corrosion control
- Expediting completion of the Karegnondi Water Authority
- Appointing a Flint Drinking Water Public Health Advisor
- Providing water filters to Flint residents

- Expanding a comprehensive lead education initiative
- Today's news conference comes after an avalanche of disastrous news about Flint water and a drastic change in direction among city and state officials, who have defended the safety of city water for months.

Calls for the city to end its use of the Flint River for drinking water increased after a Hurley Medical Center doctor's study showed the number of children in the city with elevated blood levels nearly doubled after the city started using it as a water source in 2014.

State officials initially questioned the data, but Snyder this week acknowledged problems with lead.

The state oversees water quality in Flint, and state-appointed emergency managers were running city government when decisions were made not to negotiate a short-term agreement to continue buying Lake Huron water from Detroit and to instead use the river as a water source.

Although the city is not currently in violation of the Safe Drinking Water Act, bacteria, the level of total trihalomethanes and lead have been problems in the water system since then.

Subject: City of Flint-Water Issue Update

The latest from Lt Roach...

The County Health Department is expecting to receive 4,000 filters sometime tonight. The filters were secured through the United Way and are being trucked in (cost appox $80,000). Lt Roach was unable to determine where they are being brought in from. They are hoping to get $40,000 more in donations to buy more. The Health Department plans to distribute filters tomorrow at 1:00 pm at UM Flint. The recipients will also be taught how to use filters. Lt Roach was told there are approximately 15,000 homes in the city of Flint with corrosive distribution pipes. The city water department has a list of the homes with details, but information is on paper index cards, not in a database or spreadsheet. They would have to manually sort through cards, so this approach is not practical. The current plan is to distribute filters by priorities being similar to those used during H1N1: pregnant women, women breast feeding/bottle feeding, residences with and children under 5 years. All must be City of Flint residents; credentials will be checked to make sure they are residents and qualify. A WIC list may be utilized along with a current list of residences on the lead program The Health Department hopes to accomplish work with 15-20 employees and possibly another 20 volunteers. They plan to distribute using two car lanes to avoid having recipients exit cars.

No state resources have been requested.

The following is provided as requested...

At 4:04 PM, Genesee County Emergency Management created the following incident in MI-CIMS:

> Genesee County Health Department has Declared a Public Health Emergency for persons on the Flint City Water System due to a recent report of increased lead levels in children within the City of Flint.
> Jenifier Boyer - County of Genesee MGT EM Coordinator - jboyer@co.genesee.mi.us at 16:01:21 on 10/1/2015

The document associated with this incident (attached) references a "Public Health Emergency Declaration" issued by the Genesee County Board of Commissioners. I spoke with Dr. Jackie Scott of MDHHS, who informed me that there is no such term under public health code. Similarly, this term does not exist under PA 390, where the correct term would be a "Local State of Emergency," which would be issued by the Chair of the Genesee County Board of Commissioners. The attachment states the "County is issuing an "Emergency Advisory" recommending people not drink water coming from the city of Flint using the Flint River as the water source..." It would appear the board is simply issuing a statement not tied to any type of formal emergency declaration.

EMHSD has not received the standard form associated with a Local State of Emergency declaration and the county EOC is not activated. I will pass along key developments as they occur. Please let me know if anything further is needed at this time.

Many thanks, Chris.

There have been a LOT of conversations and work (and history) on this issue, primarily with both DEQ and DHHS lately, and Treasury previously. Sounds like you definitely got a large part of status update and lay of the land.

Let's touch base tomorrow and can fill you in further. And any insight on any potential use of mitigation funds would be incredibly helpful. We'll make sure to keep MSP EMHSD in loop with other state agencies too moving forward as this issue and infrastructure challenge isn't going away anytime soon.

Thanks again,
SW

DHHS just advised me there have been discussions with Nick Lyon and the Governor's Office on this issue. DHHS also advised me that DEQ was involved and DHHS would probably be the Public Health Advisor in Flint this week ... not sure exactly what that will mean.

F/Lt Covey spoke to Jen Boyer, the Genesee County EM, and reported the following:

- This is the first she has heard about the Kildee letter.
- She mentioned that a year ago she was aware of a letter that was written to Governor Snyder.
- To her knowledge, the water in Flint is still meeting EPA standards.
- She mentioned that the infrastructure (including residential homes) is old and may be part of the problem, not just because water is from the Flint River.
- She believes the city could connect to the county system if needed.
- The city is supposed to be connecting to a new pipeline from Port Huron in the spring of 2016 which will provide a solution, but the city infrastructure will still require repair.
- She reported The Detroit water system knew Flint would one day connect to this new pipeline, so they raised rates 50%.

Tomorrow Tony Katarsky will speak with our mitigation offices on potential use of 4195 (SE MI disaster) mitigation funds and if they could be used to assist with infrastructure fixes. There is a 25% local match to the federal funds.

Attached is the FEMA response to Rep. Kildee. He may not get it for a couple of days but I told FEMA I wanted a copy and it just came through. Please hold it within the Governor's Office and this group for situational awareness so we do not get ahead of FEMA. FEMA advised him that local or private sector resources would be more expedient and practical.

Attached are two documents for your information: 1) A letter from US Representative Kildee to Craig Fugate of FEMA, HHS, EPA, and CDC and 2) a PowerPoint on Flint water concerns. Essentially, Representative Kildee is requesting FEMA take action to resolve potable water quality issues associated with the Flint water system.

This is the first we heard of the letter and I actually found out from the FEMA Region V Director when he called me about an hour ago. He and I discussed a few things on this and he will respond advising they need to work through the local EM system in MI (engaging the local EM and then EMHSD). They also are working through the local health department as I confirmed with Dr. Scott from DHHS. If Flint needs water or want water the first step is to handle it locally (at least on the EM side and then push up any gaps they cannot fill to us). We are not aware of any work the local EM has done in this regard. I will be with the FEMA Region V Director as well as the FEMA Administrator, Craig Fugate, this week if they have questions.

I have advised Dr. Jackie Scott from DHHS and will be sending her the letter and ppt.

Subject: Flint Water Issue - Rep. Kildee Letter Received By Federal Agencies
Importance: High

Attached are two documents for your information: 1) A letter from US Representative Kildee to Craig Fugate of FEMA, HHS, EPA, and CDC and 2) a PowerPoint on Flint water concerns. Essentially, Representative Kildee is requesting FEMA take action to resolve potable water quality issues associated with the Flint water system.

This is the first we heard of the letter and I actually found out from the FEMA Region V Director when he called me about an hour ago. He and I discussed a few things on this and he will respond advising they need to work through the local EM system in MI (engaging the local EM and then EMHSD). They also are working through the local health department as I confirmed with Dr. Scott from DHHS. If Flint needs water or want water the first step is to handle it locally (at least on the EM side and then push up any gaps they cannot fill to us). We are not aware of any work the local EM has done in this regard. I will be with the FEMA Region V Director as well as the FEMA Administrator, Craig Fugate, this week if they have questions.

I have advised Dr. Jackie Scott from DHHS and will be sending her the letter and ppt.

MEDIA MONITORING REPORT

11/19/2015

Issues:

- No issues to report.

Summary:

- Over the next three days, Southeast Michigan is going to slowly descend from sunny skies and unseasonably warm temperatures into a rainy/snowy weekend.
- A wind advisory is in effect for the second half of the day in the Muskegon area, and snow could be on its way.
- Winter storm watches are posted in parts of five Midwest states as the first accumulating snow of the season for some in the Upper Midwest, Corn Belt, and Great Lakes will put an exclamation mark on a week of change in the weather pattern.
- A sexual discrimination complaint has been filed against Genesee County Sheriff Robert Pickell by the head of the sheriff's homeland security office.
- A mock active shooting training exercise last year at Romeo High School may have been the tipping point for identifying shortcomings with Macomb County's emergency communications system.
- Efforts are taking place to help deal with damage that remains from August 2014 flooding in Detroit.
- Gov. Rick Snyder announced that the state of Michigan has retained its accreditation by the Emergency Management Accreditation Program. This national accreditation reaffirms the ability of state government to prepare for and respond to all types of emergencies and disasters.
- The Belgian jihadi suspected of masterminding deadly attacks in Paris died along with his cousin in a police raid on a suburban apartment building, officials said Thursday.
- At least three dozen people in the United States suspected of ties to the Islamic State were under heavy electronic or physical surveillance even before the Paris attacks, senior American officials say.
- Governor Rick Snyder was the first governor in the nation to speak out on refugees following last week's terrorist attacks in Paris and Beirut. And he may have come to regret it as he tries to clarify his position vis a vis what a lot of the nation's other Republican governors are saying about refugees and immigration.
- Oakland County Executive L. Brooks Patterson has stepped into the Syrian refugee debate by urging Pontiac Mayor Deirdre Waterman to discontinue her support of housing Syrian refugees in Pontiac.
- A Republican legislator is renewing a push to lift Wisconsin's moratorium on new nuclear power plants, saying the state's manufacturers must have a reliable source of energy as burning fossil fuels grows more expensive.
- Leaders from the Flint area want stronger regulation of public drinking water systems to avoid more problems such as the lead contamination that has plagued the Michigan city.
- Elected officials and activists have delivered the story of Flint's lead in water crisis in person to the federal government, testifying Wednesday, Nov. 18, before a U.S. EPA advisory council.

Analysis:

- Media coverage is neutral.
- Snow is looking more and more likely this weekend. Confidence is great about having snow; however, the amount is uncertain at this time. Forecasts are ranging from 1 to 6 inches.
- Will continue to monitor the evolving weather conditions.

MICHIGAN WEATHER

Up to 6 inches of snow on way as Michigan's temps cool

The Detroit News, Nov. 19, 2015

Over the next three days, the metro area is going to slowly descend from sunny skies and unseasonably warm temperatures into a rainy/snowy weekend.

"Things are going to be turning cooler starting Thursday night into Friday," meteorologist Sara Schultz said. "Thursday will be pretty nice with highs in the lower 50s, but temperatures will begin to drop at night. On Thursday, we can also expect a little wind with gusts as high as the lower 30s."

Friday is expected to be dry with a high temperature in the low 40s while the nighttime low will be around 30 degrees.

"We have the potential for snow starting Friday night into Saturday," Schultz said. "We have a chance of one or two inches in the metro area, but it will most likely be rain mixed with snow."

Wild weather on its way with high winds, waves then snow predicted

MLive-Muskegon, Nov. 19, 2015

MUSKEGON, MI – A wind advisory is in effect for the second half of the day in the Muskegon area, and snow could be on its way.

The National Weather Service advisory, in effect from noon to midnight Thursday, Nov. 19, calls for wind gusts up to 50 mph, particularly along the lake. A gale warning is in effect for Lake Michigan, with waves expected to be 6 to 10 feet Thursday night.

Then on Friday, a storm system possibly bringing up to 9 inches of snow, will move into the area and linger through Wednesday, according to a hazardous weather outlook statement from the Weather Service.

First Snow of Season Ahead in Parts of the Midwest, Including Chicago, Detroit, Milwaukee; Winter Storm Watches Issued

Weather Channel, Nov. 19, 2015

Winter storm watches are posted in parts of five Midwest states as the first accumulating snow of the season for some in the Upper Midwest, Corn Belt, and Great Lakes will put an exclamation mark on a week of change in the weather pattern.

A swath from northeast Nebraska and southeast South Dakota into Iowa, southern Wisconsin and northern Illinois is covered by winter storm watches issued by local National Weather Service offices. In the much of the Upper Midwest, this means a potential for at least 6 inches of snow in 12 hours, or 8 inches of snow in 24 hours.

EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT AND HOMELAND SECURITY

MLive-Flint, Nov. 18, 2015

GENESEE COUNTY, MI – A sexual discrimination complaint has been filed against Genesee County Sheriff Robert Pickell by the head of the sheriff's homeland security office.

enifier Boyer filed a complaint against Pickell Nov. 13 claiming sexual discrimination at the workplace.

Boyer's attorney, Glen Lenhoff who is speaking on her behalf, declined to detail specifics of the complaint. The Flint Journal through the Freedom of Information Act has requested a copy of the complaint.

"Jenifier Boyer is a very honorable and highly educated woman," Lenhoff said. "Her sex discrimination complaint against Mr. Pickell must be taken very serious by the Genesee County commissioners. A complaint and un-biased investigation must be completed immediately. She is the highest female managerial person in the whole department."

Macomb County in Michigan Gets $10 Million Plan to Beef up Police Communications

Detroit Free Press, Nov.17, 2015

A mock active shooting training exercise last year at Romeo High School may have been the tipping point for identifying shortcomings with Macomb County's emergency communications system.

Officials were trying to show what the new communications center filled with video screens and dispatchers can do by infiltrating camera systems in local schools. Those watching at the communications center in Mt. Clemens could see what was happening live as the SWAT exercise unfolded, but they couldn't talk with the officers inside the school.

"Had it been real, it would have been disastrous," County Executive Mark Hackel said Thursday. "We need to enhance this. It enhances everyone's ability to communicate with each other."

Volunteer effort seeks to deal with 2014 flood damage

Associated Press, Nov. 17, 2015

DETROIT (AP) - Efforts are taking place to help deal with damage that remains from August 2014 flooding in Detroit.

The city says about 3,000 families still are living in homes damaged by the flooding despite more than $60 million in Federal Emergency Management Agency funds being distributed for city residents. Millions more has been made available in southeast Michigan.

A group called All Hands Volunteers, in partnership with Northwest Detroit Flood Recovery Project and United Methodist Committee on Relief, will be working to clean up at least 100 homes between Thursday and Dec. 1. The partnership is called All Hands On Detroit.

Those organizing the effort are seeking volunteers. Organizers will provide training and necessary safety equipment. Signup details are online.

Hillsdale Daily News, Nov. 18, 2015

Gov. Rick Snyder today announced that the state of Michigan has retained its accreditation by the Emergency Management Accreditation Program. This national accreditation reaffirms the ability of state government to prepare for and respond to all types of emergencies and disasters.

"The state of Michigan continues to be a national emergency management and homeland security leader," Snyder said. "In Michigan, we are committed to having a system in place that ensures our residents are prepared for all hazards, whether natural or human-made. I commend the Michigan State Police and the other state departments for their dedication and commitment in this arena."

PARIS ATTACKS

Associated Press, Nov. 19, 2015

Paris — The Belgian jihadi suspected of masterminding deadly attacks in Paris died along with his cousin in a police raid on a suburban apartment building, officials said Thursday.

Paris Prosecutor Francois Molins' office said 27-year-old Abdelhamid Abaaoud was identified based on skin samples, but authorities did not know how he died. His body was found in the apartment building targeted in the chaotic and bloody raid in the Paris suburb of Saint-Denis on Wednesday.

Three police officials say a woman who died in the raid was Abaaoud's cousin. One said Hasna Aitboulahcen is believed to have detonated a suicide vest after a brief conversation with police officers.

The official confirmed an audio recording, punctuated by gunshots, in which an officer asks: "Where is your boyfriend?" and she responded angrily: "He's not my boyfriend!" Then loud bangs are heard.

The exact relationship between Abaaoud and Aitboulahcen was not clear.

U.S. Investigators Struggle to Track Homegrown ISIS Suspects

New York Times, Nov. 19, 2015

WASHINGTON — At least three dozen people in the United States suspected of ties to the Islamic State were under heavy electronic or physical surveillance even before the Paris attacks, senior American officials say. But unlike the attackers in France, the officials say, the majority of those under investigation here never traveled to Syria to fight alongside the Islamic State or receive training from it.

In many ways, the officials say, that makes the American investigations even harder. Those under investigation typically have little terrorism expertise or support from a cell, which makes thwarting an Islamic State-inspired attack in the United States less like stopping a traditional terrorist plot and more like trying to prevent a school shooting.

SYRIAN REFUGEES

Syrian refugees controversy gets Lansing's attention

Lansing State Journal, Nov. 19, 2015

LANSING - The resettlement of Syrian refugees in Michigan is a controversial issue, but several Lansing area organizations and leaders are ready to help others get out of the warn-torn country.

St. Vincent Catholic Charities has resettled in Mid-Michigan over 20,000 refugees from around the world in the last 30 years and hopes to welcome up to 100 from Syria within the next year — if the federal government continues allowing the placements.

"We'll keep doing what we do and we'll see what happens," said Judi Harris, program director for refugee services at St. Vincent. "I think it's a little too early right now to change anything."

Students, faculty respond to Snyder's refugee stance

Michigan Daily (U of M), Nov. 19, 2015

In wake of terrorist attacks in Paris that left 129 dead, Michigan Gov. Rick Snyder joined 31 governors in vowing to pause the entry of Syrian refugees into their states.

Early reports indicated that one the attackers may have been a refugee from Syria, though officials now say that theory was likely incorrect. Even so, that notion stoked fears that ISIS fighters would enter the country along with the refugees fleeing their violent campaigns.

In response, LSA senior Sarah Raoof and Public Health students Tala Dahbour and Reem Kashlan launched a letter-writing campaign on Facebook. The campaign encourages students to visit the "Share your Opinion" page on the governor's website to send either a pre-written or personal letter expressing opposition to his plan to block Syrian refugees.

Michigan Radio, Nov. 19, 2015

Governor Rick Snyder was the first governor in the nation to speak out on refugees following last week's terrorist attacks in Paris and Beirut. And he may have come to regret it as he tries to clarify his position vis a vis what a lot of the nation's other Republican governors are saying about refugees and immigration.

Following the attacks, Governor Snyder said he was hitting the "pause" button on efforts to get more visas for Middle Eastern refugees to settle in Michigan.

Oakland County Executive orders staff to end support of Pontiac Syrian housing project

Oakland Press, Nov. 18, 2015

Oakland County Executive L. Brooks Patterson has stepped into the Syrian refugee debate by urging Pontiac Mayor Deirdre Waterman to discontinue her support of housing Syrian refugees in Pontiac.

The development in question is proposed for a 10-block area near Franklin Road and South Boulevard.

The move follows calls from several governors' announcements — including one from Michigan Gov. Rick Snyder — to postpone accepting Syrian refugees.

Michigan Radio, Nov. 18, 2015

When Gov. Rick Synder's office released a statement asking the Department of Homeland Security to review the vetting process for Syrian refugees seeking asylum in the United States after the terrorist attacks in Paris, the reaction was swift.

Soon dozens of governors declared their opposition or support of settling Syrian refugees in their respective states.

However, Detroit Free Press Capitol Hill reporter Todd Spangler tells Stateside host Cynthia Canty that state governors have no legal say when it comes to accepting refugees.

Kaffer: Snyder's political pandering on refugees shames us all

Detroit Free Press, Nov. 19, 2015

One of the worst things about terrorism is it works. Last week's deadly terrorist attacks in Paris did exactly what its perpetrators intended: killed innocent Parisians, surely, but caused people across the globe to worry that they'd be next, to fear sudden death or torment at the hands of anonymous, implacable attackers.

It's hard to argue with fear. It allows little room for cool-headed decision making.

And in that context, the "circle the wagons" response of many Americans after the Paris attacks is understandable. It is manifest most publicly in a resistance toward accepting refugees from Syria, where the Islamic State in Iraq and Syria holds territory.

The U.S. has taken in 1,800 Syrian refugees in the last two years. Because conflict in Syria is ongoing, and because the number of refugees has taxed that country's immediate neighbors, President Barack Obama has said the U.S. will take in 10,000 refugees by the end of 2016.

Compounded by the current story that one of the attackers entered France with a phony passport, with a trail indicating he'd entered France as a refugee, it's easy to understand why many Americans might fear an onrush of poorly vetted immigrants from Syria that could include criminals bent on harm.

But that's not how it works.

And it's impossible to understand why some elected officials – like Gov. Rick Snyder – have opted not to educate and inform, but to fan the flames of suspicion and intolerance. Snyder, along with 33 other governors, have said they will halt efforts to accept Syrian refugees, something they are not legally capable of doing. This boneheaded move is particularly startling in Snyder's case; for years, he's pitched Michigan as a destination for immigrants, suggesting that new residents from overseas could help reverse the state's population loss.

MICHIGAN NUCLEAR

Michigan legislators urge new Canadian PM to say 'no' to nuclear dump

The Voice, Nov. 19, 201`5

Michigan's two U.S. senators and 10 of its 14 U.S. representatives wasted little time in signing a letter to new Canadian Prime Minister Justin Trudeau, urging his government to deny the necessary permits to Ontario Power Generation to build a nuclear waste dump 2,200 feet underground less than a mile from Lake Huron.

The letter went out on Nov. 5, the day after Trudeau was sworn in as prime minister and proceeded to appoint a diverse cabinet comprising 15 men and 15 women.

After congratulating Trudeau on becoming Canada's 23rd prime minister, the U.S. politicians zeroed in on the issue at hand.

Associated Press, Nov. 16, 2015

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A Republican legislator is renewing a push to lift Wisconsin's moratorium on new nuclear power plants, saying the state's manufacturers must have a reliable source of energy as burning fossil fuels grows more expensive.

Under current Wisconsin law, state regulators can't grant permission for a new nuclear power plant unless a federal storage facility for the waste from nuclear plants across the country exists and the plant wouldn't burden state ratepayers. No such centralized storage facility exists, however. President Barack Obama's administration pulled funding for creating one at Nevada's Yucca Mountain, leaving nuclear plants to continue storing waste on-site in pools and casks.

FLINT WATER

Flint leaders seek tougher rules on lead in drinking water

Associated Press, Nov. 18, 2015

Leaders from the Flint area want stronger regulation of public drinking water systems to avoid more problems such as the lead contamination that has plagued the Michigan city.

U.S. Rep. Dan Kildee told the Environmental Protection Agency's National Drinking Water Council the lead pollution of Flint's water was a "failure of government." The council met Wednesday near Washington, D.C., to discuss revising a federal rule on lead and copper levels in water.

MLive-Flint, Nov. 18, 2015

FLINT, MI -- Elected officials and activists have delivered the story of Flint's lead in water crisis in person to the federal government, testifying Wednesday, Nov. 18, before a U.S. EPA advisory council.

"What happened in Flint is a failure of government, and we must ensure that it never happens again to Flint or any other community," U.S. Rep. Dan Kildee, D-Flint, said in opening testimony to the National Drinking Water Advisory Council. "The EPA has the ultimate responsibility to ensure that drinking water standards are followed."

In addition to Kildee, state Senate Minority Leader Jim Ananich, D-Flint; Dr. Mona Hanna-Attisha of Hurley Medical Center; Flint resident LeeAnne Walters; and professor Marc Edwards of Virginia Tech university all testified to the council, which is considering changes in federal rules on lead in water.

WASHINGTON, D.C. (WJRT) - (11/18/15) - The doctor who helped expose Flint's problem with lead in the drinking water spent Wednesday morning talking about the issue before leaders in Washington D.C.

Dr. Mona Hanna-Attisha testified before the Environmental Protection Agency, along with a Flint mother who claims her child has lead poisoning.

Hanna-Attisha used a PowerPoint presentation to showcase how something like this can happen anywhere across the country, not only in Flint.

EAST LANSING (WJRT) - (11/18/15) - It's well beyond just the talk of the town.

It's the reason behind protests and the subject of mayoral debates, conversations in Lansing and now, hearings in Washington.

But ask a college student 50 miles away about Flint's water emergency and a lot of them will say they haven't heard about it.

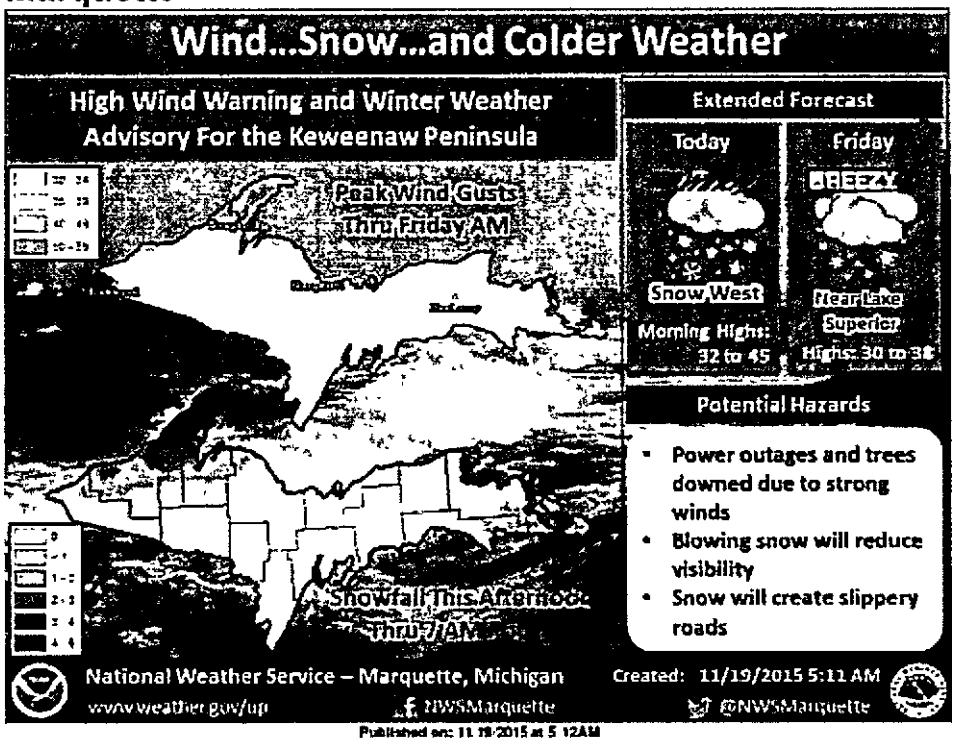
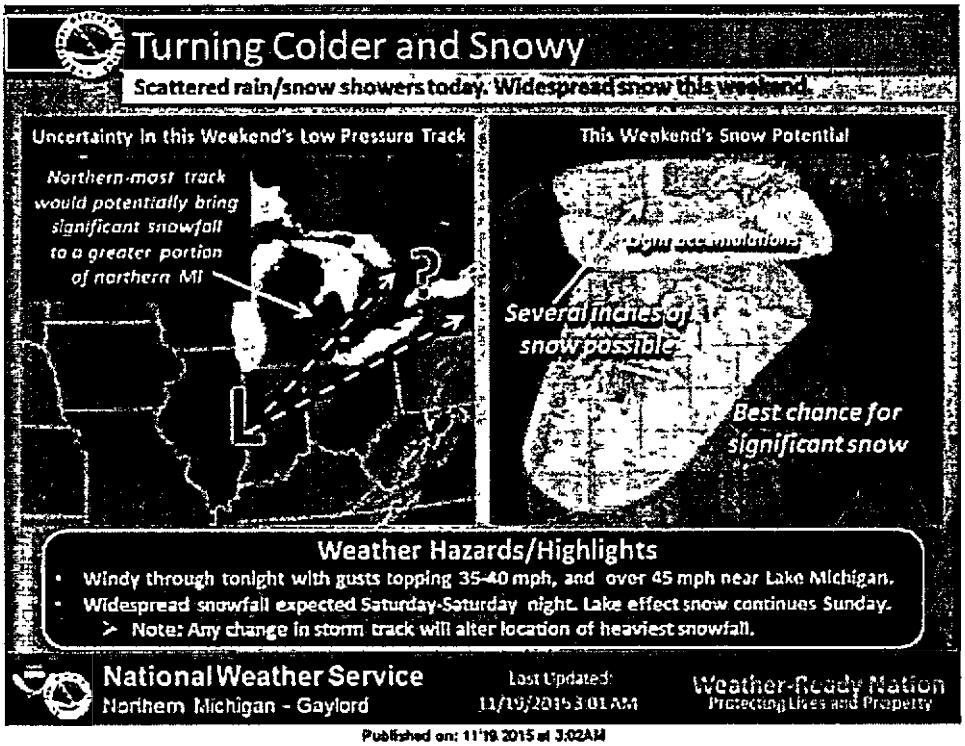
Marquette



Published on: 11/19/2015 at 5:12AM

Gusty southwest winds will bring much colder air into the area today, along with lake effect snow this afternoon over the Keweenaw and tonight over the western U.P. The strong winds will lead to some power outages and when combined with the snow, visibilities will be greatly reduced over the Keweenaw Peninsula.

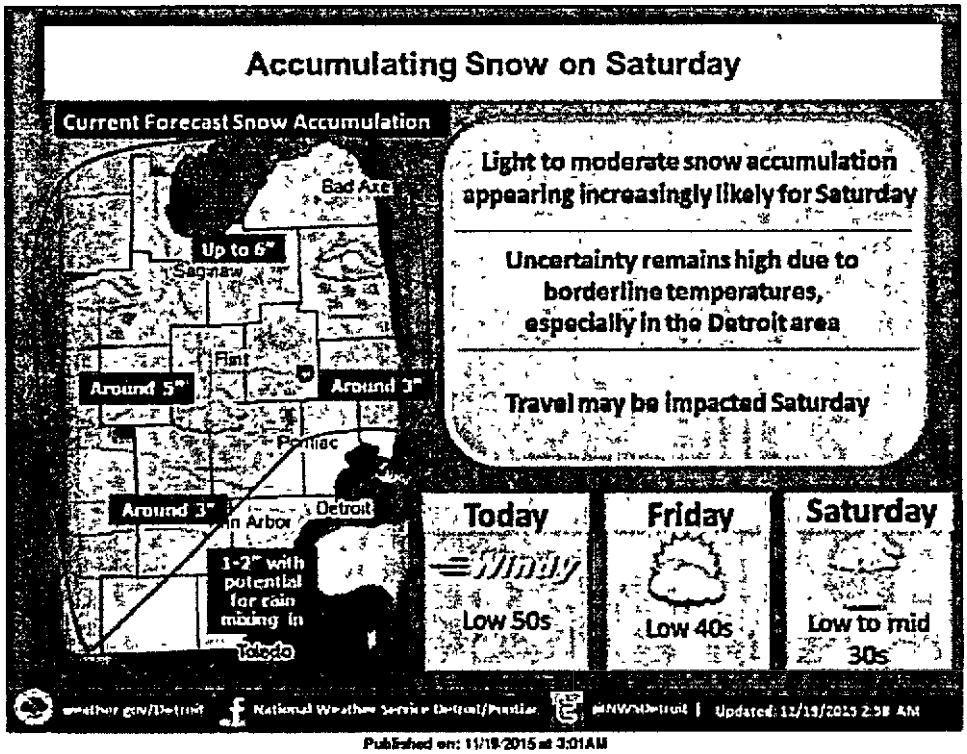
Gaylord



Published on: 11/19/2015 at 3:02AM

Scattered rain showers are expected to continue, mixing with snow on today. Potential is still for widespread snowfall across northern Michigan on Saturday with lake effect snow continuing Sunday.

Detroit



Published on: 11/19/2015 at 3:01AM

Gusty winds will be followed by falling temperatures this afternoon. A colder airmass in place for Friday will offset early day sunshine keeping highs near 40. Accumulating snow will move into the area during the day on Saturday. Uncertainty with regard to storm track and temperatures are still present, but it appears that northwest portions of SE Michigan will see up to 6" of snow. Amounts will taper off further south, with the potential for warm temperatures to cause rain to mix in at times for Detroit.

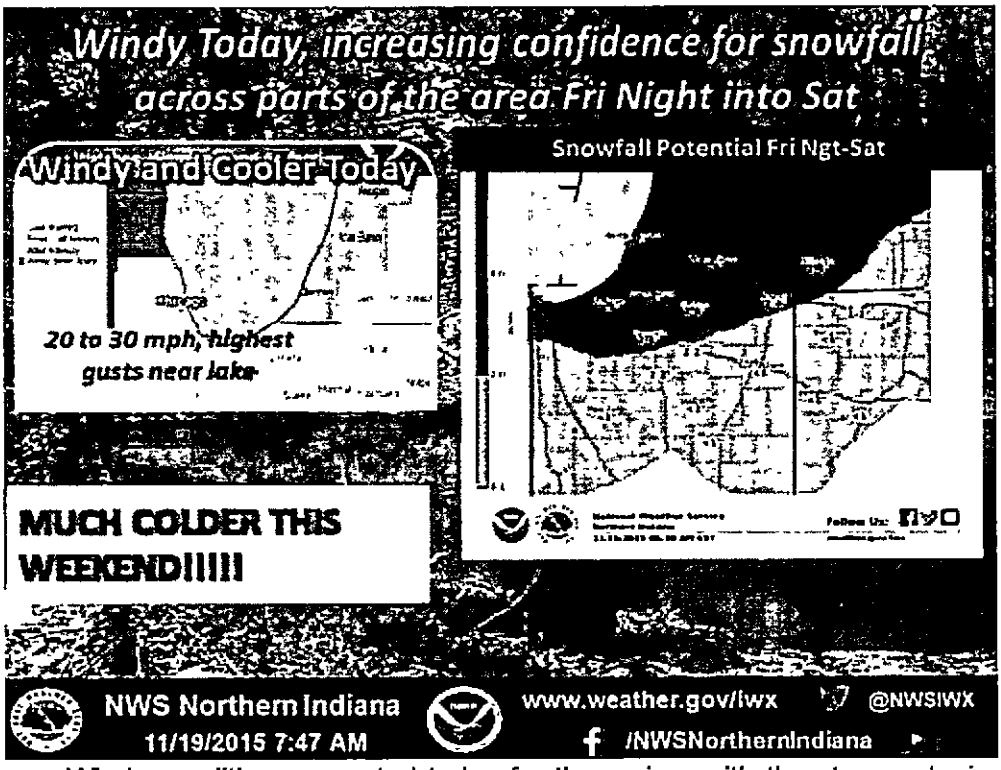
Grand Rapids

Published on: 11/19/2015 at 8:29AM

It will be another windy day with gusts around 40 mph inland and 45 mph along the lakeshore. This could lead to some scattered power outages. The temperature will fall especially later this afternoon. There will also be some light showers around. Accumulating snow (about 3-6 inches) and inconvenient travel are expected on Saturday.

Northern Indiana



Windy conditions expected today for the region, with the strongest winds expected closer to Lake Michigan, especially in Berrien county. Sustained winds of 20 to 30 mph with gusts to 40 mph will be common. Locally higher gusts to 45 mph or more are possible in Berrien county, warranting a Wind Advisory. Of greater focus is the increasing likihood for accumulating snow across parts of the area late Friday night into Saturday. The majority of the snow will fall during the day Saturday, which may limit amounts as temperatures in the mid to upper 30s and warm ground temperatures cause some melting of the snow as it falls. In addition, the track of the system is still being fine tuned with the highest amounts potentially shifting north or south. Once this system passes, MUCH colder air will arrive with highs Sunday struggling to climb above freezing.

State offering extended, weekend hours for water filter distribution at Lippincott GCCARD
Nearly 5,000 NSF certified filters issued by MDHHS to Flint residents since Monday

LANSING, Mich. – Flint residents and Michigan Department of Health and Human Services clients with a city of Flint water bill will now be able to take advantage of extended hours this Thursday, Friday, and Saturday at the Genesee County Community Action Resource Department 2727 Lippincott location. Extended hours will be offered at the Lippincott facility only, and will run until 7 p.m. on Thursday and Friday, and from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday. The other three locations will maintain 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. operating hours, Monday through Friday, for filter pick up.

Dr. Eden Wells, MDHHS chief medical executive, reemphasized that the Brita SAFF-100 filters being distributed by the department and GCCARD do meet the NSF/ANSI 53 standards for drinking water treatment units.

"The Brita faucet filtration system that we are distributing to residents are National Sanitation Foundation certified to reduce lead in drinking water," said Dr. Eden Wells. "When connected appropriately, these filters improve water quality by filtering out contaminates including lead, chlorine, benzene and other chemicals."

Since Monday when MDHHS announced that free water filters would be distributed at four Flint locations, the state and GCCARD have partnered to issue approximately 5,000 free NSF certified water filters to residents that are on the city of Flint water system. The distribution of filters is part of the administration's comprehensive approach to addressing water concerns in the area. These NSF certified water filters remove lead in the water administered through water taps in homes.

MDHHS clients and residents with a city of Flint water bill may take advantage of the extended hours at the Lippincott GCCARD. During the regular business hours, MDHHS clients are encouraged to visit either the 125 E. Union St. or 4809 Clio Road MDHHS office location; residents on Flint water who are not currently enrolled in MDHHS assistance programs should visit the GCCARD offices at 2727 Lippincott and 601 North Saginaw. Staff will be onsite at all four locations to distribute filters and assist residents who have questions about proper installation.

MDHHS clients in the city of Flint who are active recipients should bring valid identification and a copy of their water bill to their local MDHHS office. Flint residents who are not active MDHHS clients should bring identification and their city of Flint water bill to a GCCARD location.

MDHHS is urging all residents do their part to prevent elevated blood lead levels in children. For more information prevention, visit www.michigan.gov/lead, or contact your local health department. For updates on Flint water and resources, visit www.michigan.gov/flintwater.

How does lead get into my tap water?

Under typical circumstances, lead will dissolve into the water. The concentration of lead in drinking water can vary greatly, depending on the corrosiveness of the water, the type and age of the plumbing materials and the length of time that the water stands in the pipes. The highest levels of lead occur when very corrosive water stands motionless in lead or lead soldered pipe for long periods of time.

How do I know if my tap water is contaminated with lead?

The only way to know whether your tap water contains lead is to have it tested. You cannot see, taste, or smell lead in drinking water. There are different sampling methods for sampling lead in drinking water. To determine your household risk, it is recommended to take a first draw sample.

Does lead in my tap water cause health effects?

Lead can cause damage to the brain, red blood cells and kidneys. The greatest risk is to young children and pregnant women. Amounts of lead that won't hurt adults can slow down normal mental and physical development of growing bodies. Lead in water can be a special problem for infants, whose diets may be mostly liquids, such as baby formulas or concentrated juices mixed with water. Smaller bodies can absorb lead more rapidly than bigger ones. A child's mental and physical growth can be permanently harmed by too much lead. Risk will vary, depending on the individual, the circumstances, and the amount of water consumed.

What can I do to reduce or eliminate lead in my tap water?

Flush your cold-water pipes by running the water for approximately 5 minutes. The longer the water has been sitting in the pipes, the more lead it may contain. You can fill containers for later use, after the flushing process. Use only water from the cold-water tap for drinking, cooking, and especially for making baby formula. Hot water is likely to contain higher levels because it dissolves more lead.
You may choose to install a water filter that is NSF-certified for lead removal. If a water filter is installed, replace filters at least as often as recommended by the manufacturer.

Buy a lead-free faucet. The legal definition of "lead-free" still allows brass faucets to contain up to 8 percent lead. However, faucets marked with "NSF 61/9" and/or "California Proposition 65" meet stricter limits. Regularly clean particles from faucet aerators.

Is it safe to take a bath or shower, if my water has high lead levels?

Yes. Bathing and showering should be safe for you and your children, even if the water contains lead over EPA's action level. Human skin does not absorb lead in water. This information applies to most situations and to a large majority of the population, but individual circumstances may vary. Some situations, such as cases involving highly corrosive water, may require additional recommendations or more stringent actions.

Who do I contact for more information?

The local water authority is always your first source for testing and identifying lead contamination in your tap water. You can visit the City of Flint Website at www.cityofflint.com or contact the Flint Water Department at 810-787-6537.

Public Health Emergency Declaration for People Using the Flint City Water Supply with the Flint River as the Source

The County is issuing an Emergency Advisory recommending that people not drink the water coming from the City of Flint using the Flint River as the water source unless:

It has been tested to assure it does not contain elevated levels of lead.

It is being filtered through a National Sanitation Foundation (NSF) approved filter certified to remove lead that meets ANSI standard 53.

Findings reported in the Detroit Free Press September 30, 2015 indicate that Governor Snyder has publically acknowledged that Flint's water supply "appears" to have problems. Snyder has conceded that "it appears that (water) lead levels could be higher or have increased," and that there are "probably things that weren't fully understood when the switch was made." This is in direct contrast to previous reports from the State that downplayed the severity of the situation and conflicted with local data released by researchers at Hurley Medical Center.

Young children are most vulnerable to leads effects, because prior to age six, their brain and central nervous system are still forming and easily susceptible to damage. For an adult to suffer significant health effects, exposure to lead would have to be sustained and more intense. Most adults who are affected by lead have been exposed in an occupational setting, such as working as a house painter or in a battery recycling plant.

Pregnant women are at special risk because the lead they absorb crosses the placenta and enters the fetus.

It's important to remember that there is no known safe level of lead in a human body, Experts now use a reference level of 5 micrograms per deciliter to identify children with blood lead levels that are much higher than most children's levels. This new level is based on the U.S. population of children ages 1-5 years who are in the highest 2.5% of children when tested for lead in their blood.

Lead in water can contribute to a child's blood lead level. The Michigan Department of Environmental Quality, who regulates municipal water supplies, has assured us that the water leaving the Flint Water Plant meets all Federal and State requirements. The City of Flint has a documented problem with lead in its drinking water due to service and household lines that may contain lead or lead solder which can leach lead because of the corrosivity of the water since changing to the Flint River as the source supply. Generally, those who are most vulnerable to leads health effects from exposure to unfiltered tap water are the very youngest children. For this reason, if you are not sure about the lead content in your tap water, it's best to either use a filter that has been found to be effective for reducing or eliminating lead, or to use bottled water instead. Water filters should be National Sanitation Foundation (NSF) certified to remove lead and meet ANSI standard 53. If these options are not available to you, then it's best to let the water run for at least five minutes before using it for either drinking or cooking purposes. Always use cold water instead of hot water for drinking and cooking.

It's especially important to avoid using untested or unfiltered tap water for mixing infant formula unless you can assure your water is lead free.

When leaded gasoline was in widespread use in this country, the lead came out the tail pipe and was deposited in yards near the roads. That lead may still be in those yards. In addition, lead paint continues to be a major source of childhood lead poisoning and can be found in homes built before 1978 when lead paint was banned in the U.S. and may be a hazard inside and outside the home especially where paint is worn or flaking.

There are many other potential sources of lead exposure, including:

- "Home remedies" and cosmetics imported from other countries
- Tamarind or chili-based candies from Mexico
- Stained glass windows
- Fishing sinkers
- Firing ranges
- Old, deteriorated mini-blinds
- Bean pots and painted ceramics
- Crystal decanters
- Lead crystal glassware

Since no safe level has been identified it is in everyone's interest to reduce exposure to lead as much as possible. Recommendations on ways to reduce lead exposure can be found on the Genesee County Health Department website www.gchd.us and Center for Disease Control and Prevention website: http://www.cdc.gov/nceh/lead/tips.htm

Recent data provided by Hurley researchers has indicated a significant increase in blood lead levels in children after the switch to Flint River water. The County Health Officer has requested that MDHHS provide specific data to support their claim that state data is more comprehensive and does not show a significant increase. To date the state has failed to provide the requested data by the September 30, 2015 deadline in our previous request to the state.

Public Health Advisory for People Using the Flint City Water Supply with the Flint River as the Source

Lead is a powerful neurotoxin, which means exposure to lead can damage the brain. It can also injure other soft tissues and organs; interfere with the formation of blood, and exposure to enough lead can be fatal. Both children and adults are vulnerable to leads health effects.

Common Health Effects on Children:

- Brain damage resulting in IQ loss, learning disabilities, hyperactivity, inability to concentrate, and/or behavior problems
- Stunted growth
- Hearing problems

Common Health Effects on Adults:

- Hypertension
- Anemia
- Reduced sperm count
- Increased risk of miscarriages

Young children are most vulnerable to leads effects because prior to age six, their brain and central nervous system are still forming and easily susceptible to damage. For an adult to suffer significant health effects, exposure to lead would have to be sustained and more intense. Most adults who are affected by lead have been exposed in an occupational setting, such as working as a house painter or in a battery recycling plant.

Other Exposure:

When leaded gasoline was in widespread use in this country, the lead came out the tail pipe and was deposited in yards near the roads. That lead may still be in those yards. In addition, lead paint continues to be a major source of childhood lead poisoning and can be found in homes built before 1978 when lead paint was banned in the U.S. and may be a hazard inside and outside the home especially where paint is worn or flaking.

Recent data provided by Hurley Hospital researchers has indicated that a significant increase in blood lead levels has occurred in children since the switch to Flint River water. The county Health Officer has requested that the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services (MDHHS) provide to the County specific data to support its claim that state data is more comprehensive and does not show a significant increase. To date, the MDHHS has failed to confirm the geographic area included in their findings. We want to assure the state data is specific to the boundaries of the City of Flint, and not Flint addresses which would include addresses in areas outside of the City of Flint. These areas, such as Flint Township, that obtain their water from the Detroit Water Authority and would, therefore, not be representative of Flint River water as the water source. The County is prepared to take further action if the State fails to provide the requested data by September 30, 2015. Further action could include a request for outside independent evaluation of the data and to declare a Public Health Emergency in Flint.

Secretary Burwell, Administrator McCarthy, Administrator Fugate and Director Frieden:

Recent developments regarding the level of lead in the water in one of the communities I represent, Flint, Mich., have raised significant concerns about the safety of its drinking water. For this reason, I am requesting immediate resources to provide safe drinking water to the residents of Flint until additional testing can be completed that confirms the water is safe, particularly for young children.

Although the city of Flint and the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality have conducted tests and taken the position that the lead level in the water is safe and below the action level, there are significant questions about the efficacy of their testing. In fact, Dr. Marc Edwards of Virginia Tech University, an established drinking water expert, conducted his own tests as part of a study that determined the water in Flint was above the lead action level.

Additionally, yesterday the Greater Flint Health Coalition, a group of health professionals in the community, released a report showing elevated blood lead levels in residents in Flint, particularly in young children. In response, the Coalition has requested that the Genesee County Health Department release a health advisory indicating that the water in Flint is unsafe to drink.

Thus, I am requesting resources from your agency to provide clean drinking water to the residents of Flint until additional testing can determine when the water will be safe to drink and a long-term solution can be implemented.

This is a serious health issue, particularly for young children, and until the water is demonstrated to be safe, immediate action must be taken to ensure Flint's residents have potable drinking water.

I look forward to working with you and thank you for your immediate attention.

Sincerely,

Dan Kildee

Pediatric Lead Exposure In Flint, Michigan:
A Failure of Primary Prevention

Mona Hanna-Attisha MD MPH FAAP
Hurley Children's Hospital
Michigan State University Department of Pediatrics and Human Development

Introducing Makayla*

- 12 month old girl (DOB 8/15/2014) presented last week for her 1 year old check up. No concerns.
- Lives with single mom and 2 older siblings in west side (48504). Formula from WIC; powder mixed with warm tap water.
- Physical exam and development are normal. Makayla receives her 1 year old vaccines and routine lead and hemoglobin screening.
- A couple days later, lead level comes back as 6 ug/dL.

*Hypothetical scenario

Blood lead level of 6 ug/dL....

- Blood lead levels (BLL) above 5 ug/dL are considered elevated blood lead levels (EBL)
- Just a few years ago (2012), 10 ug/dL was cutoff
- Increasing evidence shows NO safe blood lead level
- Disproportionately impacts low income, minority children
- Primary prevention is most important

Primary Prevention

- "Because no measurable level of blood lead is known to be without deleterious effects, and because once engendered, the effects appear to be irreversible in the absence of any other interventions, public health, environmental and housing policies should encourage PREVENTION of all exposure to lead."

"Low Level Lead Exposure Harms Children: A Renewed Call for Primary Prevention." 2012 CDC Advisory Committee on Childhood Lead Poisoning Prevention.

What will happen to Makayla?

- Vast evidence supports increased likelihood of:
  - Decrease in IQ
    - An increase in BLL from 1 to 4 ug/dL, drops mean IQ -3.7 points
  - Small change in mean IQ, shifts entire population IQ distribution
    - Reduces high achievers IQs (>130) and increases kids with low IQs (<70)
    - Implications for special education services, employment, incarceration, life achievement, etc

Behavioral Burden

- Increased likelihood of :
  - ADHD behaviors
  - Delinquent behaviors and arrests
  - Total arrests and increased rates of arrests involving violent offenses
  - Other health effects: hematologic, cardiovascular, immunologic, endocrine, etc

Wright, JP, KN Dietrich, MD Ris, et al. 2008. Association of prenatal and childhood blood lead concentrations with criminal arrests in early adulthood. PLoS Med 5(5): e101

Needleman, HL, C McFarland, RB Ness, et al. 2002. Bone lead levels in adjudicated delinquents: A case control study. Neurotoxicology and Teratology 24(6):711-717.

The Cost

- "For childhood lead poisoning, $5.9 million in medical care costs, as well as an additional $50.9 billion (sensitivity analysis: $44.8–$60.6 billion) in lost economic productivity resulting from reduced cognitive potential from preventable childhood lead exposure."

- "The present value of Michigan's economic losses attributable to lead exposure in the 2009 cohort of 5 year-olds ranges from $3.19 (using U.S. blood lead levels) to $4.85 billion (using Michigan blood lead levels) per year in loss of future lifetime earnings."

Lead in Water

- Increasing as source of lead, because of success in controlling other sources.
- Increasing due to aging water infrastructures, change in water sources, disinfectant uses, etc
- Disproportionally impacts developmentally-vulnerable formula-fed infants and pregnant mothers
  - For about 25% of infants drinking formula made from tap water at 10 ppb, blood lead would rise above the CDC level of concern of 5 micrograms/deciLiter (or ug/dL).
  - Increase in fetal death and reduced birth weights

Preliminary Results

(results removed)

RETAIN THIS IMAGE
RETAIN THIS IMAGE
RETAIN THIS IMAGE

Conclusions from BLL analysis

- % of children with EBL in Flint has increased
  - Most striking increase in zip codes with highest water lead levels
- Results underestimate risk: infants not screened for lead and water usage unknown.
  - Accurate exposure largely unknown since national childhood lead screening focuses on household lead exposure (paint, soil, dust) at later ages (1 and 2 yrs)
- Results are consistent and concerning. Primary prevention has failed.

Next Steps

- Immediately limit further exposure
  - Encourage breast feeding
  - No tap water for high risk groups: infants on formula & pregnant mothers
  - Declare health advisory: allows WIC to administer water or ready-to-feed formula and other resources (Salvation Army & United Way water supplies)
  - Distribution of lead clearing NSF-approved filters
  - Public education regarding precautions (flushing, etc)
  - Re-connect to Lake Huron water source ASAP

And Makayla…

- Asymptomatic now
- But what will her future hold and an entire generation of Flint children?

The Honorable Dan Kildee

227 Cannon House Office Building
Washington, D.C. 20515

Dear Representative Kildee:

This is in response to your letter of September 22, 2015, to Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) Administrator Craig Fugate, as well as the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and the Environmental Protection Agency. You requested federal assistance to provide safe drinking water to residents of the City of Flint, Michigan, until additional testing confirms that the water is safe. Administrator Fugate requested that I respond to you because Michigan is within FEMA Region V.

As you may be aware, the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act, Public Law 93-288. as amended, authorizes FEMA to provide federal assistance to a state after the governor requests that the president issue a disaster declaration and the president approves the request because it has been determined that the severity and magnitude of the incident exceeds local, tribal and state capabilities. If providing safe water to its residents is beyond the city's capability, the city, through Genesee County Emergency Management, should contact the Michigan State Police Division of Emergency Management and Homeland Security. However, in this situation, it may be more expedient and practical to pursue water sources from other local or private sector entities.

If you have questions or would like additional information, please contact me or have a member of your staff contact my Congressional Affairs Specialist, Dan Shulman, at (312) 408-4427.

Sincerely,

Andrew Velasquez III

Refreshments will be provided, so your registration is appreciated.

The UM-Flint Innovation Incubator will participate in an Information Forum for Flint businesses this Thursday, Feb. 18 from 5-7 pm.

With encouragement from Washington and Lansing, the Flint and Genesee Chamber and Michigan Small Business Development Center are convening organizations this Thursday evening.
The groups will provide information about assistance available to City of Flint businesses to address impacts their businesses may have experienced due to the lead-in-water crisis.

City of Flint business owners are invited to attend the forum at Berston Field House on Thursday, February 18, 5-7 pm.

There will be numerous groups available to help local businesses deal with impacts:

- Panel of service providers
- Presentations on services available to businesses
- Audience Q&A following presentations
- Tables for organizations or providers
- Attendees may engage one-on-one as they choose.

Berston is located at 3300 N. Saginaw St., Flint, MI 48505. Parking on the street or behind the field house.

Subject: RE: Travel Reimbursement Request 01/11/16 to 01/29/16

Good Afternoon:

Let's try to get some of this confusion cleared up. Governor Snyder declared a state of emergency exists in the City of Flint on January 6, 2016. With a governor's declaration, all state agencies are used as resources to respond to the emergency. This is coordinated through the SEOC. A Joint Information Center (JIC) was established in the City of Flint by the State Director of Emergency Management and state agency PIO's were directed to report to the JIC.

MSP has direct billing accounts with many hotels around the state in an effort to minimize any financial impact to the employees that are traveling for emergency or disaster work. The JIC and the SEOC are operating between the hours of 8 am and 8 pm every day, including holidays. It is also a safety concern to have employees working 12 to 14 hour days and then driving at least an hour home just to turn around and drive back again early the next morning. That is another reason we have the hotels available.

For whatever reason, Angela's personal credit card was charged for a two night stay that should have been billed to the MSP account. If approval is a problem, as State Finance Officer I approved all PIO's to stay in Flint if they were assigned by the JIC Manager due to the long hours. MSP will NOT be billing state agencies for their staff that stayed in the hotels. In previous SEOC activations, travel has been initially paid by the agency and then billed to MSP/EMHSD at the end of the SEOC activation and reimbursement has been made back to agencies through the Disaster and Emergency Contingency Fund (DECF). This time I went with direct billing for staff to alleviate any financial burden and to keep the paperwork simple. I will still be paying the hotel charges with this fund and expect to see this employee reimbursement, as well as other eligible costs incurred by DHHS, as part of the billing I will be requesting from all agencies at the end of the SEOC activation.

For your backup documentation, I would reference Public Act 390 of 1976, which is also known as the Michigan Emergency Management Act. This outlines the role of a state agency once there is a disaster or emergency declaration. I have attached it for your convenience.

I hope I have cleared up any confusion. Again, MSP is taking care of the hotel charges. We would have anyway in the end by reimbursing state agencies for incurring the cost.

Please give me a call if you have any questions.

Angela,

I understand what you are saying with the MSP paying for the lodging. Please note that employee's still have to follow the DHHS Travel Policy with the lodging requirements. Even though MSP is paying for this upfront they will be billing MDHHS for our employees. These types of things are audited when we are billed and if an employee is not following policy they will be required to reimburse the state. Thanks.

Hi Angie,

Going forward, all hotel stay will be covered by MSP. This stay was supposed to be covered by MSP but the hotel incorrectly billed my credit card instead.

As for the travel (driving) reimbursement, I was told we put in our normal coding. Is that not the case?

Hello Angela,

I wanted to give you an update on this. I just heard from Farah Hanley, my Senior Deputy Director, and she has granted an exception to have the overnight stays approved for this travel reimbursement request. All travel going forward will need to adhere to the DHHS Travel Policy that went into effect 01/01/16. I noticed that you have your standard coding listed on the Coding Block tab for this request as well. We can approve the request with your standard coding on it but this will need to be corrected. When you find out the correct coding information that should be used for travel for the Flint water crisis can you let us know and we will get this corrected? Thank you and have a great day.

Ok, thank you! I need to confirm with you if you received pre-approval from Accounting before staying overnight in Flint since it is less than 100 miles from your workstation and/or home. Per the DHHS Travel Policy, "Overnight stays within 100 miles of the employee's home or workstation, whichever is less, are not reimbursable; see Official Workstation definition in this item.

When a work assignment to the field will require more than one consecutive day's effort, an overnight stay is recommended for destinations 100 or more miles away from either the employee's home or workstation. The decision to commute or stay overnight is left to the traveling employee's supervisor. A cost comparison, listing all hotel, meals, and mileage expenses, should be done as part of the basis for the decision. This cost comparison should be attached to the travel reimbursement request.

Overnight stays at destinations under 100 miles away from either the employee's home or workstation, require an explanation on the travel reimbursement request for the overnight stay along with written prior MDHHS finance operations director approval."

Let me know if you have any questions. Thank you and have a great day.

Flint Joint Information Center Daily Update

February 16, 2016

Situation Report

The Joint Information Center (JIC) was expected to be operational in Flint from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Feb. 16.

State agencies at the JIC included the Michigan State Police, Michigan National Guard, and Departments of Environmental Quality, Health and Human Services and Natural Resources. The Genesee County Sheriff's Office and American Red Cross were also present.

Tasks accomplished:

- Media hotline staff answered less than 10 emails and phone calls, ranging from commodity distribution trends at the Water Response Sites to inquiries about volunteering in the city of Flint.
- Created a media monitoring report and looked for misinformation.
- Updated a Daily JIC Activities log to catalog actions completed for the day and planned news release strategies for the week.
- Drafted and intended to issue a news release about the National Guard rotating soldiers in the city of Flint. News release was placed on hold.
- Continued routing public information materials for approval, including fact sheets on recycling, testing your water, and keeping Flint kids safe. Additional translated news releases were received and routed.
- Created a community outreach spreadsheet to keep track of meetings occurring in the city of Flint.
- Received, vetted and uploaded American Sign Language messaging and requested it to be posted on www.michigan.gov/flintwater. A news release has been drafted about translated documents. The intention is to issue the news release once the ASL messaging is placed on the website.

Subject: SEOC Update 2/16/16 - Flint Water - Limited Distribution

Update 2/16/16 – 43rd Day (42nd Full Day) After Governor's Declaration of an Emergency

Mission focus for the day:

- Ensure adequate quantities of supplies to support operations.
- Continue door to door/Flint Water Response Teams (FWRTs), ARC only.
  - Shift Water Response Team operations to a targeted effort to provide filters into homes where data shows filters have not been provided and/or visits not made.
- Prepare appeal on denial of Category B under the Presidential Emergency Declaration.
  - Obtain additional information from the City of Flint for Declaration of Emergency appeal.
- Obtain decision briefing on long term distribution plan.
- Obtain further information on sentinel team data.
- Obtain information on rash occurances.

Status on Governor's request letter to the President:

- Appeal denial received on the Major Disaster Declaration. Nothing more can be done on this.
- Denial of Individual Household Program and Category B under the Emergency Declaration received January 22, 2016. We have 30 days to appeal and EMHSD staff is gathering information for the appeal.

Attached:

1. Sit Rep #42.

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- Team Priority Scheduled Tomorrow: Water distribution and supplies requested.
- 5 American Red Cross Teams scheduled for Wednesday, February 17, 2016.

Items to Note

- A Congressional/Legislative conference call was held today at 2:30 PM.
    - No concerns from the call.
- MDEQ commenced development of a plan to re-deploy the Sentinel water sampling collection crews to achieve 402 sampled sites and 60 lead service lines.
- Southern Baptist Disaster Relief took over rapid response deliveries from NCCC on 02/16/2016 with five teams in the field.
- Local EOC IC is coordinating with MSU College of Veterinary Medicine and MDARD for development of blood lead level testing program for companion animals.
- GIS is generating a list of apartment buildings receiving water from the City of Flint and how many times each building has been visited.
- GIS generating a list of total residences that potentially will be using a water filter that use water from the City of Flint.
- DTMB Real Estate researching options for a 200,000 sq. ft. warehouse for long term distribution plan, preferably on the bus line.

Unified Coordination Group (UCG):

- CDC will meet with state on rash complaints/test results.

Update 2/15/16 – 42nd Day (41st Full Day) After Governor's Declaration of an Emergency

Mission focus for the day:

- Ensure adequate quantities of supplies to support operations.
- Continue door to door/Flint Water Response Teams (FWRTs), ARC only.

    - Shift Water Response Team operations to a targeted effort to provide filters into homes where data shows filters have not been provided and/or visits not made.
- Prepare appeal on denial of Category B under the Presidential Emergency Declaration.
    - Obtain additional information from the City of Flint for Declaration of Emergency appeal.
- Work on plan for Volunteer Expansion (to increase the utilization of the volunteer force to distribute commodities over the longer term), Ongoing Resourcing, and Long Term Recovery - recovery plan/transition of PODs.
    - Includes filter replacement strategies.
- Create better situational awareness between local, state and federal agencies specifically with the UCG.

Status on Governor's request letter to the President:

- Appeal denial received on the Major Disaster Declaration. Nothing more can be done on this.
- Denial of Individual Household Program and Category B under the Emergency Declaration received January 22, 2016. We have 30 days to appeal and EMHSD staff is gathering information for the appeal.

Attached:

1. Sit Rep #41.
2. Weekly List of Events.
3. Maps: Residential Water Sampling Results for lead and copper. Updated to include 2/13/2016 data.

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- There will be a Congressional/Legislative conference call on Tuesday, February 16 at 2:30 PM
- Southern Baptists will be at the local EOC in the morning and will be taking over rapid response activities from the NCCC teams.

Items to Note

- Published IAP #10.
- Throughout the Sentinel Site Monitoring Team mission last week, 241 households have agreed to be sentinel monitoring points for long-term water testing.
- Sentinel Site Monitoring Collection Teams starting to collect samples at sentinel monitoring points on 02/15/2016. The teams will collect samples bi-weekly at each monitoring point.
- Per MDEQ, based on the population, the City of Flint needs 60 samples for their compliance monitoring for this monitoring period under the Lead and Copper Rule. These compliance sampling sites must be "Tier 1" sites, and at least half of them must be lead service lines. They wanted all of the compliance sites to be lead service lines. They were hoping that the 402 sentinel sites would produce at least 60 sites with lead service lines. However, they now know they will need to do some more searching to find even the minimum number of sites for compliance monitoring

Unified Coordination Group (UCG):

- Developed Situation Report
- CDC/ASTDR field team representative attended community meeting at local church where an estimated 50 community members were in attendance.

Local EOC:

- In processed Southern Baptist Disaster Relief Group. Southern Baptist Disaster Relief taking over rapid response deliveries for NCCC teams on 02/16/2016.

- 140 water samples picked up at sentinel monitoring points by 1600 on 02/15/2016. Will be close to completing pick up at all 241 locations before end of day.
- Discussing lead and copper exposure of animals in City of Flint with MSU College for Veterinary Medicine.
- Introducing local staff to EOC positions and processes.
- Evaluating potentially culturally sensitive messages on water donated through one specific source. Holding water at warehouse until confirmation that displayed messages are not offensive.
- Sit Rep # 35 published.

1. Sit Rep #37.

* There are no Water Sampling Results Maps available for today. GIS is resolving a problem with the maps and they will be available tomorrow. Some anomalies in the data were discovered that are being corrected.

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- Due to the boil water advisory in the city of Flint the SEOC will continue to monitor supplies closely in anticipation of burn rates increasing.
- 8 American Red Cross Teams scheduled for Friday, February 12, 2016.
- The second warehouse will open tomorrow on Pierson Road. This warehouse will primarily receive donations that are not on pallets.

Items to Note

- MDE is reporting that a portion of the emergency funds that were approved for the Flint Water Crisis included $340,000 for Flint Community Schools to hire/contract for nine school nurses.
- U.S. Department of Education is scheduled visit Flint on February 12, 201 at 0830 at the Genesee Intermediate School District. MDE Deputy Superintendent and the Director of Special Education will attend. Family alliance members will also attend.
- MDEQ has 10 - 3 person Sentinel Sampling Teams on the ground again today. Each team is composed of 1 local resident, 1 licensed plumber and 1 MDEQ staff person providing training on water sampling to residents throughout the City of Flint. These residents have agreed to conduct ongoing sampling with their water to be analyzed by the MDEQ laboratory. These residents will also be part of the Sentinel Sampling Program and samples will be collected every two weeks and will provide analysis for lead and copper. Over 100 homes were visited yesterday on Day 1 of the effort.
- Attended Community Stakeholder meeting. In addition MDEQ continues to lead an Initial Site Assessment Team for high copper and high lead. This team is composed of 1 licensed plumber, 1 law enforcement officer from Flint PD, 1 MDEQ staff person and 1 MDHHS representative. This team is providing initial assessment in information to residents whose homes have water sampling results above the federal action levels for lead and copper. Our goal is to provide these visits and assessment within 48 hours of receiving the results.

Unified Coordination Group (UCG):

- WQTF: 1st round of sequential results in a week-week and a half, this paired with the MDEQ sentinel site sampling will provide a good picture of how the system is improving.
- HMTF: Met with the Mass Transportation Authority (MTA), they have a lot of resources to get people to places of interest e.g. care facilities, good food sources, etc.

- PEATF: Dr. Mona, Chelsea Clinton, and Dr. Lurie are in town. A lot of community outreach going on over the weekend. Surgeon General will be in town next week.

Local EOC

- Attended Community Stakeholder meeting.
- Long-term distribution plan, based on discussions with City of Flint and SEOC representatives on 02/09 and 02/10/2016 in Lansing, will be presented to Deputy State Director of Emergency & Homeland Security on 02/12/2016.
- Developing logistics procedures to aid transition to local EOC staff.
- 10 Sentinel Site Monitoring Teams and Elevated Lead and Copper Initial Assessment Task Force out in the field.

- Prepare appeal on denial of Category B under the Presidential Emergency Declaration.
    - Obtain additional information from the City of Flint and Genesee County for Declaration of Emergency appeal.
- Work on plan for Volunteer Expansion (to increase the utilization of the volunteer force to distribute commodities over the longer term), Ongoing Resourcing, and Long Term Recovery - recovery plan/transition of PODs.
    - Includes filter replacement strategies.
- Soft opening of secondary state warehouse; clean and prep for SBA staff.

Status on Governor's request letter to the President:

- Appeal denial received on the Major Disaster Declaration. Nothing more can be done on this.
- Denial of Individual Household Program and Category B under the Emergency Declaration received January 22, 2016. We have 30 days to appeal and EMHSD staff is gathering information for the appeal.

Attached:

1. Daily Summary of Data – Note two new reports: GovReport
2. Sit Rep #33.

3. Maps: Residential Water Sampling Results – Lead and Copper

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- 10 American Red Cross Teams scheduled for Monday, February 8, 2016.
- The new warehouse will be operational on Monday, February 8, 2016 and managed by MDOC.

Items to Note

- 10 ARC Flint Water Response Teams to the field today. Priority for the weekend is homes that did not have contacts during previous sweeps.
- State VAL is working on the Category B and Individuals and Households appeal.
- There continues to be a concern that EPA refuses to work with the state teams in addressing the high lead level homes.
- Genesee County EM expressed concerns about lead poisoning in service/companion animals. MDARD has initiated contact with their partners to address this concern.
- 28 addresses have copper testing that exceeds the "action level" (1,300 ppb). DHHS is currently working on messaging regarding this issue, and DEQ is discussing filtering options.

Unified Coordination Group (UCG):

- Task Forces Health & Medical: working on creating a flow chart for visual of testing results.
- EPA conducted 11 filter grabs yesterday, and will be doing 2 today. This includes up to 33 samples per grab. A grab would be considered a location/residence. They are also following up on the AmeriCorps volunteers (2) that have rashes.

Local EOC

- Establishing objectives and IAP for next operational period, 02/08/2016 – 02/12/2016.
- Awaiting additional information regarding companion animals with potential lead and chlorine poisoning from MDARD.
- Establishing plans for Elevated Copper Initial Assessment Task Force starting 02/08/2016 and follow-up outreach to homes with water lead levels over 150 ppb starting 02/10/2016.
- Aligning resources and supplies for Elevated Copper Initial Assessment Task Force and follow-up outreach to homes with water lead levels over 150 ppb.
- Analyzing locations of faith-based organizations and churches for integration into long-term recovery plans.

INTERNAL USE ONLY – LIMIT DISTRIBUTION TO GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

Update 2/3/16 – 30th Day (29th Full Day) After Governor's Declaration of an Emergency

Mission focus for the day:

- Refocus state agencies on objectives, tasks in the Incident Action Plan and how we get to the end state/shift to longer term recovery.
- Ensure adequate quantities of supplies to support operations.
- Continue door to door/Flint Water Response Teams (FWRTs), ARC only.
  - Shift Water Response Team operations to a targeted effort to provide filters into homes where data shows filters have not been provided and/or visits not made.
- Prepare appeal on denial of Category B under the Presidential Emergency Declaration.
  - Obtain additional information from the City of Flint and Genesee County for Declaration of Emergency appeal.
- Work on plan for Volunteer Expansion (to increase the utilization of the volunteer force to distribute commodities over the longer term), Ongoing Resourcing, and Long Term Recovery - recovery plan/transition of PODs.
  - Includes filter replacement strategies.

- Submit SBA application – outstanding item is the certification of availability of financial assistance. Priority item for the a.m. so this can get submitted. Press release has been completed.

Status on Governor's request letter to the President:

- Appeal denial received on the Major Disaster Declaration. Nothing more can be done on this.
- Denial of Individual Household Program and Category B under the Emergency Declaration received this date. We have 30 days to appeal and EMHSD staff is gathering information for the appeal.

Attached:

1. Daily Summary of Data, full version and abridged (New reporting format – we will ensure we give liters of water and cases in the future)
2. Residential Water Sampling Results Maps – Lead and Copper
3. SitRep 29

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- 10 American Red Cross Teams scheduled for Thursday, February 4, 2016.
- Will continue to target residences from the Apartment List from 2/2/16

Items to Note

- Paired down the list of parcels not visited from 2400 to 958. Will continue on 2/4/16 to identify any parcels not visited. Some parcels contain multifamily residences and those types of residences are being reviewed and targeted to ensure coverage.
- MDOC is going to look into their job programs for any prisoners begin release back into the Flint area. This will be in conjunction with any other job programs identified. We are working with MTED on solutions.
- DEQ and DHHS will be going to residences with >150 ppb starting tomorrow. They will be checking residences next to the one with the high lead level to see if this is a single residence issue or a bigger issue affecting the block or line in an area. This will not initially include EPA as they did not seem interested in combining teams but we are working on more collaboration without slowing us down.
- DEQ will have a representative in the UCG starting 2/4/15.
- Discussed with UPS on ways they can assist with Rapid Response Team and filter replacements in the future.
- Additional warehouse will be put in service potentially Saturday. Seventh Day Adventist are potentially going to operate it or help with operations to phase out state agency personnel and make it more community run. The warehouse does include some office space if needed.
- 10 ARC Flint Water Response Teams to the field today.
- Team Priority Visited Today: Apartment List from 2/2/16
- SEOC Logistics worked with MDOC on their assistance with warehouse management and staffing for new warehouse. Reached out to Food Bank on their recommendation and coordination for hours/days of operation of new warehouse.
- SEOC Operations attended a donations management meeting to discuss the need for a consolidated list of donated goods.
- JIC strategized with the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services and Environmental Protection Agency on how to better coordinate public information.

Unified Coordination Group (UCG):

- UCG IAP approved today for the operational period 0800 2/2/16 to 0800 2/4/16.
- The Federal Health Coordinating Officer had a meeting today with Economic Development and Housing and Urban Development.
- EMHSD liaison provided information on Michigan EM structure to Command.

- State JIC manager now in the communication loop for the UCG.
- UCG discussed MARCs and potential implementation.
- Capt. Kelenske met with Don Boyce from US DHHS to discuss concerns with Federal HHS and EPA and how we can move forward with better collaboration and coordination. Boyce also met with Governor's Office staff on same. The meeting went well and a solid relationship is in place with Boyce. He is a direct report to Dr. Lurie and will provide her some context on the issues and how we can move forward. He will be a good POC to assist us with any shifts in direction needed at the federal level.

Local EOC

- Coordinated rapid response deliveries to homebound residents and special locations.
- Working on refining rapid response delivery process.
    - Preparing transition from Team Rubicon personnel to NCCC teams, and eventually Southern Baptist Disaster Relief.
    - Coordinating with ARC for logistics support to NCCC teams (AmeriCorp).
- Working with ARC to ensure resource needs of franchise customers at Sunridge Apartments complex in Flint Township are met.
- Coordinating with MDEQ to streamline test kit assembly process.
- Attended distribution plan meeting with faith-based organizations, state, and local agencies.
- Referring VOADs to appropriate volunteer management agencies.
- Addressing various public concerns, including availability of supplies at child care facilities.

Shanon,

EMHSD has requested me to take over leadership of the homeland security conference planning due to the SEOC continued activation and their move. They are really late in the beginning planning stages and we are in desperate need of additional assistance outside of EMHSD since their staff are all tied up with the Flint Water Crisis.

I am reaching out to seek additional help from within MSP and have enlisted Lori Higgins help so far and would I am seeking your approval to utilize Sierra (or Nicole) due to Ron Leix working in Flint pretty much permanently right now. I know she is pretty busy, as we all are, but what I will need her assistance on, shouldn't take much time and most of it can be done at her desk. Nicole handled this when she worked at EMHSD so she could fill you in more on what is needed, but we need someone to draft the VIP invites, Governor's invite, proof printed materials, prepare language for the website etc. It's only until Ron can be freed up to come back.

Please let me know if you approve or need any further information.

Thank you very much,
Cindy

Who is handling these types of questions? I've attached the MI CIMS inquiry entry.

The Flint resident has been going round robin. He even called 2-1-1 and they didn't know who he should call.

Hi Shanon,

I noticed the following article talks about "cloudy" water.

http://www.freep.com/story/news/columnists/john-carlisle/2016/02/13/flint-family-poisoned-by-poverty-and-toxic-water/79423502/

The water in the Flint JIC kitchenette is like that too. It may be the phosphates being added to the water to coat the pipes.

Ron

Hi Mel,

The Web-based media outlet FiveThirtyEight called the JIC media hotline on Friday. The reporter wants to talk to someone at MDEQ about a.) the plans going forward for water testing in Flint and b.) when it will be safe to drink the water again.

I passed along the latest 'sentinel team' news releases from the JIC and Governor's Office.

Attached is the record sheet. Her deadline is on Tuesday, Feb. 16.

Thanks,

Ron

Subject: SEOC Update 2/12/16 - Flint Water - Limited Distribution

Update 2/12/16 – 39th Day (38th Full Day) After Governor's Declaration of an Emergency

Mission focus for the day:

- Ensure adequate quantities of supplies to support operations.
- Continue door to door/Flint Water Response Teams (FWRTs), ARC only.
    - Shift Water Response Team operations to a targeted effort to provide filters into homes where data shows filters have not been provided and/or visits not made.
- Prepare appeal on denial of Category B under the Presidential Emergency Declaration.
    - Obtain additional information from the City of Flint for Declaration of Emergency appeal.
- Work on plan for Volunteer Expansion (to increase the utilization of the volunteer force to distribute commodities over the longer term), Ongoing Resourcing, and Long Term Recovery - recovery plan/transition of PODs.
    - Includes filter replacement strategies.
    - Work with UPS on future partnership and service delivery model.
- Create better situational awareness between local, state and federal agencies specifically with the UCG.
- Monitor water main break and messaging.

Status on Governor's request letter to the President:

- Appeal denial received on the Major Disaster Declaration. Nothing more can be done on this.
- Denial of Individual Household Program and Category B under the Emergency Declaration received January 22, 2016. We have 30 days to appeal and EMHSD staff is gathering information for the appeal.

Attached:

1. Sit Rep #38.
2. Maps: Residential Water Sampling Results – Lead and Copper
3. Governor's Report

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- Although the boil water advisory has been lifted in the city of Flint, the SEOC is continuing to monitor supplies at the PODs closely in anticipation of burn rates increasing over the holiday weekend.
- 8 American Red Cross teams scheduled for Saturday, February 13 – extra vehicles on hand for surge in event based volunteers.

Items to Note

- Elevated Lead and Copper Initial Assessment Task Force is beginning identification of companion animals in visited homes for start of dog blood level testing.
- The JIC issued news release this afternoon upon lifting of boil water advisory. They also held media availability at the Genesee County Emergency Operations Center to give the news media access to a sentinel team briefing prior to disbursing throughout Flint.
- Per MDEQ, all of the results from the samples collected in response to the water main break were non-detect for coliform bacteria.
- SEOC staff is working to estimate record numbers to comply with FOIA request.
- The CHECC remains active at a Level 2, and continues to staff the hotline Monday through Friday to answer any lead health-related questions referred by 2-1-1 in support of the GCHD.
- 80 volunteers were active across the operation today (56 event based, 15 ARC, 9 NCCC).

Unified Coordination Group (UCG):

- WQTF: Has a new team listed in the ICS-204 community involvement teams.
- Transitioned to using vulnerable populations as standard language instead of special populations.

Local EOC:

- 10 Sentinel Site Monitoring Teams and Elevated Lead and Copper Initial Assessment Task Force out in the field.
- Sentinel teams inspected approximately 170 homes since 02/10/2016, Initial Assessment Task force inspected approximately 65 homes with elevated lead levels and 30 days with elevated copper levels since 02/04/2016.
- Planning for staffing and transition from state agency support personnel to local personnel at Genesee County EOC.
- Liaison Officer and Incident Commander visited UCG and made contact with the Federal Health Coordinating Officer.
- Boil Water Advisory issued by City of Flint in response to water transmission line break was lifted at approximately 1700.

Attached:

1. Sit Rep #37.

* There are no Water Sampling Results Maps available for today. GIS is resolving a problem with the maps and they will be available tomorrow. Some anomalies in the data were discovered that are being corrected.

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- Due to the boil water advisory in the city of Flint the SEOC will continue to monitor supplies closely in anticipation of burn rates increasing.
- 8 American Red Cross Teams scheduled for Friday, February 12, 2016.
- The second warehouse will open tomorrow on Pierson Road. This warehouse will primarily receive donations that are not on pallets.

Items to Note

- MDE is reporting that a portion of the emergency funds that were approved for the Flint Water Crisis included $340,000 for Flint Community Schools to hire/contract for nine school nurses.
- U.S. Department of Education is scheduled visit Flint on February 12, 201 at 0830 at the Genesee Intermediate School District. MDE Deputy Superintendent and the Director of Special Education will attend. Family alliance members will also attend.
- MDEQ has 10 - 3 person Sentinel Sampling Teams on the ground again today. Each team is composed of 1 local resident, 1 licensed plumber and 1 MDEQ staff person providing training on water sampling to residents throughout the City of Flint. These residents have agreed to conduct ongoing sampling with their water to be analyzed by the MDEQ laboratory. These residents will also be part of the Sentinel Sampling Program and samples will be collected every two weeks and will provide analysis for lead and copper. Over 100 homes were visited yesterday on Day 1 of the effort.
- Attended Community Stakeholder meeting. In addition MDEQ continues to lead an Initial Site Assessment Team for high copper and high lead. This team is composed of 1 licensed plumber, 1 law enforcement officer from Flint PD, 1 MDEQ staff person and 1 MDHHS representative. This team is providing initial assessment in information to residents whose homes have water sampling results above the federal action levels for lead and copper. Our goal is to provide these visits and assessment within 48 hours of receiving the results.

Unified Coordination Group (UCG):

- WQTF: 1st round of sequential results in a week-week and a half, this paired with the MDEQ sentinel site sampling will provide a good picture of how the system is improving.
- HMTF: Met with the Mass Transportation Authority (MTA), they have a lot of resources to get people to places of interest e.g. care facilities, good food sources, etc.
- PEATF: Dr. Mona, Chelsea Clinton, and Dr. Lurie are in town. A lot of community outreach going on over the weekend. Surgeon General will be in town next week.

Local EOC

- Attended Community Stakeholder meeting.
- Long-term distribution plan, based on discussions with City of Flint and SEOC representatives on 02/09 and 02/10/2016 in Lansing, will be presented to Deputy State Director of Emergency & Homeland Security on 02/12/2016.
- Developing logistics procedures to aid transition to local EOC staff.
- 10 Sentinel Site Monitoring Teams and Elevated Lead and Copper Initial Assessment Task Force out in the field.

Subject: SEOC Update 2/5/16 - Flint Water - Limited Distribution

Update 2/5/16 – 32nd Day (31st Full Day) After Governor's Declaration of an Emergency

Mission focus for the day:

- Ensure adequate quantities of supplies to support operations.
- Continue door to door/Flint Water Response Teams (FWRTs), ARC only.
    - Shift Water Response Team operations to a targeted effort to provide filters into homes where data shows filters have not been provided and/or visits not made. Special attention to apartments/multifamily residences.
- Prepare appeal on denial of Category B under the Presidential Emergency Declaration.
    - Obtain additional information from the City of Flint and Genesee County for Declaration of Emergency appeal.
- Work on plan for Volunteer Expansion (to increase the utilization of the volunteer force to distribute commodities over the longer term), Ongoing Resourcing, and Long Term Recovery - recovery plan/transition of PODs.
    - Includes filter replacement strategies.

- Prepare of opening of secondary state warehouse

Status on Governor's request letter to the President:

- Appeal denial received on the Major Disaster Declaration. Nothing more can be done on this.
- Denial of Individual Household Program and Category B under the Emergency Declaration received this date. We have 30 days to appeal and EMHSD staff is gathering information for the appeal.

Attached:

1. Daily Summary of Data (NG field is showing 0 which is not correct). NG personnel are still at the PODs.
2. Sit Rep #31.
3. Maps: Residential Water Sampling Results – Lead and Copper

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- 10 American Red Cross Teams scheduled for Saturday, February 6, 2016.
- MDOC will begin setting up Kroger warehouse.

Items to Note

- 10 ARC Flint Water Response Teams to the field today. Priority for the weekend is homes that did not have contacts during previous sweeps.
- SBA declaration approved. SEOC Logistics will be working to identify office space in Flint for SBA staff.
- Recovery Branch estimate based on information collected last weekend is as follows:
    - 80 Complexes
    - 4170 Units
    - 2892 Assisted Living/Senior Housing (Dept of Aging)
- Information in DHHS Sit Rep is from GCCARD only, this information is not included in the daily totals.
- JIC issued a news release around 10 a.m. about the state of Michigan encouraging food establishments to take advantage free water safety inspections. The news release was picked up by the Associated Press and other news media outlets.
- JIC held a media event to encourage people to check out Flint area restaurants with Lt. Gov. Brian Calley and Michigan Department of Agriculture and Rural Development Director Jamie Clover Adams. Nine local and statewide news media members attended the event.
- Finance Section developed guidance for Flint Water Inter-Agency Coordinating Committee related to reimbursements for non-state employees.
- State Voluntary Agency Liaison (VAL) prepared list of NGOs involved in Flint for DHHS SERG grant application.
- State VAL worked on potential jobs funding with TIA via Dept of Labor.
- Question was asked from the Governor's office yesterday if commodities purchased could be returned. Per FEMA, any item such as filter, pitcher, cartridge etc. cannot be returned. Once procured via State RRF the state owns it - no returns. Water can be returned with 12 months remaining shelf life and in complete factory issued pallet w shrink wrap and the state will fund/ transport of returning water to the designated Distribution Center. FEMA will inspect all returning water prior to movement and water is limited to available storage space in the FEMA Distribution Centers which will range between 0-5 million liters. Quantity to be returned will be approved prior to movement based upon available space and known inbound inventory.
- DEQ finalized sentinel sampling plan to commence activities beginning February 10th, 2016.
    - DEQ received 12 iPads for deployment with teams for status tracking.

Attached:

1. Daily Summary of Data, full version and abridged (New reporting format – we will ensure we give liters of water and cases in the future)
2. Residential Water Sampling Results Maps – Lead and Copper
3. SitRep 29

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- 10 American Red Cross Teams scheduled for Thursday, February 4, 2016.
- Will continue to target residences from the Apartment List from 2/2/16

Items to Note

- Paired down the list of parcels not visited from 2400 to 958. Will continue on 2/4/16 to identify any parcels not visited. Some parcels contain multifamily residences and those types of residences are being reviewed and targeted to ensure coverage.
- MDOC is going to look into their job programs for any prisoners begin release back into the Flint area. This will be in conjunction with any other job programs identified. We are working with MTED on solutions.
- DEQ and DHHS will be going to residences with >150 ppb starting tomorrow. They will be checking residences next to the one with the high lead level to see if this is a single residence issue or a bigger issue affecting the block or line in an area. This will not initially include EPA as they did not seem interested in combining teams but we are working on more collaboration without slowing us down.
- DEQ will have a representative in the UCG starting 2/4/15.
- Discussed with UPS on ways they can assist with Rapid Response Team and filter replacements in the future.
- Additional warehouse will be put in service potentially Saturday. Seventh Day Adventist are potentially going to operate it or help with operations to phase out state agency personnel and make it more community run. The warehouse does include some office space if needed.
- 10 ARC Flint Water Response Teams to the field today.
- Team Priority Visited Today: Apartment List from 2/2/16
- SEOC Logistics worked with MDOC on their assistance with warehouse management and staffing for new warehouse. Reached out to Food Bank on their recommendation and coordination for hours/days of operation of new warehouse.
- SEOC Operations attended a donations management meeting to discuss the need for a consolidated list of donated goods.
- JIC strategized with the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services and Environmental Protection Agency on how to better coordinate public information.

Unified Coordination Group (UCG):

- UCG IAP approved today for the operational period 0800 2/2/16 to 0800 2/4/16.
- The Federal Health Coordinating Officer had a meeting today with Economic Development and Housing and Urban Development.
- EMHSD liaison provided information on Michigan EM structure to Command.

- State JIC manager now in the communication loop for the UCG.
- UCG discussed MARCs and potential implementation.
- Capt. Kelenske met with Don Boyce from US DHHS to discuss concerns with Federal HHS and EPA and how we can move forward with better collaboration and coordination. Boyce also met with Governor's Office staff on same. The meeting went well and a solid relationship is in place with Boyce. He is a direct report to Dr. Lurie and will provide her some context on the issues and how we can move forward. He will be a good POC to assist us with any shifts in direction needed at the federal level.

Local EOC

- Coordinated rapid response deliveries to homebound residents and special locations.
- Working on refining rapid response delivery process.
    - Preparing transition from Team Rubicon personnel to NCCC teams, and eventually Southern Baptist Disaster Relief.
    - Coordinating with ARC for logistics support to NCCC teams (AmeriCorp).
- Working with ARC to ensure resource needs of franchise customers at Sunridge Apartments complex in Flint Township are met.
- Coordinating with MDEQ to streamline test kit assembly process.
- Attended distribution plan meeting with faith-based organizations, state, and local agencies.
- Referring VOADs to appropriate volunteer management agencies.
- Addressing various public concerns, including availability of supplies at child care facilities.

INTERVIEW OPPORUNITY: Spec. Colwell will be available for interviews at Fire Station #1 located at 210 E. 5th St. from 1-4 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 12.

National Guard Soldier Distributing Water Saves Flint Resident's Life

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
February 12, 2016
Release #: 36

FLINT, Mich. –While helping to hand out water to the citizens of Flint, a National Guard soldier helped save a Flint resident's life.

"This is why I joined the military, to help people," said Spec. Charles D. Colwell, a medic with the Headquarters Company of the 125th Infantry Battalion attached to Alpha Company from Detroit, Mich. He is one of 65 soldiers helping distribute water resources after Gov. Rick Snyder activated the National Guard to help with the Flint water emergency.

Because of his actions on Feb. 1, Spec. Colwell is being recommended for the Michigan Lifesaving Medal by his immediate supervisor.

While on duty at Fire Station #1 in downtown Flint, Pfc. Zacharry R. Burrell greeted the resident who was there to return recyclables. Noticing that she was short of breath and struggling for her inhaler, Burrell ascertained the resident was clearly having a medical condition and needed immediate assistance.

"She stood there for a minute and it kind of looked like she was looking for something in her bag and then she bent down and put her hands on her knees and began coughing uncontrollably and I saw she had an inhaler in her hand," said Burrell.

Burrell brought Spec. Colwell out to the woman, who immediately started assessing her condition. She had been walking with some women to the firehouse. They told Colwell the woman had used her inhaler twice and it was nearly empty. He determined she was also suffering from severe bronchitis, so he called 911.

It wasn't until the next day the other soldiers realized how much he had done when she came back to the firehouse to thank Colwell for saving her life.

Colwell who has been a medic with the Michigan National Guard for the last two years is also a trained emergency medical technician on the civilian side in the city of Detroit.

"I do this so much every day and everyone else is kind of blowing it up," explained a humble Colwell, who doesn't understand why the other soldiers he is working with thinks he deserves the Michigan Lifesaving Medal.

"I couldn't be more proud of him," said his squad leader, Sgt. Brandon M. Lewis. "That's why I put him in for the highest award that I could possibly recommend for him for doing that."

Colwell went beyond his normal duties while in Flint and his actions made what could have been a bad situation a positive one.

"If it wasn't for him, one of us might have misjudged the situation and just thought she was sick," said Lewis. "Not only did he immediately seek her out, but he did everything he could to make her comfortable and by the time the EMTs and paramedics got here he already had an assessment to hand over to them so they were a few steps ahead."

The 125th Infantry Battalion includes soldiers from different companies from around the state who have volunteered to assist the citizens of Flint during this time. They are stationed at water resource sites at the five fire stations, handing out water, water filters and water testing kits.

Nate – per your request, and as best as possible within the scope of the Radian6 capabilities, we attempted to answer the question, "What is the public opinion of Flint's recycling program?" I'm happy to be a future resource if needed.

Below is a report showing volume and sentiment over the last 30-days, monitoring 150 million news websites, blogs, discussion forums, social networks and online postings. The data can be used directionally, given the limitations of the tool.

- The big uptick on January 28th is when the Flint Recycling Program was announced via a press conference and press release.

- The public sentiment with the Flint Recycling Program is 27% positive (73% negative). To put that number in context, the sentiment for the Flint water emergency as a whole is 85% negative.

- Some of the popular topics around the Recycling Program include reference to Matt Flechter (Recycling and Composting Coordinator at MDEQ), the recycling hotline phone number, and mention of Young's Environmental Cleanup, Inc (who is assisting the recycling program).

- Below is a sample of verbatims from social media postings, from people that had both positive AND negative things to say about the Recycling Program:

The department has been directed to provide copies of all records in our possession related to the Flint water matter to the Governor's office. You are receiving this email because you have been identified as an individual who may have records that must be produced. If there are any department members who you think may be in possession of records related to Flint water, please forward this message to those members.

Records include memos, handwritten notes, emails and attachments, and text messages in your possession, regardless of who produced the record. Be sure when you search your email messages that you look in your inbox, sent box, and trash. In preparation for the production, you must estimate the number of records you have in your possession and provide that estimate to Ms. Lori Hinkley no later than 2:00 PM on Friday, February 12, 2016.

You must then provide a copy of each record in your possession to the Legislative and Legal Resources Section no later than close of business on Thursday, February 18, 2016.

Members who work at Headquarters must provide paper copies to F/Lt. Chris Hawkins in the Office of the Director. Members who work at the State Secondary Complex must provide a paper copies Ms. Lori Hinkley. Ms. Hinkley is located on the second floor of the new Headquarters building. Department members who work outside of these worksites may send copies of records in their possession via e-mail to MSP-FOIAProject@michigan.gov.

In addition to this initial production of records, the department is required to provide copies of newly created records on an ongoing basis. Until further notice, copies of all newly created records shall be forwarded to MSP-FOIAProject@michigan.gov.

REMINDER: Public records can only be disposed of consistent with an approved retention schedule. As it applies to emails and text messages related to the Flint water matter, please use the retention schedule in place for general correspondence which is two years. Please save all emails and text messages for at least two years. Prior to expiration of the two year period you will have an opportunity to re-evaluate the content of the messages to determine if an additional retention period is necessary. If you have issues with accommodating emails based on your mailbox size, please archive them. Do not print and file them as the metadata must be retained as well.

Hi Team,

Looping back around so you all had the final document of the questions you helped with. Thanks again for all your help as I know this was a tight time frame.

Infographic Information

1. Water Testing – step by step instructions for residents on what to do if your results are under 5, under 15, and over 15.
    a. Residents should continue to use water filters and bottled water unless contacted by a residential response team.

       The new streamlined system of in-home follow-up visits not only allows for faster residential feedback, but also allows for multiple agencies to work with residents in a more coordinated manner.

       http://www.michigan.gov/flintwater/0,6092,7-345--376626--,00.html

    http://www.michigan.gov/flintwater/0,6092,7-345-75251_75315---,00.html

2. Recycling – There is a lot of confusion regarding who can sign up for recycling and where.
    a. Residents with weekly curbside trash collection can call Republic Services at 800-438-0966 to have a curbside recycling bin delivered to their curb. Republic Services provides bi-weekly curbside recycling at no additional cost to residents.

    http://www.michigan.gov/documents/flintwater/SOM_FlintRecyclingInstructions_513838_7.pdf

3. Resources for children. What should people do if they think their child is at risk? What foods are healthy?
    a. If a resident has health concerns they should reach out to their primary care doctor or the Genesee County Health Department at 810.257.3612.
    b. Calcium keeps your bones strong and the lead out! Calcium-rich foods include:
        - Milk and milk products, like cheese and yogurt
        - Green leafy vegetables, such as spinach, kale, and collard greens
        - Calcium-enriched orange juice
        - Tofu
        - Canned salmon and sardines (both with the bones in)

       IRON keeps too much lead from getting into your body. Foods high in iron include:
        - Lean red meats, fish (tuna and salmon) and chicken
        - Green leafy vegetables, such as spinach, kale and collard greens
        - Iron-fortified cereal, bread and pasta
        - Dried fruit
        - Beans

       Vitamin C works with iron to keep too much lead from getting into your body. Good sources of vitamin C include:
        - Citrus fruits, like oranges and grapefruit and their juices
        - Tomatoes and tomato juice
        - Peppers
        - Other fruits like kiwi, strawberries, melons, and potatoes

Gov. Rick Snyder releases departmental emails produced regarding Flint water crisis

LANSING, Mich. - Gov. Rick Snyder's office today posted emails and corresponding documents that have been made available to requesting entities from state departments regarding the Flint water crisis. The documentation represents requests fulfilled to date by the Department of Environmental Quality, Department of Health and Human Services, Department of Treasury, Department of Technology, Management and Budget, and Department of Agriculture and Rural Development regarding Flint water.

"All levels of government failed the people of Flint," Snyder said. "This crisis should never have happened, but we are making progress each day to meet the needs of residents.

"By making the information easily accessible, everyone can review it and take what they need, and then we can all focus and work together on solutions, healing and moving Flint forward."

NOTE: All emails and attachments can be accessed using the below links. Documents are large and will take time to download. Viewing on a mobile device is not recommended.

LEGAL NOTICE

- The release of these documents is not a waiver of any legal privilege. Because of the voluminous nature of these records, some documents that are subject to the attorney-client, attorney work product, and other privileges may have been inadvertently disclosed. Should this posting include such documents, their disclosure here does not constitute a waiver of the privilege.

- Those seeking information as part of a legal proceeding or investigation should not rely solely upon the documents posted here to satisfy their request. Such requests should be directed to the appropriate state custodian.
- The posting of these documents does not, is not intended to, and cannot be relied upon to, create any right or benefit, substantive or procedural, that is enforceable by any external party.

Fellow PIOs,

Thank you for your continued support of the Joint Information Center for the Flint water emergency. As operations enter the next phase of response, we are changing our staffing needs to scale back the number of PIOs needed each day.

Beginning Feb. 16, we will are requesting TWO non-lead agency PIOs each weekday to provide support for the media hotline and news email account, to assist with writing tasks and to help with media monitoring.

I ask that you please see the attached schedule for available spots and respond with staffing considerations by noon on Thursday, Feb. 11.

Hotel rooms can be provided upon request, if needed. Lunch and dinner will be served.

Thank you for your commitment to the Flint JIC.

Flint Water Daily Update
Updated Feb. 10

Current Issues Talking Points

Budget Proposal – Supporting Flint Families

- $195 million of the proposed budget will go toward helping Flint families by funding both short and long-term solutions to the water crisis.

- $37 million to help ensure clean, safe drinking water. This funding will assist with water testing, inspection and replacement of fixtures in schools and daycare facilities, and help the city stay connected to the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department through the end of 2016.
- $15 million to support food and nutrition funding for families and children. This funding will support school meal programs, mobile food banks and food inspections at food establishments in the county.
- $63 million for physical, social and educational well-being. This funding will support families with blood testing, early childhood development programs, educational support and home lead abatement.
- $50 million will be kept on reserve to address the future needs of Flint residents.
- The remaining $30 million pertains to the recent proposal to help the city of Flint assist residents with covering a portion of their water bill.
    - A typical Flint resident's billing statement includes charges for water and sewer.
    - Under the plan, the funding would be made available to cover water used for drinking, cooking and bathing which is approximately 65 percent of the water portion of a residents' water and sewer bill.
    - Residents would still be responsible for the remaining balance of the water portion of a bill accounting for water used in ways that do not qualify as consumption.
    - Residents would be responsible for covering all sewer costs.
    - This $30 million has been approved in the Senate and awaits approval in the house before it goes to the Governor for his signature.

- If fully approved, the $195 million will be in addition to the previous $37.3 million in emergency funding already allocated to the city of Flint, totaling more than $230 million.
- An infographic detailing the above is available here.

Budget Proposal – Statewide Infrastructure

- In his FY 2017 Budget proposal presented today, the Governor called for the creation of a Michigan Infrastructure Fund to support statewide infrastructure needs.
- If approved, there will be a $165 million investment which will be allocated based on projects with the most immediate needs.
- In 2015, Michigan renewed a commitment to fix our roads and bridges, now it's time to focus on the rest of the state's infrastructure.
- Potential projects that could receive a portion of the $165 million include replacement of known high-risk lead and copper service lines, infrastructure upgrades while repairing roads or other utilities, and analysis of statewide infrastructure needs.
- An infographic detailing the above is available here.

Subject: ACTION: Flint JIC Staffing - Deadline: Noon on Thursday, Feb. 11

Fellow PIOs,

Thank you for your continued support of the Joint Information Center for the Flint water emergency. As operations enter the next phase of response, we are changing our staffing needs to scale back the number of PIOs needed each day.

Beginning Feb. 16, we will are requesting TWO non-lead agency PIOs each weekday to provide support for the media hotline and news email account, to assist with writing tasks and to help with media monitoring.

I ask that you please see the attached schedule for available spots and respond with staffing considerations by noon on Thursday, Feb. 11.

Hotel rooms can be provided upon request, if needed. Lunch and dinner will be served.

Thank you for your commitment to the Flint JIC.

Best regards,

Ron

Flint Water Daily Update
Updated Feb. 10

Current Issues Talking Points

Budget Proposal – Supporting Flint Families

- $195 million of the proposed budget will go toward helping Flint families by funding both short and long-term solutions to the water crisis.
    - $37 million to help ensure clean, safe drinking water. This funding will assist with water testing, inspection and replacement of fixtures in schools and daycare facilities, and help the city stay connected to the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department through the end of 2016.
    - $15 million to support food and nutrition funding for families and children. This funding will support school meal programs, mobile food banks and food inspections at food establishments in the county.
    - $63 million for physical, social and educational well-being. This funding will support families with blood testing, early childhood development programs, educational support and home lead abatement.
    - $50 million will be kept on reserve to address the future needs of Flint residents.
    - The remaining $30 million pertains to the recent proposal to help the city of Flint assist residents with covering a portion of their water bill.
        - A typical Flint resident's billing statement includes charges for water and sewer.
        - Under the plan, the funding would be made available to cover water used for drinking, cooking and bathing which is approximately 65 percent of the water portion of a residents' water and sewer bill.

    - Residents would still be responsible for the remaining balance of the water portion of a bill accounting for water used in ways that do not qualify as consumption.
    - Residents would be responsible for covering all sewer costs.
    - This $30 million has been approved in the Senate and awaits approval in the house before it goes to the Governor for his signature.
- If fully approved, the $195 million will be in addition to the previous $37.3 million in emergency funding already allocated to the city of Flint, totaling more than $230 million.
- An infographic detailing the above is available here.

Budget Proposal – Statewide Infrastructure

- In his FY 2017 Budget proposal presented today, the Governor called for the creation of a Michigan Infrastructure Fund to support statewide infrastructure needs.
- If approved, there will be a $165 million investment which will be allocated based on projects with the most immediate needs.
- In 2015, Michigan renewed a commitment to fix our roads and bridges, now it's time to focus on the rest of the state's infrastructure.
- Potential projects that could receive a portion of the $165 million include replacement of known high-risk lead and copper service lines, infrastructure upgrades while repairing roads or other utilities, and analysis of statewide infrastructure needs.
- An infographic detailing the above is available here.

State Launches New Streamlined Services for Residents
New Testing Sites Help Confirm Water Quality

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
February 10, 2016
Release #: 34

FLINT, Mich. – This week the Michigan Departments of Environmental Quality (DEQ) and Health and Human Services (MDHHS) initiated new initiatives to engage residents in a more in-depth level of data collection that will help confirm when Flint's drinking water is safe and provide a more streamlined level of post-testing services for resident health and wellness.

Starting today, 10 Sentinel Site teams consisting of representatives from the DEQ, along with licensed plumbers, will begin to visit 402 identified residential sites across the city to teach homeowners how to test their water in a scientifically accurate manner so they may submit regular samples to the state for testing.

Geographically dispersed across all nine wards, these sites will be established for ongoing lead and copper monitoring and will be resampled periodically to help determine when the drinking water advisory may be discontinued. This testing regimen calls for resampling every two weeks for an additional four, two-week cycle.

"These Sentinel Sites are an important step in helping us achieve a higher level of data analytics on the quality of the water," said Keith Creagh, Director of the DEQ. "The data collected will help us determine when and where corrosion control treatment has been effective."

Also launching today is a more streamlined system of addressing residences that test high for lead or copper in their water. This new process will provide residents with more efficient in-home follow-up for environmental and health wrap-around services.

"As soon as we see that a household's water level tests high for lead or copper, this new automatic protocol kicks in, beginning a series of measures to get people the health-related services they need faster," said Dr. Eden Wells, chief medical executive with the MDHHS. "While many of these residents have had outreach from county and state agencies since last fall, this new system creates a timeline and multi-agency organizational structure so that services can be provided in a more cohesive manner."

The new streamlined system of in-home follow-up visits not only allows for faster residential feedback, but also allows for multiple agencies to work with residents in a more coordinated manner. The process is as follows:

- Daily lab test results are posted publicly online at www.michigan.gov/flintwater
- Test results greater than 150 ppb are emailed to MDHHS
- All test results are emailed to the City of Flint, who then sends them to residents by U.S. Mail
- Within 48 hours, MDHHS coordinates a home health visit through the Genesee County Health Department to any resident whose lead test result was greater than 150 ppb. Home visit includes:
    - Health and wellness information
    - Off-site blood test referral
    - Assists with transportation support for appointments, as necessary
    - Provides additional bottled water, filters and water sample kits
- Within 48 hours, DEQ schedules a home water visit to any resident whose lead test result was greater than 150 ppb (100 ppb or greater, but less than 150 ppb residents are visited within seven days). Home visit includes:
    - Water testing and sampling information
    - Water sample collection
    - Inspection by the Flint Local 370 Plumbers Union (field verification of service line, aerator cleanout, filter check)
    - Provides additional bottled water, filters and water sample kits

Unlike lead, there is a safe level of copper. Everyone comes into contact with it every day and copper is essential for good health, but for homes with elevated copper levels, individuals are being instructed to use bottled water for drinking and cooking.

People's bodies require copper for normal functioning, and at different amounts depending on age, and whether a women is pregnant or breastfeeding. Ingesting high levels of copper can cause nausea, vomiting and diarrhea.

Gov. Snyder thanks Flint residents for progress on establishing 'sentinel sites' to check water

402 households to help determine when city's water is safe to drink

FLINT, Mich. – Gov. Rick Snyder is thanking 402 households from across Flint who will provide water test data to help determine when the city's water is safe to drink.

The "sentinel sites" will be visited by teams made up of Michigan Departments of Environmental Quality employees and licensed plumbers. They'll teach homeowners how to test their water in a scientifically accurate manner and submit samples on a regular basis for the state to test.

"I want to thank the homeowners participating in this sentinel site program," said Gov. Rick Snyder.

"Their diligence in taking scientific samples from their home's water system is crucial in helping us decide the right time to declare when Flint neighborhoods have safe drinking water."

Also launching today is a more streamlined system of addressing homes that test high for lead or copper in their water. This new process will provide residents with more efficient in-home follow-up for environmental and health wrap-around services coordinated by the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services.

"We want to provide the quickest response possible when we see that a home's water tests high for lead or copper," Snyder said. "We've provided outreach in Flint since October and continue to improve our processes for getting residents the help they need. Streamlined coordination of services between the DHHS, DEQ, Genesee County Health Department and the Flint Local 370 Plumbers Union is yet another step in that direction."

Homes with higher lead levels will receive health and wellness information, blood test referrals, transportation to appointments if necessary and additional bottled water, filters and water sample kits. The homes will also be inspected for possible sources of lead in the water.

Additional information about the Flint water emergency is available at www.michigan.gov/flintwater, by calling United Way 211 or visiting www.helpforflint.com.

The city must alter its communications as the public notice must by law be issued by them. We can reflect supplemental communications from the state's end. Who from state is in touch with the city on this issue?

Mitch, Jen, and others,

So, I got what feedback I could and it is essentially what we had briefly discussed.

The standards are based on treating potable water, which is microbiologically safe water, so our certification to the standards would essentially be null and void if there is bacteria in the influent. This is akin to the issue of lead levels being over 150 ppb. The filters used in Flint are not certified to remove microbiological contaminants to drinking water. Residents should boil their filtered water to ensure that their water is microbiologically safe. The, replace the cartridge / filter after the Boil Water Advisory has been lifted.

Hope this gives you what you need. If you need anything else, please let me know.

Subject: SEOC Update 2/9/16 - Flint Water - Limited Distribution

Update 2/9/16 – 36th Day (35th Full Day) After Governor's Declaration of an Emergency

Mission focus for the day:

- Ensure adequate quantities of supplies to support operations.
- Continue door to door/Flint Water Response Teams (FWRTs), ARC only.
  - Shift Water Response Team operations to a targeted effort to provide filters into homes where data shows filters have not been provided and/or visits not made.
- Prepare appeal on denial of Category B under the Presidential Emergency Declaration.
  - Obtain additional information from the City of Flint for Declaration of Emergency appeal.
- Work on plan for Volunteer Expansion (to increase the utilization of the volunteer force to distribute commodities over the longer term), Ongoing Resourcing, and Long Term Recovery - recovery plan/transition of PODs.
  - Includes filter replacement strategies.
- Create better situational awareness between local, state and federal agencies specifically with the UCG.

Status on Governor's request letter to the President:

- Appeal denial received on the Major Disaster Declaration. Nothing more can be done on this.
- Denial of Individual Household Program and Category B under the Emergency Declaration received January 22, 2016. We have 30 days to appeal and EMHSD staff is gathering information for the appeal.

Attached:

- Work on plan for Volunteer Expansion (to increase the utilization of the volunteer force to distribute commodities over the longer term), Ongoing Resourcing, and Long Term Recovery - recovery plan/transition of PODs.
    - Includes filter replacement strategies.
- Submit SBA application – outstanding item is the certification of availability of financial assistance. Priority item for the a.m. so this can get submitted. Press release has been completed.

Status on Governor's request letter to the President:

- Appeal denial received on the Major Disaster Declaration. Nothing more can be done on this.
- Denial of Individual Household Program and Category B under the Emergency Declaration received this date. We have 30 days to appeal and EMHSD staff is gathering information for the appeal.

Attached:

1. Daily Summary of Data, full version and abridged (New reporting format – we will ensure we give liters of water and cases in the future)
2. Residential Water Sampling Results Maps – Lead and Copper
3. SitRep 29

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- 10 American Red Cross Teams scheduled for Thursday, February 4, 2016.

- Will continue to target residences from the Apartment List from 2/2/16

Items to Note

- Paired down the list of parcels not visited from 2400 to 958. Will continue on 2/4/16 to identify any parcels not visited. Some parcels contain multifamily residences and those types of residences are being reviewed and targeted to ensure coverage.
- MDOC is going to look into their job programs for any prisoners begin release back into the Flint area. This will be in conjunction with any other job programs identified. We are working with MTED on solutions.
- DEQ and DHHS will be going to residences with >150 ppb starting tomorrow. They will be checking residences next to the one with the high lead level to see if this is a single residence issue or a bigger issue affecting the block or line in an area. This will not initially include EPA as they did not seem interested in combining teams but we are working on more collaboration without slowing us down.
- DEQ will have a representative in the UCG starting 2/4/15.
- Discussed with UPS on ways they can assist with Rapid Response Team and filter replacements in the future.
- Additional warehouse will be put in service potentially Saturday. Seventh Day Adventist are potentially going to operate it or help with operations to phase out state agency personnel and make it more community run. The warehouse does include some office space if needed.
- 10 ARC Flint Water Response Teams to the field today.
- Team Priority Visited Today: Apartment List from 2/2/16
- SEOC Logistics worked with MDOC on their assistance with warehouse management and staffing for new warehouse. Reached out to Food Bank on their recommendation and coordination for hours/days of operation of new warehouse.
- SEOC Operations attended a donations management meeting to discuss the need for a consolidated list of donated goods.
- JIC strategized with the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services and Environmental Protection Agency on how to better coordinate public information.

- EMHSD liaison provided information on Michigan EM structure to Command.
- State JIC manager now in the communication loop for the UCG.
- UCG discussed MARCs and potential implementation.
- Capt. Kelenske met with Don Boyce from US DHHS to discuss concerns with Federal HHS and EPA and how we can move forward with better collaboration and coordination. Boyce also met with Governor's Office staff on same. The meeting went well and a solid relationship is in place with Boyce. He is a direct report to Dr. Lurie and will provide her some context on the issues and how we can move forward. He will be a good POC to assist us with any shifts in direction needed at the federal level.

Local EOC

- Coordinated rapid response deliveries to homebound residents and special locations.
- Working on refining rapid response delivery process.
    - Preparing transition from Team Rubicon personnel to NCCC teams, and eventually Southern Baptist Disaster Relief.
    - Coordinating with ARC for logistics support to NCCC teams (AmeriCorp).
- Working with ARC to ensure resource needs of franchise customers at Sunridge Apartments complex in Flint Township are met.
- Coordinating with MDEQ to streamline test kit assembly process.

- Attended distribution plan meeting with faith-based organizations, state, and local agencies.
- Referring VOADs to appropriate volunteer management agencies.

Outreach to Flint's Blind Community Helps Ensure Access to Information and Resources

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
February 9, 2016
Release #: 33

Flint, Mich. – The Bureau of Services for Blind Persons (BSBP) is working to ensure Flint's blind community has access to all information and resources related to the Flint water emergency.

"We have made direct contact with all of the bureau's blind clients who live in Flint to ensure they have the resources they need and we will continue to provide assistance to any Flint resident who is blind or visually impaired," said BSBP Director Edward Rodgers.

Bureau staff contacted nearly 40 BSBP clients living in Flint by either home visit or phone to ensure they had access to all health-related water emergency information and to offer assistance in obtaining bottled water, filters, water replacement cartridges and water testing kits.

Information is available in braille by contacting the bureau. Flint residents who are blind or visually impaired and need further assistance or information should contact Sue Luzenski at the BSBP at Luzenskis@michigan.gov or 517-335-4265.

The State of Michigan continues to coordinate response efforts in partnership with the City of Flint, Genesee County and local community organizations. Additional information about water response efforts is available at www.michigan.gov/flintwater, by calling United Way's 211 or visiting www.helpforflint.com.

For more information about the BSBP, visit www.michigan.gov/bsbp or call 1-800-292-4200, TTY 888-864-1212.

American Red Cross and United Way Play Crucial Role Coordinating Volunteer Efforts in Flint

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
February 9, 2016
Release #: 32

FLINT, Mich. – Since early January, over 2,000 volunteers have volunteered their time to assist Flint residents during the water emergency. Volunteers are coordinated through the Volunteer Reception Center, operated jointly by the American Red Cross and United Way of Genesee County. These volunteers have performed numerous tasks throughout the community from delivering water resources door-to-door to assembling water test kits.

"We have had volunteers of all ages from all different backgrounds come forward to help," stated Sarah Lewan, community volunteer manager. "We have processed more than 200 groups of varying sizes, including corporate groups, social groups and concerned citizens."

Volunteers are utilized at a variety of community organizations to provide assistance with water distribution, warehousing, data entry and assembly of water test kits. The volunteers give whatever time they can, whether it is a couple of hours or availability for several days.

There are opportunities for additional groups and individuals to volunteer. To learn more or sign-up to volunteer, visit www.flintvolunteer.com.
The State of Michigan continues to coordinate response efforts in partnership with the City of Flint, Genesee County and local community organizations.

Additional information about water response efforts is available at www.michigan.gov/flintwater, by calling United Way's 211 or visiting www.helpforflint.com.

Fellow PIOs,

The Flint Joint Information Center (JIC) is changing operations and positions as its enters the next phase of Flint water emergency operations. Beginning Feb. 16, we will need TWO non-lead agency PIOs to cover our hotlines, write content and monitor media.

Please see the attached schedule for available spots and respond with staffing considerations by noon on Thursday, Feb. 11. Hotel rooms will be provided upon request. Lunch and dinner will be served.

Thank you for your commitment to the Flint JIC.

SEOC FOIA Print Plan
Tips for Printing

Print Plan – Thru Friday, February 19

- When printing emails/documents, make sure to change your default printer to the following printer:
  - EOC_F1COMM_RI3054 on EOC084M1OAPF502 (located in the Communications Room)
  - Additional helpful hints for each document type below
- SEOC IT staff will set up to "Print to Hold" for each PC in the SEOC.
- Be sure to print/copy all documents Single Sided.
- Advise the SEOC Operations Section Chief prior to printing. Do not interrupt someone else's print job. The SEOC Operations Section Chief will ensure coordinated printing efforts.
- When at the printer, select Print > Select your agency name > Select All > Print.
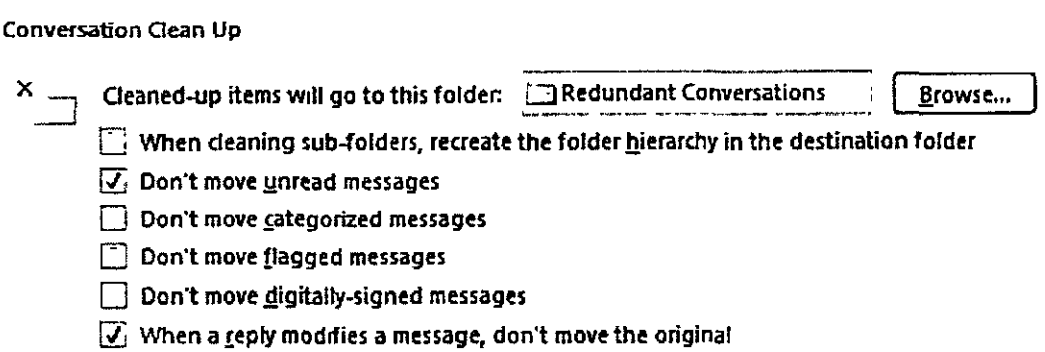
- Test printing a couple of emails before printing out a large quantity.
- Once all items have been printed/copied, give all to Oralya Garza or Jodie Frese (daily staff) located just outside Governor's Conference Room A in the SEOC. Do not go direct to FOIA Unit staff working in the conference room. They will reach out if they have any questions.
- Make sure to clip or rubber band your information to keep separate from others information being turned in.
- Sources: Emails, Documents, S drive, Desktop, Cell phone/text messages, Copies of handwritten notes, DCDS, Invoices, Photos
- SEOC IT Staff will be responsible for printing all documentation from MI CIMS.
- For any IT issues, contact IT Staff in the SEOC. This is usually Jaclyn Barcroft or Rich Law. GIS staff should be contacted only if both of them are unavailable.

How to Recover Deleted Emails

- In Outlook, select the Folder Tab.
- On the top, select Recover Deleted Items.
- Recover any items pertinent to the Flint Water response.
- You may need to select various folders on the left side in order to recover everything possible.

How to Clean up Redundant Email Conversations

- In Outlook, click on the File tab.
- Click Options.
- Click Mail.
- Under the Conversation Clean Up section, change the location where conversations will go. Select Browse. Click on "Cabinet" in the list. Select "New Folder" and name it "Redundant Conversations." Ensure the options are identical to the below:



- In Outlook, on the Home tab, in the Delete group, click Clean Up.
- Select Clean Up Folder. Click Clean Up Folder.

SEOC FOIA Print Plan
Tips for Printing

Tips for Printing Emails

- For State Agency SEOC personnel, only print emails from your SEOC email address.
- Print emails by selecting up to 100 at a time (select one, hold shift, click on the last one).
    - Select the File Tab > Print > Click Print Options button > Select Memo Style and Check Box for "Print Attached Files" (bottom left corner of pop up) > Select Print
- Attachments will not show up in the preview, but will print out with the emails

Tips for Printing Documents from Desktop, S Drive, My Documents (wherever files are saved)

- Make sure documents are formatted correctly for printing prior to moving to the next steps (Excel files tend to be the most troublesome).
- Sort documents in folders by "Type".
- Highlight "like" file types (Adobe Acrobat Document, Microsoft Excel Worksheet, etc.).
- Right click, select Print.

Tips for Printing Text Messages

- Android
- iPhone

Email – After All Your Files are Printed

- Send a CC to the following email address when sending items from the SEOC:
    - MSP-FOIAProject@michigan.gov
    - For State Agency SEOC personnel, only CC emails from your SEOC email address
- Send all documents created to the same email address

Release #: 36

INTERVIEW OPPORUNITY: Spec. Colwell will be available for interviews at Fire Station #1 located at 210 E. 5th St. from 1-4 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 12.

National Guard Soldier Distributing Water Saves Flint Resident's Life

FLINT, Mich. –While helping to hand out water to the citizens of Flint, a National Guard soldier helped save a Flint resident's life.

"This is why I joined the military, to help people," said Spec. Charles D. Colwell, a medic with the Headquarters Company of the 125th Infantry Battalion attached to Alpha Company from Detroit, Mich. He is one of 65 soldiers helping distribute water resources after Gov. Rick Snyder activated the National Guard to help with the Flint water emergency.

Because of his actions on Feb. 1, Spec. Colwell is being recommended for the Michigan Lifesaving Medal by his immediate supervisor.

While on duty at Fire Station #1 in downtown Flint, Pfc. Zacharry R. Burrell greeted the resident who was there to return recyclables. Noticing that she was short of breath and struggling for her inhaler, Burrell ascertained the resident was clearly having a medical condition and needed immediate assistance.

"She stood there for a minute and it kind of looked like she was looking for something in her bag and then she bent down and put her hands on her knees and began coughing uncontrollably and I saw she had an inhaler in her hand," said Burrell.

Burrell brought Spec. Colwell out to the woman, who immediately started assessing her condition. She had been walking with some women to the firehouse. They told Colwell the woman had used her inhaler twice and it was nearly empty. He determined she was also suffering from severe bronchitis, so he called 911.

It wasn't until the next day the other soldiers realized how much he had done when she came back to the firehouse to thank Colwell for saving her life.

Colwell who has been a medic with the Michigan National Guard for the last two years is also a trained emergency medical technician on the civilian side in the city of Detroit.

"I do this so much every day and everyone else is kind of blowing it up," explained a humble Colwell, who doesn't understand why the other soldiers he is working with thinks he deserves the Michigan Lifesaving Medal.

"I couldn't be more proud of him," said his squad leader, Sgt. Brandon M. Lewis. "That's why I put him in for the highest award that I could possibly recommend for him for doing that."

Colwell went beyond his normal duties while in Flint and his actions made what could have been a bad situation a positive one.

"If it wasn't for him, one of us might have misjudged the situation and just thought she was sick," said Lewis. "Not only did he immediately seek her out, but he did everything he could to make her comfortable and by the time the EMTs and paramedics got here he already had an assessment to hand over to them so they were a few steps ahead."

The 125th Infantry Battalion includes soldiers from different companies from around the state who have volunteered to assist the citizens of Flint during this time. They are stationed at water resource sites at the five fire stations, handing out water, water filters and water testing kits.

American Red Cross and United Way Play Crucial Role Coordinating Volunteer Efforts in Flint

FLINT, Mich. – Since early January, over 2,000 volunteers have volunteered their time to assist Flint residents during the water emergency. Volunteers are coordinated through the Volunteer Reception Center, operated jointly by the American Red Cross and United Way of Genesee County. These volunteers have performed numerous tasks throughout the community from delivering water resources door-to-door to assembling water test kits.

"We have had volunteers of all ages from all different backgrounds come forward to help," stated Sarah Lewan, community volunteer manager. "We have processed more than 200 groups of varying sizes, including corporate groups, social groups and concerned citizens."

Volunteers are utilized at a variety of community organizations to provide assistance with water distribution, warehousing, data entry and assembly of water test kits. The volunteers give whatever time they can, whether it is a couple of hours or availability for several days.

There are opportunities for additional groups and individuals to volunteer. To learn more or sign-up to volunteer, visit www.flintvolunteer.com.

The State of Michigan continues to coordinate response efforts in partnership with the City of Flint, Genesee County and local community organizations.

Additional information about water response efforts is available at www.michigan.gov/flintwater, by calling United Way's 211 or visiting www.helpforflint.com.

Outreach to Flint's Blind Community Helps Ensure Access to Information and Resources

Flint, Mich. – The Bureau of Services for Blind Persons (BSBP) is working to ensure Flint's blind community has access to all information and resources related to the Flint water emergency.

"We have made direct contact with all of the bureau's blind clients who live in Flint to ensure they have the resources they need and we will continue to provide assistance to any Flint resident who is blind or visually impaired," said BSBP Director Edward Rodgers.

Bureau staff contacted nearly 40 BSBP clients living in Flint by either home visit or phone to ensure they had access to all health-related water emergency information and to offer assistance in obtaining bottled water, filters, water replacement cartridges and water testing kits.

Information is available in braille by contacting the bureau. Flint residents who are blind or visually impaired and need further assistance or information should contact Sue Luzenski at the BSBP at Luzenskis@michigan.gov or 517-335-4265.

Economic Injury Disaster Loans Available to Small Businesses in Flint, Michigan Due to Contaminated Public Water Supply

WASHINGTON – Low-interest Economic Injury Disaster Loans from the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) are available to Flint, Michigan and surrounding area small businesses, small agricultural cooperatives, small aquaculture businesses and private nonprofit organizations affected by the contaminated public water supply disaster that began on Oct. 1, 2015.

SBA Administrator Maria Contreras-Sweet made the loans available following a disaster declaration request from Gov. Richard D. Snyder on Feb. 4. The declaration covers Genesee County and the adjacent counties of Lapeer, Livingston, Oakland, Saginaw, Shiawassee and Tuscola in Michigan.

"The public water contamination in Flint is a tragedy and a historic health emergency with repercussions that will continue to ripple across the entire community. While the situation continues to unfold, SBA is committed to bolstering the economic livelihood of Flint and surrounding communities by offering low interest working capital loans to the small businessmen and women severely impacted by this disaster," said Administrator Contreras-Sweet.

"The SBA can help affected small businesses and nonprofit organizations overcome their economic losses by offering financial assistance, but the help cannot start until they submit an SBA disaster loan application to us," said Constance P. Logan, SBA's deputy district director in Michigan.

Eligible entities may qualify for loans up to $2 million. The SBA offers economic injury loans to help meet working capital needs caused by the disaster. The rates on these loans are 4 percent for small businesses and 2.625 percent for nonprofit organizations with terms up to 30 years. Eligibility for these working capital loans are based on the size and type of business and its financial resources.

SBA is very pleased for the tremendous support received from Flint / Genesee Regional Chamber and Metro Community Development in establishing the Business Recovery Center at the Oak Business Center in Flint. Our customer service representatives are available at the Center to answer questions about the disaster loan program and help individuals complete their applications.

The Center is located in the following community and is open as indicated:

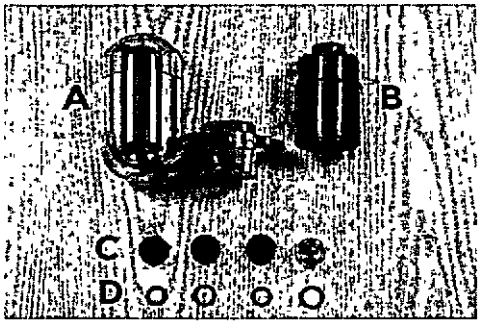
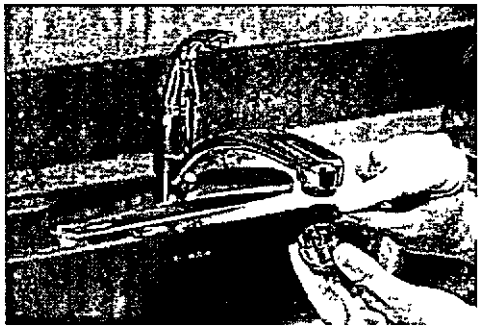
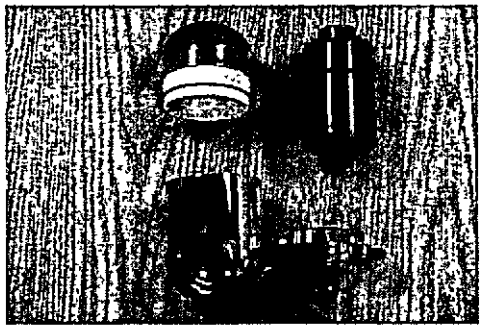
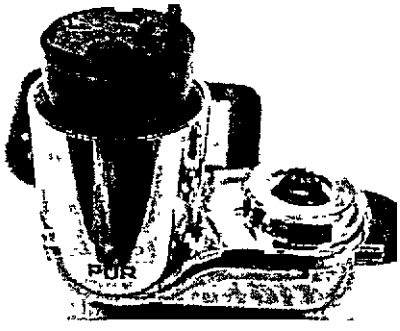
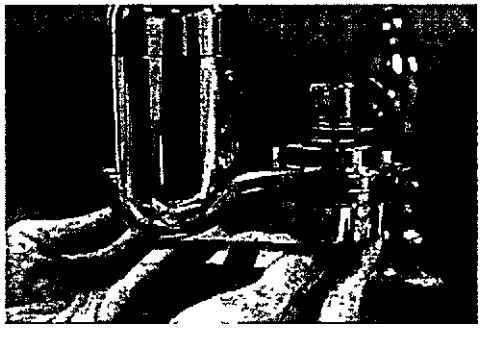
Installing a PUR Filter











WHAT'S IN YOUR BOX

A. Filter Unit
B. Filter Cartridge
C. Adapters (you'll only need one of these)
D. Rubber Gaskets (they match up with the adapters)

ADAPTER INSTALLATION

Every sink faucet has a round tip at the end that can be removed. Unscrew and remove the aerator on your faucet. Try out the different adapters (C) to find the one that best fits your faucet. Once you find the best fit, put the rubber gasket (D) on the adapter and screw the adapter onto your faucet.

FILTER INSTALLATION

Step 1

Unscrew the top of the filter unit (A).

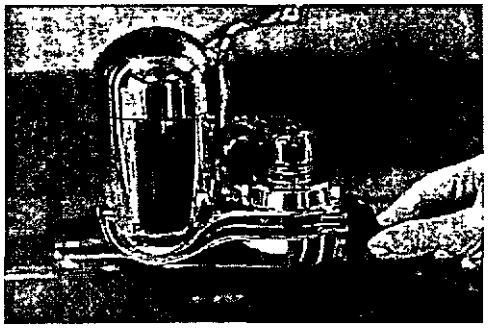
Step 2

Remove your filter cartridge (B) from its plastic wrapping and place the cartridge into the top of the filter unit (A). The 'front' arrow on the filter cartridge should line up with the PUR logo on the front of your filter unit. Screw the top of the filter unit back on.

Step 3

Install the filter unit onto the adapter attached to your faucet by simply pushing it on until you hear a click.

See the next page for information about how to use your new filter.



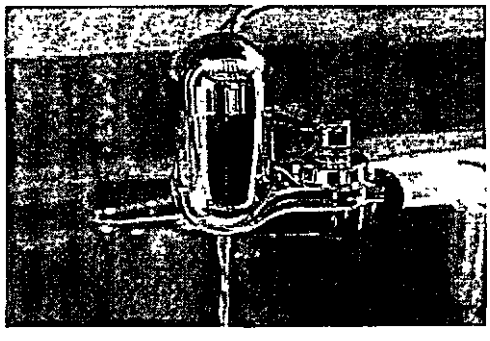
USING YOUR FILTER

There is a black lever on the side of your filter unit. When it is flat, you are NOT using your filter. To use your filter, turn the black lever down and only run COLD water through the filter at all times.

When you use your filter for the first time ONLY, run cold water for five minutes. After that, your filter is ready for use whenever you turn on your faucet.

WHEN SHOULD YOU USE FILTERED OR UNFILTERED WATER?

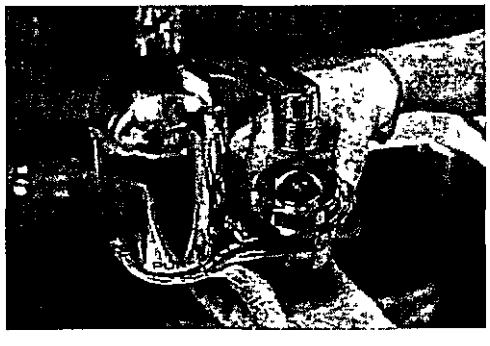
FILTERED WATER - COLD WATER ONLY	UNFILTERED WATER
Drinking (making coffee, juice, baby formula)	Washing your hands
Cooking	Washing dishes, clothes
Washing fruits and vegetables	Mopping floors, cleaning countertops
Brushing kids' teeth	Showers, baths (people and pets)
Pets water bowls	Brushing adults' teeth



CHANGING YOUR FILTER

Each time you use your filter, a light will flash on the front six times.

GREEN - Your filter is working
YELLOW - Your filter is working, but you will need to change it soon.
RED - It is time to change your filter. Revisit step 2 once you have your new filter cartridge.



REMOVING YOUR FILTER

Should you need to remove your filter, there is a quick release option. There are small white buttons on each side of the adapter. Squeeze them in at the same time and the filter unit will come off.

LEAD poisoning

Pregnant Mothers

Lead poisoning is caused by swallowing or breathing lead. Lead can pass from a mother to her unborn baby.

Too much lead in your body can:

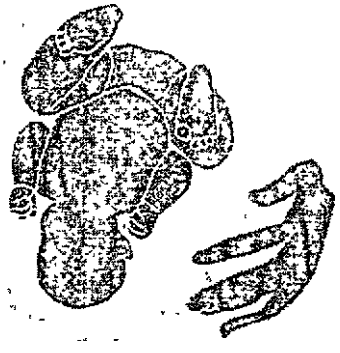
- Put you at risk of miscarriage
- Cause your baby to be born too early or too small
- Hurt your baby's brain, kidneys, and nervous system
- Cause your child to have learning or behavior problems

1. What you can do:

Get your water tested for lead.

- You can't see, smell, or taste lead in water.
- The only way to know what your home's lead levels are is by having your water tested in a lab.

2. Filter your tap water.



Filter your drinking water using a NSF-approved filter. Filters can remove up to 99% of the lead in water when used properly. To be sure your filter is removing as much lead as it can, carefully follow the instructions that came with it.

- Change the filter cartridge as often as necessary.
- Run only cold water through the filter.
- Use filtered water for drinking, cooking, brushing children's teeth and washing fruits and vegetables.

Tip: Bottled water, NSF-approved water filters, and water testing kits are available for free at water resource sites across Flint. Call United Way 2-1-1 for a location near you.

3 Know when to use unfiltered water.

- It's safe to wash dishes, bottles, pacifiers and toys often with unfiltered soapy water as long as you dry fully before use.
- Unfiltered water can still be used to shower and bathe, but be careful to not get water in your child's mouth or let them drink the water in the tub.

4 Eat foods with calcium, iron and vitamin C.

These foods may help protect you and your unborn baby.

- Calcium is in milk, yogurt, cheese, and green leafy vegetables like spinach.
- Iron is in lean red meat, beans, cereals, and spinach.
- Vitamin C is in oranges, green and red peppers, broccoli, tomatoes, and juices.

5 Talk to your doctor.

- Blood lead testing is available. Talk to your doctor or local health department to learn more.

For more information about protecting yourself and your family from lead, visit www.michigan.gov/flintwater.

For more information about lead in your home and what you can do, call the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services at 1-888-322-4453 or visit www.michigan.gov/lead.

Flint residents can call the City of Flint Water Department for a free water test, 810-787-6537, or pick one up at a water resource site.

WHAT'S IN YOUR BOX

A. Filter Base
B. Filter Cartridge
C. Adapters (you may or may not need one of these)
D. Rubber Washers (these match up with the adapters)

ADAPTER INSTALLATION

Every sink faucet has a round tip at the end that can be removed. Unscrew and remove it. If your faucet has threads on the OUTSIDE, you will not need an adapter or rubber washer. If your faucet has threads on the INSIDE, you will need to use one of the adapters (C) and the matching rubber washer (D). Find the adapter that fits your faucet best and screw it on.

FILTER INSTALLATION

Step 1

Place the filter base (A) under your faucet with the cartridge cup to the left of your faucet. Twist the mounting collar onto the faucet and tighten by hand. Do not over tighten or use pliers.

Step 2

Place your hand under the filter base cartridge cup. With the filter cartridge (B), align the pegs on the bottom of the cartridge with the holes in the cartridge cup and push down until you hear a click.

USING YOUR FILTER

There is a white filter handle on the right side of the filter base. Move the handle towards the Brita logo (front of the base) to use the filter. Only run COLD water through the filter at all times.

When you use your filter for the first time ONLY, run cold water for five minutes. After that, your filter is ready for use whenever your turn on your faucet.

FILTER SETTINGS

Filtered Water – Brita water drop in front of the filter base handle
Unfiltered Water Stream – Single water drop in the middle of the filter base handle
Unfiltered Water Spray – Three water drops behind the filter base handle

FILTERED WATER - COLD WATER ONLY	UNFILTERED WATER
Drinking (making coffee, juice, baby formula)	Washing your hands
Cooking	Washing dishes, clothes
Washing fruits and vegetables	Mopping floors, cleaning countertops
Brushing kids' teeth	Showers, baths (people and pets)

CHANGING YOUR FILTER

Each time you use your filter, a light will signal.

GREEN – Your filter is working
YELLOW – Your filter is working, but you will need to change it soon.
RED – It is time to change your filter. Press the filter cartridge release button at the back of the filter cup and pull the cartridge up. Revisit step 2 to place a new cartridge in the filter cup.

REMOVING YOUR FILTER

Should you need to remove your filter unit, simply unscrew the filter mounting collar from the faucet.

FOR MORE INFORMATION

If you live in the City of Flint and need a free water filter or replacement filter cartridge, they are available at one of the water resource sites. If you are unable to visit a water resource site, call 810-257-3600 or United Way 211.

Intoxicación por PLOMO

Madres Embarazadas

El envenenamiento por plomo es causado por respirar o ingerir plomo. El plomo puede transferirse de la madre embarazada al bebé.

Demasiado plomo en su cuerpo puede:

- Crear riesgo de aborto
- Hacer que su bebé nazca demasiado pronto o demasiado pequeño
- Dañar el cerebro, los riñones y el sistema nervioso de su bebé
- Causar que su bebé tenga problemas de aprendizaje o comportamiento

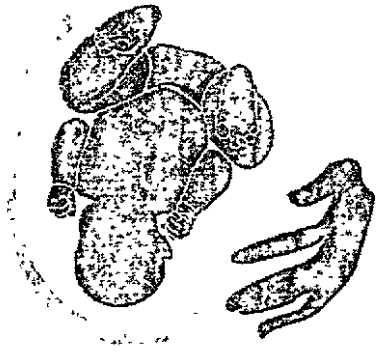
1. Lo que usted puede hacer:

Hacer una prueba de agua para plomo.

- El plomo en el agua no tiene color, olor ni sabor.
- La única manera de saber el nivel de plomo de su hogar es que hagan una prueba de su agua en un laboratorio.

2. Filtre el agua del grifo.

Filtre su agua potable usando un filtro aprobado por la NSF. Los filtros pueden eliminar hasta el 99% del plomo en el agua cuando se usan correctamente. Para asegurarse de que su filtro elimina todo el plomo posible, siga cuidadosamente las instrucciones que vienen con él.



- Cambie el cartucho del filtro tan a menudo como sea necesario.
- Use solamente agua fría con el filtro.
- Use agua filtrada para beber, cocinar, cepillar los dientes de sus hijos y lavar fruta y verdura.

Consejo: Tiene disponibles gratis agua embotellada, filtros aprobados por la NSF y kits de prueba de agua en los lugares de recursos de agua en Flint. Llame a United Way 2-1-1 por un lugar cerca de usted.

3 Sepa cuándo usar agua sin filtrar.

- Es seguro lavar platos, botellas, chupones y juguetes con agua sin filtrar y jabón, siempre que los seque completamente antes de usarlos.
- Se puede usar agua sin filtrar para ducharse y bañarse, pero ponga cuidado en que no entre agua en la boca de los niños y no deje que beban el agua de la tina.

4 Coma alimentos con calcio, hierro y vitamina C.

Estos alimentos pueden ayudar a protegerla a usted y a su bebé.

- El calcio está en la leche, el yogur, el queso y las verduras de hoja verde como la espinaca.
- El hierro está en la carne roja, los frijoles, los cereales y las espinacas.
- La vitamina C está en las naranjas, los pimientos verdes y rojos, el brócoli, los tomates y los jugos.

5 Hable con su doctor.

- Puede conseguir un análisis de plomo en sangre. Hable con su doctor o departamento de salud local para conseguir información.

Para más información sobre protegerse a usted y a su familia contra el plomo, visite www.michigan.gov/flintwater.

Para más información sobre el plomo en su hogar y lo que usted puede hacer, llame al Departamento de Salud y Servicios Humanos de Michigan al 1-888-322-4453 o visite www.michigan.gov/lead.

Los residentes de Flint pueden llamar al Departamento de Agua de Flint para conseguir una prueba de agua gratuita, 810-787-6537, o agarrar una en un lugar de recursos de agua.

Update 2/6/16 – 33rd Day (32nd Full Day) After Governor's Declaration of an Emergency

The link below is a new video published today by 211. This is part of the Rapid Response Teams currently staffed by Team Rubicon.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=P5Orqzc5efg

Mission focus for the day:

- Ensure adequate quantities of supplies to support operations.
- Continue door to door/Flint Water Response Teams (FWRTs), ARC only.
    - Shift Water Response Team operations to a targeted effort to provide filters into homes where data shows filters have not been provided and/or visits not made.
- Prepare appeal on denial of Category B under the Presidential Emergency Declaration.
    - Obtain additional information from the City of Flint and Genesee County for Declaration of Emergency appeal.

- Work on plan for Volunteer Expansion (to increase the utilization of the volunteer force to distribute commodities over the longer term), Ongoing Resourcing, and Long Term Recovery - recovery plan/transition of PODs.
    - Includes filter replacement strategies.
- Soft opening of secondary state warehouse; clean and prep for SBA staff.

Status on Governor's request letter to the President:

- Appeal denial received on the Major Disaster Declaration. Nothing more can be done on this.
- Denial of Individual Household Program and Category B under the Emergency Declaration received this date. We have 30 days to appeal and EMHSD staff is gathering information for the appeal.

Attached:

1. Daily Summary of Data.
2. Sit Rep #32.
3. Maps: Residential Water Sampling Results – Lead and Copper

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- 10 American Red Cross Teams scheduled for Sunday, February 7, 2016.
- MDOC will continue setting up the new warehouse.

Items to Note

- 10 ARC Flint Water Response Teams to the field today. Priority for the weekend is homes that did not have contacts during previous sweeps.
- JIC posted the AIA Flint Safe Water Storage Guideline flyers on MI CIMS under internal documents.
- SEOC Logistics is working to secure space in new warehouse for SBA office, additional information needed from SBA.
- GIS geocoded and cleansed addresses for food establishments in the Flint Metro Area.
- GIS digitized water service lines coded by pressure from paper map onto digital map.
- State VAL is working on the Category B and Individuals and Households appeal.
- MOU with Seventh Day Adventist for donations management currently under review.
- MDARD is planning for additional follow up with food related businesses as water test results come in; new maps with updated information will help with future prioritization.
- MDARD will attend a USDA-Natural Resources Conservation Service press conference to be held on Monday; NRCS will be announcing funds to support community gardens and local foods.
- A team from the CDC arrived yesterday to work with MDHHS Bureau of Epidemiology. Their work began today by beginning to analyze data for the development of long term surveillance strategies that will look to link blood lead level results to specific populations, to include vulnerable and at-risk populations.
- LARA continues to monitor DEQ's test results for Health Care, Child Care, Adult Foster Care, HHS and MDE facilities and Schools.
- Freeman Elementary was tested today (2/6/15) by DEQ/LARA staff members.

Unified Coordination Group (UCG):

Items to Note

- Paired down the list of parcels not visited from 2400 to 958. Will continue on 2/4/16 to identify any parcels not visited. Some parcels contain multifamily residences and those types of residences are being reviewed and targeted to ensure coverage.
- MDOC is going to look into their job programs for any prisoners begin release back into the Flint area. This will be in conjunction with any other job programs identified. We are working with MTED on solutions.
- DEQ and DHHS will be going to residences with >150 ppb starting tomorrow. They will be checking residences next to the one with the high lead level to see if this is a single residence issue or a bigger issue affecting the block or line in an area. This will not initially include EPA as they did not seem interested in combining teams but we are working on more collaboration without slowing us down.
- DEQ will have a representative in the UCG starting 2/4/15.
- Discussed with UPS on ways they can assist with Rapid Response Team and filter replacements in the future.
- Additional warehouse will be put in service potentially Saturday. Seventh Day Adventist are potentially going to operate it or help with operations to phase out state agency personnel and make it more community run. The warehouse does include some office space if needed.
- 10 ARC Flint Water Response Teams to the field today.
- Team Priority Visited Today: Apartment List from 2/2/16
- SEOC Logistics worked with MDOC on their assistance with warehouse management and staffing for new warehouse. Reached out to Food Bank on their recommendation and coordination for hours/days of operation of new warehouse.
- SEOC Operations attended a donations management meeting to discuss the need for a consolidated list of donated goods.
- JIC strategized with the U S. Department of Health and Human Services and Environmental Protection Agency on how to better coordinate public information.

Unified Coordination Group (UCG):

- UCG IAP approved today for the operational period 0800 2/2/16 to 0800 2/4/16.
- The Federal Health Coordinating Officer had a meeting today with Economic Development and Housing and Urban Development.
- EMHSD liaison provided information on Michigan EM structure to Command.

- State JIC manager now in the communication loop for the UCG.
- UCG discussed MARCs and potential implementation.
- Capt. Kelenske met with Don Boyce from US DHHS to discuss concerns with Federal HHS and EPA and how we can move forward with better collaboration and coordination. Boyce also met with Governor's Office staff on same. The meeting went well and a solid relationship is in place with Boyce. He is a direct report to Dr. Lurie and will provide her some context on the issues and how we can move forward. He will be a good POC to assist us with any shifts in direction needed at the federal level.

Local EOC

- Coordinated rapid response deliveries to homebound residents and special locations.
- Working on refining rapid response delivery process.
    - Preparing transition from Team Rubicon personnel to NCCC teams, and eventually Southern Baptist Disaster Relief.
    - Coordinating with ARC for logistics support to NCCC teams (AmeriCorp).
- Working with ARC to ensure resource needs of franchise customers at Sunridge Apartments complex in Flint Township are met.
- Coordinating with MDEQ to streamline test kit assembly process.
- Attended distribution plan meeting with faith-based organizations, state, and local agencies.
- Referring VOADs to appropriate volunteer management agencies.
- Addressing various public concerns, including availability of supplies at child care facilities.

STATE OF MICHIGAN
JOINT INFORMATION CENTER

NEWS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
February 4, 2016
Release #: xx

State Teams Visit Homes with Lead Levels above 150bpp

Flint, Mich. – The State of Michigan is sending health and water teams throughout the city of Flint to all residences where water test results showed lead levels above 150 parts per billion (ppb). Of the 5,590 total samples tested, 47 samples are greater than 150 ppb (0.84 percent).

Because NSF-certified filters are certified for use with water containing lead levels up to 150 ppb, health officials are still advising residents with samples greater than 150 ppb, especially nursing or pregnant mothers and children under six years of age, to take extra precautions and drink only bottled water.

Representatives from the Departments of Environmental Quality (DEQ), Health and Human Services (MDHHS) and other state officials are visiting residences to provide:

- Health and wellness information, recommendations and consultations;
- Plumbing inspection by a licensed plumber;
- Additional bottled water, filters and sample kits.

"All Flint residents need to have the water in their homes tested immediately," said Lt. Governor Brian Calley. "The State of Michigan is directly contacting homes that test above 150 ppb to provide a diverse set of additional assistance and guidance including essential information about blood lead level testing resources."

All children younger than 6 years of age should have their blood lead levels tested by their doctor or receive free testing at the Genesee County Health Department.

Water testing kits, along with bottled water and water filters, are available free of charge at water resource sites throughout the city

State and federal health officials recommend that households with samples higher than 150 ppb use only bottled water for nursing or pregnant mothers and children under 6 years of age. NSF certified filters, available for free and distributed across the city, are for use with water containing lead.

DEQ continues to process water samples of residences The updated number of samples reflects the number of samples taken at residences and is not reflective of the total number of households.

Updated lead test results:

- 4,737 are 5 ppb or less (84.7 percent)
- 5,227 are 15 ppb or less (93.5 percent)
- 362 are greater than 15 ppb (6.5 percent)
- 47 are greater than 150 ppb (0.84 percent)

Updated test results can be found: www.michigan.gov/flintwater.

In addition to water response teams, water resource sites remain open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and are located at:

Fire Station #1 (also a recycling site)
310 East 5th St.

Fire Station #3
1525 Martin Luther King Ave.

Fire Station #5 (also a recycling site)
3402 Western Rd.

Fire Station #6
716 West Pierson Rd.

202 East Atherton Rd.

All water filters distributed by the State of Michigan are certified by NSF International for lead reduction. Individuals wishing to verify that a specific filter is NSF-certified can do so via the NSF website.

The State of Michigan continues to coordinate response efforts in partnership with federal agencies, the city of Flint, Genesee County and local community organizations.

Snyder weighs declaring water emergency in Flint

The Detroit News, January 4, 2016

Gov. Rick Snyder is considering whether to declare an emergency for Flint's contaminated water a week after apologizing to residents for the state's handling of Flint's water crisis.

But Michigan faces hurdles to getting federal relief, including forgiveness for state loans to Flint involving drinking-water infrastructure improvements that are covered by federal rules.

Even before any official declaration can be made, Snyder's office said Monday that state officials "are recognizing this as an emergency and are working with city and county leaders to coordinate efforts, streamline communication and tap all available resources at the state's control."

Board declares state of emergency in Flint water crisis

Detroit Free Press, January 4, 2016

Gov. Rick Snyder is gathering the information needed to formally declare a state of emergency in Flint over the water contamination issue, but in the meantime is "already recognizing this as an emergency," spokesman Dave Murray said Monday.

Murray made his comment after the Flint Journal reported the Genesee County Board of Commissioners declared a state of emergency Monday in Flint.

The board's action follows an emergency declaration by Flint Mayor Karen Weaver, who said she plans to meet this week with Snyder

Specifics of the request are being worked out, but plans call for dealing with causes and effects of lead contamination. It's also part of the process for requesting federal assistance.

Emergency declaration for Flint headed to Gov. Snyder's desk

WJRT-TV 12 in Flint, January 4, 2016

An emergency declaration is heading to the Governor's desk.

The Genesee County Board of Commissioners signed off on the order Monday morning to try to secure federal money for Flint's fight on lead.

By declaring a state of emergency, city and county officials hope to secure federal funding to assist with the water emergency. The number they're asking for right now is $45 million from Washington.

Mother concerned, angry over continuing water crisis

WNEM-TV 5, January 4, 2016

Keri Webber, summed up her feelings in as it relates to the city of Flint and its lead contaminated water: "We're terrified."

The mother of two daughters is fearful of what the future might bring.

"My girls are 15 and 20 and very close to their next birthday. We have no idea what this means long term for the reproduction," Webber said

The emotions this family feels on a daily basis is over flowing

It started when experts discovered high levels of lead in the drinking water flowing from the tap at houses throughout this city. Webber said the added insult is paying for that water.

"Not even offended, I am angry. Our water bill last month was $240 for what?" Webber said.

Webber's youngest daughter is 15. Victoria has had extreme complications due to lead poisoning, while her oldest Stephanie, 20, appears lead free At least for now.

As a mother she wonders what will happen to them in a few years after having consumed lead-laced water?

"I know There aren't words. We have fought for these kids," Webber said. "We didn't have these kids easy, it took us five years, protected them at every turn and handed them poison in a glass."

Flint water customers with overdue water bills, will now get more notice before a shutoff

WJRT-TV 12 in Flint, January 4, 2016

A Genesee County judge has clarified a ruling made last month regarding water shutoff notices for Flint residents.

Circuit Judge Archie Hayman is NOT blocking the city from issuing them for customers delinquent in paying bills since September.

That's when lower water and sewer rates were put into place after his ruling that deemed a 35-percent increase, illegal.

It's all tied to a class-action lawsuit against the city - involving Flint residents who believe they were wrongly over-charged.

Attorney Val Washington, who is representing them in the case, says the Judge is instead, requiring customers be given MORE notice - 90 days - before the city takes action with stopping service.

Notices began going out again last month.

Flint water filter use is low

WJRT-TV 12 in Flint, January 4, 2016

There's disturbing information that three months after a campaign began to make free water filters available to fight lead in Flint, many homes still do not have them.

The Genesee County Health department estimates 40 percent of homes have not yet installed the filters

Dr Mona Hanna-Attisha is the Hurley Medical Center pediatrician who discovered high lead levels in Flint children. She says too many parents are not making the effort to install the filters that can block lead in drinking water.

Hanna-Attisha says last month, all 54 families checked through a health program related to lead said they didn't have water filters in their homes.

We checked with adults picking up students at a Flint elementary school to see if they had filters in their homes.

"We're planning on it today because we just recently got it. The majority of people I know don't have them hooked up. Maybe they're just lazy," said Sameika Clayton.

"Well, I kind of just got mine because everyone was getting theirs in a certain order, or I couldn't really take off from work to go get it, so I just got mine," said Queda Wright.

"I got one just to keep the water pure even though we still drink bottled water," said Lemeer Beli.

You can pick up free water filters and replacement cartridges at two GCCARD offices in Flint and at the DHS offices in downtown Flint.

Work continues on new Michigan water pipeline

Detroit Free Press, January 5, 2016

OREGON TOWNSHIP, Mich. — About 1,200 workers are taking advantage of the relatively mild winter to build the final portion of a new pipeline to bring water from Lake Huron to communities including Flint.

The Flint Journal reports the $285 million Karegnondi Water Authority project is on track.

Crews are burying the 66-inch-diameter pipeline on a path that starts with an intake at Lake Huron. Sections under construction include parts of Sanilac and Lapeer counties. A $71 million water treatment plant is being built in Oregon Township.

Flint switched from Detroit's water system in 2014 to Flint River water in a cost-cutting move ahead of the Karegnondi project's completion. Residents complained about the taste, smell and appearance, and children were found to have elevated blood-lead levels. Flint returned to Detroit's system in October.

Kaffer: State apology, resignation over Flint water first step

Detroit Free Press, January 5, 2016

In the quiet week between Christmas and New Year's Day, Michigan Department of Environmental Quality chief Dan Wyant resigned, followed quickly by department spokesman Brad Wurfel.

And Gov Rick Snyder — finally — apologized for what happened in Flint

For 18 months, Flint residents were exposed to lead-contaminated drinking water, after the city — while under state oversight and with MDEQ approval — began to draw its drinking water from the Flint River. Since the switch, an increasing percentage of Flint kids have elevated blood-lead levels. Lead poisoning causes irreversible behavioral and developmental difficulties.

So this apology, and these resignations, represent a sea change. But it's not enough.

For months, Snyder and his MDEQ attempted to dodge the reality that state policy wrought in the City of Flint. As reports, based not only on data compiled or gathered by outside researchers and journalists but on the state's own information, began to explain what was happening, Snyder's spokespeople and MDEQ officials worked to deflect, discredit and deny.

State employees who intentionally distort data could face jail time under a proposed law

Michigan Radio, January 5, 2016

A state lawmaker wants to make it a felony for state employees to manipulate data in official reports.

State Representative Phil Phelps, D-Flushing, says there's no law on the books to punish state employees who intentionally distort data to change the outcome of an official report.

Critics claim that's what happened with state reports that downplayed problems with Flint's drinking water after the 2014 switch to the city's namesake river. If that's what happened, Phelps says that should be against the law.

"If that was proven to be manipulation of data or removing data that changed the outcome, it could be subject to a five year felony," says Phelps.

Video: New calls for federal probe of Snyder admin in Flint water fiasco

MSNBC (Rachel Maddow Show), January 4, 2016

Bryn Mickle, Flint Journal/MLive editor, talks with Rachel Maddow about why his organization is calling for a federal investigation, including subpoena power, of what the Rick Snyder administration knew, and when, about the problems with lead and the new water supply to Flint.

Data shows even higher lead poisoning in kids in West Michigan than Flint

Fox 17 in Grand Rapids, January 5, 2016

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. – The recent scandal over lead-poisoning in the water in Flint prompted many of our communities to take a closer look at the issue. According to recent data, West Michigan neighborhoods are home to even higher levels of lead poisoning in kids than Flint.

The problem in Flint was so bad it forced the head of Michigan's Department of Environmental Quality to quit last week. Yet as this crisis continues, data shows the problem is broader than the Flint area.

In a recent report, The Center for Michigan, a think tank promoting awareness of public policy issues, cited evidence that among five Grand Rapids' zip codes alone, nearly one in 10 kids tested positive for lead poisoning.

"In Grand Rapids, it's collectively between those zip codes, it's 10 percent," said Paul Haan, executive director with the Healthy Homes Coalition of West Michigan. "We're four times the national level of kids with that low to moderate to even high level of lead poison."

EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT AND HOMELAND SECURITY

Weather spotters serve as eyes and ears for meteorologists

Port Huron Times Herald, January 4, 2016

Stan Arnett has been tracking severe weather for at least three decades.

The 70-year-old Marysville man is one of about 50 trained weather spotters in St Clair County.

Arnett said it was something he started doing through his love of amateur radio.

"A long time ago I was interested in the magic of communicating around the world or even locally on two-way radios," he said.

Now he uses that hobby to talk to people around the world and help meteorologists determine if severe weather warnings need to be issued.

"Any severe weather . . anything that significantly impacts citizenry," is reported, Arnett said. "It's just something I can do."

Rich Poliman, the warning coordination meteorologist at the National Weather Service White Lake office, said about half of the 5,000 spotters in the 17-county region are ham radio operators.

Levees among possible cause of more frequent flooding

Associated Press, January 5, 2016

The Mississippi River floods more often than it used to, and at higher levels. Richard Knaup thinks he knows why.

The veteran emergency management director for southeast Missouri's Cape Girardeau County is fighting floods again, just as he did last year, and the year before that, and the year before that.

"Prior to levee building, the river was a wild thing and it spread out between the river bluffs," Knaup said Monday. "Now we've tried to tame it. Mother Nature and Old Man River will fight back."

Ex-Macomb County PR rep arrested in child porn case

Detroit Free Press, January 4, 2016

A former spokesman for Macomb County government, the Detroit International Bridge Co and Cobo Center who is well-known in metro Detroit public relations and media circles has been arrested on child porn charges by the Macomb County Sheriff's Office.

Philip William Frame, 61, of Shelby Township is charged with five counts of possession of child sexually abusive material, a four-year felony, one count of using a computer to commit a crime, a seven-year crime, and a misdemeanor charge for possessing marijuana, the Sheriff's Office said today.

He was arrested and then released Saturday from the Macomb County Jail after posting a $10,000 cash or surety interim bond. He was formally arraigned today, where the same bond was continued. His next court date is Jan. 19.

Police ask citizens to report unusual activity

Soo Evening News, January 5, 2016

With the country seemingly in a heightened state of alert, Michigan State Police are reminding local residents that they can play a critical role with the newly unveiled "If you see something, say something" campaign.

"Homeland security starts with hometown security and our citizens know their neighborhoods, schools and work places better than anyone," said F/Lt. Joe Shier of the St Ignace Post. "If something appears suspicious or out of place, don't hesitate to report it to law enforcement."

An expert on right-wing terrorism explains the militia movement behind the Oregon takeover

Vox, January 5, 2016

A group of armed activists calling itself Citizens for Constitutional Freedom took over a federal building on the Malheur National Wildlife Refuge near Burns, Oregon, on Saturday, saying they were protesting the tyranny of the federal government.

The militants have called for others throughout the US to come and join their fight. They're tapping into a growing trend: the number of unorganized militias in the US has increased 37 percent in the past year, according to the Southern Poverty Law Center.

Daryl Johnson saw this coming. In 2009, as an analyst at the Department of Homeland Security, Johnson wrote a report arguing that the economic downturn and the election of the first black president could fuel a new wave of anti-government violence from extreme right-wing groups.

His report was later leaked, provoking widespread outrage from conservatives. Johnson left DHS in 2010. But his analysis proved correct. The number of anti-government militias grew ninefold between 2008 and 2011, and after a brief period of decline, is now growing again.

El Nino storms slam drought-parched California

Associated Press, January 5, 2016

A strong storm was forecast for Northern California, prompting officials to issue flash flood watches for several rural areas hit by last year's wildfires.

El Nino storms lined up over the Pacific started soaking California with light rain Monday but a series of stronger systems are expected to arrive starting Tuesday, forecasters said.

The National Weather Service issued a flash-flood watch for Northern California communities affected by several destructive wildfires last summer and fall.

Michigan DNR Marks Busy 2015 With Several Successes

Ammoland, January 5, 2016

When wildfires raged this season in western states – and a Canadian province – the Michigan DNR was quick to put a fireman to work on putting out a hot spot on the Marquette County Road 601 fire. The fireman was among several sent to Manitoba this past summer respond. This year, 54 individuals traveled to hot zones in Alaska, California, Idaho, Manitoba, Montana, Oregon and Washington, taking on 16 different overhead positions from fire-line leadership to command staff and hand crews. There were a total of 58 dispatches (or assignments), each one lasting roughly two weeks.

"Cooperative efforts are key to protecting people, property and resources statewide as well as nationally," said Paul Kollmeyer, DNR resource protection section manager. "We are proud that our firefighters have the necessary skills to assist with emergency situations in other states."

Kollmeyer said that while DNR firefighters are providing assistance out west or in other locations, Michigan remains adequately staffed to handle any fire incident that might start here at home. When sending staff on out-of-state firefighting assignments, the state of Michigan is fully reimbursed for all costs associated with providing that support.

Clare County Crews Work To Repair Gas Line

9 and 10 News, January 5, 2016

Construction crews in the city of Clare hit a gas line while working near an old car dealership.

Clare County's emergency manager says the crew hit a line at an old Ford dealership at the south end of Clare.

The Admiral Gas Station next to the old car dealership was quickly evacuated.

The street was blocked off between McEwan and Clare streets while crews worked to repair the line, but has since been reopened.

We have a crew heading to Clare and will have the latest updates on the gas leak on air and online.

You have heard the news. Even still, watch this video. Just at least the first three minutes. After you start its hard to stop.
Then ask yourself a few questions.
1. Did I vote in last year's Election that got Rick Snyder re-elected?
2. (If No) Do I feel like a complete idiot for not using my valuable vote to keep this guy from destroying the city of Flint as well as the rest of our state?
3. (If Yes) Who did I vote for again?
4 (If Yes, and you voted Snyder) What makes me so dumb? Is it that my parents raised me to vote biasedly on their own views, and I blindly helped elect a scumbag?
5. (If Yes, and you didn't vote Snyder) How could I have helped keep him from being elected in the first place when there are so many biased idiots who's biased political views come from their parents? Why aren't there more citizens voting?

Let me just say that in this new year, 2016, is a Presidential Election year. This issue of Flint's contaminated water supply is a direct result of "you get who you vote for". Gov. Snyder, a republican is where the buck stops. He is the one who appointed the special manger to take over Flint's government from the officials those very people elected. Shame on the republicans! Remember - you get who you vote for!!! Poor Flint!

Flint water crisis emergency declaration heading to Gov. Rick Snyder

MLive, January 4, 2015

The chairman of the Genesee County Board of Commissioners has declared a state of emergency in Flint because of lead in the city's water supply.

Chairman Jamie Curtis, supported by the county board, signed the declaration today, Jan. 4, during a meeting of the commissioners, clearing the way to send the request for help to Gov. Rick Snyder.

City and county officials said the request will amount to more than $50 million, Including money to replace lead service lines and make other infrastructure upgrades but said specifics of the request are still being developed.

"Its a victory, and it's a step in the right direction," said Flint Mayor Karen Weaver, who said she plans to meet with Snyder in iscuss the declaration Thursday, Jan. 7.

Weaver declared that Flint had suffered a man-made disaster because of lead in water last month, the first step in requesting state and federal assistance.

"We're not going to be ignored," Curtis said. "We're going to get the help that these people need."

Detroit Free Press, January 4, 2015

LANSING -- Gov. Rick Snyder is gathering the information needed to formally declare a state of emergency in Flint over the water contamination issue, but in the meantime is "already recognizing this as an emergency," spokesman Dave Murray said Monday.

Murray made his comment after the Flint Journal reported the Genesee County Board of Commissioners declared a state of emergency Monday in Flint.

The board's action follows an emergency declaration by Flint Mayor Karen Weaver, who said she plans to meet this week with Gov. Rick Snyder.

Specifics of the request are being worked out, but plans call for dealing with causes and effects of lead contamination. It's also part of the process for requesting federal assistance.

Flint switched from Detroit's water system last year to Flint River water in a cost-cutting move. Residents complained about the taste, smell and appearance, and children were found to have elevated blood-lead levels. Flint returned to Detroit's system in October.

Last week, Department of Environmental Quality Director Dan Wyant resigned over the issue, as did his communications director, Brad Wurfel.

"The health and welfare of Flint residents is a top priority, and we're committed to working closely with Mayor Weaver and the Genesee County Commission on a coordinated response to health and infrastructure issues," Murray said Monday in an e-mail to the Free Press.

The Michigan State Police's Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division is working with the Genesee County Emergency Management Coordinator to gather information about the resources needed for a governor's declaration of an emergency, Murray said.

"The State Police have been closely engaged in the situation since the beginning, meeting with both county and city leaders to guide them through state and federal laws regarding the emergency management process," he said.

"Due to the uniqueness of this situation, we have to look at all possible options to help Flint residents. But prior to a formal declaration, we are recognizing this as an emergency and are working with city and county leaders to coordinate efforts, streamline communication and tap all available resources at the state's control."

Plans move forward to seek more help for Flint water system

Associated Press, January 4, 2015

Plans are moving forward to seek more help handling problems with Flint's water system.

The Flint Journal reports (http://bit.ly/1Pb62V5) Genesee County board Chairman Jamie Curtis, supported by the board, declared a state of emergency Monday in Flint.

It follows an emergency declaration by Flint Mayor Karen Weaver, who says she plans to meet this week with Gov. Rick Snyder.

Specifics of the funding request are being worked out, but plans call for dealing with causes and effects of lead contamination. It's also part of the process for requesting federal assistance.

Flint switched from Detroit's water system last year to Flint River water in a cost-cutting move. Residents complained about the taste, smell and appearance, and children were found to have elevated blood-lead levels. Flint returned to Detroit's system in October.

County OKs Flint's state of emergency declaration

Michigan Radio, January 4, 2016

Flint's state of emergency declaration is on its way to the governor's office.

The Genesee County Commission approved the declaration for the city of Flint Monday.

The declaration is tied to elevated lead levels in the city's drinking water.

The city's action plan calls for $45 million to replace 15,000 lead transmission lines that connect Flint homes to the city's water system. It also asks for $6 million to help Flint connect to a new pipeline under construction from Lake Huron.

Commission chairman Jamie Curtis says his county's needs will not be ignored.

"This is a state man-made disaster," says Curtis., "And we're going to put together a comprehensive plan and we're going to ask the state to fix their disaster."

In April, 2014, the city switched from Detroit to the Flint River as the source of its tap water. But city and state officials failed to address of the corrosiveness of the river water. Researchers say the river water damaged water pipes, and the pipes eventually leeched high levels of lead into the drinking water. The city switched back to Detroit water last fall.

However, health officials say the threat of lead exposure persists.

"Lead should never be in the body of a child," Dr. Mona Hanna-Attisha told county commissioners today. She recently published a study in a national medical journal showing childrens' blood lead levels in some Flint neighborhoods have tripled.

Health officials fear the lead problem will continue for years to come.

"It's going to be pure hell," is how County Commissioner Brenda Clark describes the effect on Flint schools, when infants who consumed formula made with lead-tainted water start kindergarten in a few years.

But coming up with a specific number for how much is needed to cover the health care costs is problematic.

Mayor Karen Weaver says that's why they've drafted a "fluid" plan to address the issue as more information is gathered

Weaver is scheduled to sit down with Gov. Snyder on Thursday. It will be up to the governor to decide whether Flint's water problems can be submitted to the Obama administration for a federal disaster declaration.

Weaver plans to travel to Washington later this month to meet with federal officials.

State Rep. Sheldon Neeley calls out, on governor for help over Flint water

MLive, January 3, 2016

FLINT TWP, MI -- A booming rendition of the spiritual hymn "Wade in the Water" set the tone Sunday morning for what was to come during a service at the Unitarian Universalist Congregation of Flint.

The service included guest speaker Sheldon Neeley, the 34th District state House Representative from Flint, who took a hard stance against Gov. Rick Snyder and what he felt was the emergency manager's role over the water issue in Flint.

"Governor Snyder provided an apology," said Neeley to around 50 people seated in the audience. "Thank you for those words, Governor, but an apology is worthless unless your actions follow."

Neeley said the water issues stemmed from an emergency manager in place at the city.

County commissioners to take up Flint water action plan

Michigan Radio, January 3, 2016

Flint's plan to recover from its drinking water problems goes to the Genesee County commission Monday morning

The city's use of the Flint River for its drinking water damaged the city's pipes, and exposed thousands of people to high levels of lead. The city switched back to Detroit water last Fall. But city residents are still being told to use water filters.

Mayor Karen Weaver is asking the county commission to give its OK to Flint's plan to fix the problem.

Open Letter to Gov. Rick Snyder: Too Late to Apologize About Flint's Water Crisis

Governor Rick Snyder, the answer is a resounding no. No, Flint Residents should not accept your "apology" nor should they --- as YOU continued structure that allowed for repeated lies about safety of the water

Lead Poisoning In Michigan Highlights Aging Water Systems Nationwide

WBEZ-FM 91.5 (Chicago), January 4, 2016

Gov. Rick Snyder of Michigan apologized this week for how the water crisis in Flint has been handled. Residents there were exposed water with high levels of lead for months after the city switched water suppliers. The city has since switched back to the Detroit water system.

Snyder also said the state has to learn from Flint, as many other cities in Michigan also have an aging infrastructure.

Robert Puentes, director of the Metropolitan Infrastructure Initiative at the Brookings Institution, tells NPR's Scott Simon that the problem of aging water systems plagues many suburbs and smaller cities in the United States.

Editorial: Poisoned children are an outrage in Michigan – but not New Jersey?

Star-Ledger (Newark, New Jersey), January 3, 2016

Imagine if thousands of children were being poisoned, in many cases causing permanent brain damage Parents would be in a state of panic. The headline would be stripped across every news channel.

That's what's happening in Michigan The mayor of Flint has declared a state of emergency to address lead poisoning in the city's water supply. The proportion of children with elevated lead in their blood has nearly doubled, putting them at risk of irreversible cognitive damage. Two top officials have resigned Now, the governor is apologizing.

Except that thousands of children are being poisoned in New Jersey, too, and there is no public outcry. Thousands more will fall victim next year, and we'll hear hardly a peep about it. Worst of all, our public officials saw all this coming, and could have saved many of these children. But they didn't, because it wasn't a priority

Sorry kids, but you're going to have to live with brain damage, because Chris Christie and his predecessors had budget gaps to fill.

March aims to shut down Michigan Avenue in Dearborn

Detroit Free Press, January 1, 2016

Civil rights groups are planning to march and shut down a stretch of Michigan Avenue Monday night to demand justice in the December fatal shooting of an unarmed Detroit man by a Dearborn police officer.

The march will begin at 6:30 p.m. at Michigan Avenue and Greenfield in the Kroger parking lot in Dearborn and continue a few blocks to the Dearborn Police Department, organizers said. The event is being organized by the National Action Network. Community organizations such as Take On Hate and Black Lives Matter are planning to participate.

Kevin Matthews, a 35-year-old Detroit resident, was shot multiple times Dec. 23 on Detroit's west side by a Dearborn police officer following a foot chase. The shooting is being investigated by Detroit police, who did not immediately return a call for comment Sunday.

New rules to improve emergency response time

Hillsdale Daily News, January 1, 2016

HILLSDALE — The Michigan State Police have enacted new rules that require all Multi-Line Telephone Systems (MLTS) or Private Branch Exchange (PBX) phones systems in Michigan to provide accurate locations for phones when a user dials 911

The rules went into effect on Dec 31, 2015

"(The Michigan State police) have been pushing for that for a long time," Doug Sanford, emergency management director and Hillsdale 911 director, said.

Sanford said that the location of the 911 caller is vital for a quick response

Sanilac putting $900K into emergency center

Port Huron Time-Herald, January 3, 2106

Sanilac County could invest nearly $1 million to renovate a 9,840-square-foot building in Sandusky to relocate multiple departments to a space officials say better suits their needs.

Administrator Kathy Dorman said departments including buildings and grounds and Central Dispatch have run into space issues, making the move priority for the county.

The exterior of the county-owned building at 95 Dawson St. — that officials have pegged its new Emergency Operations and Training Center — will remain largely as is, but Dorman said its interior will receive "quite extensive" remodeling.

She said that includes removing or rearranging walls and installing a new roof, heating and cooling system and security system.

Illinois, Missouri assess damage, cleanup after flooding

Associated Press, January 4, 2015

KINCAID, Ill. (AP) - Sharon Stivers mustered a smile as a visitor walked into her muddy yard.

"Welcome to my flood sale," Stivers joked, nodding to a tall stack of water-soaked furniture, appliances and belongings pulled from her home and piled high by the road in the flat central Illinois town of Kincaid. "You can have the whole thing for 50 cents."

The Mississippi River and most other waterways in Missouri and Illinois flooded last week after 10-14 inches of rain fell over a wide swath of the two states. The water receded in most places Sunday but continued to rise in a few. Cleanup and damage assessment was only beginning, and could take weeks.

Twenty-five deaths in the two states were blamed on flooding, nearly all of them the result of vehicles driving over flooded roadways. The death toll rose Sunday when the body of a second teenager missing for several days was found near Kincaid, a town of about 1,400 residents along the South Fork Sangamon River near Springfield.

The Mississippi River was receding except in the far southern tip of both states. After that, flooding is expected to worsen in Arkansas, Kentucky, Tennessee and other southern states, though the breadth of the flooding there isn't expected to match what happened in Missouri and Illinois.

Oregon militia standoff: Ranchers due at prison and what else to expect Monday

Oregon Live, January 4, 2015

The two father and son ranchers who triggered a national cry for justice over their convictions for arson were expected today to surrender themselves to federal prison, ending efforts of militants and fellow ranchers to spare them

A family friend who asked not to be publicly identified told The Oregonian/OregonLive that Dwight Hammond Jr., 73, and Steven Hammond, 46, left Harney County over the weekend to report. He said they were traveling to California.

Their surrender closes one chapter of a controversial case that has spun into a national drama.

They leave behind a community reeling from the occupation of the Malheur National Wildlife Refuge, a sweeping reserve southeast of Burns Militants, including the three sons of Nevada rancher Cliven Bundy, took over the empty headquarters compound on Saturday, insisting they will stay until federal land is returned to private ownership

Governor Snyder needs to issue this emergency declaration. An Executive branch of government's declaration of an "emergency" sends a strong message. Flint is in a state of emergency, children are suffering and all the resources available must be deployed to insure the immediate and ongoing safety of this community's children. Not declaring an emergency at this point would be a purely political move.

Received, subject to the transportation Contract or rate agreement in effect between Shipper and Contract Carrier (the word Contract Carrier being understood through this bill of lading as meaning the motor carrier, forwarder, broker, another intermediary, that has obligated itself to transport the freight from origin to destination) on the date of issue of this bill of lading, the property described below in apparent good order and condition, except as noted. This bill is a receipt for goods (i.e. not of itself a contract of carriage). It is mutually agreed between Shipper and Contract Carrier as well as any person or company otherwise authorized to be in possession of the property during transportation that the services to be performed will be subject to all of the terms and conditions contained in the Transportation Contract or rate agreement, and no other document. The Contract Carrier agrees to this for itself and its subcontractors, agents and assigns. The weights are certified by the Shipper to be true and accurate.

The carrier shall not make delivery of this shipment without payment of all charges.

Customer's signature evidences receipt of all items listed and its promise to pay the amount due to GFS. Customer agrees that if a check, draft or any other order of payment (each, a "Transaction") issued for payment of this invoice is dishonored, GFS may re-present the Transaction and issue a draft against the account upon which the Transaction is drawn for a fee up to the maximum permitted by law. All unpaid invoices are subject to a time price differential of 1 1/2% per month on the unpaid balance after the due date. ~ The perishable agricultural commodities shown on this invoice are sold subject to the statutory trust authorized by section 5(c) of the Perishable Agricultural Commodities Act, 1930 (7 U.S.C. 499e(c)). The seller of these commodities retains a trust claim over these commodities, all inventories of food or other products derived from these commodities and any receivable or proceeds from the sale of these commodities until full payment is received. ~ Marine Stewardship Council : MSC-C-53810

Team Assignment – Target Areas

Team Priority – MSHDA Housing/Apartment List
Priority – City Sections 5, 12, 27, 29, 30
Secondary – City Sections 15, 18, 31

Map Support

Maps will be provided daily to provide detailed information on city sections. Teams will target specific homes not originally reached during the first two rounds of canvassing.

Sample Script for Team Members:

We're here to make sure you have all the resources you need. We have bottled water, a faucet and replacement filter, and a water test kit. Your water sample will assist in monitoring the lead and copper in the water system. Make sure to submit the water sample. The instructions are included here with the bottle, but make sure to submit within 14 days. If you need assistance or have other questions, you can call 211.

Execution Support:

Product Replenishment Process:

Team	Replenishment Trigger	Replenishment Location	Process
ARC	0 Distribution Kits Remaining	Clio Warehouse	Replenish ERV at warehouse

Warehouse

Tactics:

1. Load a minimum of 2 trucks in preparation for replenishment requests with product loads corresponding to Team Typing Matrix.

Lunch

Lunch will be provided by the ARC.

Reporting:

Tactics:

1. All WRTs will utilize iPads as the primary reporting method and the WRT Distribution Tracking Tool as a secondary method if iPads fail.

In an effort to not leave any individual with numerous questions to answer, I attempted to answer what I could based on the information provided. My responses are in red below, some of the other information is harder to determine. I explained to this reporter over the phone that based on the complexity of her questions, a response could not be expected until tomorrow at the earliest.

Subject: Qs for donations overview article: current total of donations, etc

Hello --

I'm working on an article about the current state of donations so far for Flint.

- My most important question is the the current total of water donated so far -- I spoke with a rep at JIC who said the logistics team could possible get that figure sometime tomorrow morning. If it will take longer than that, please let me know.
dd

- Does that total donation include all of the donations that have been announced? Or, in cases of large donations like Walmart's, does it only include what has physically arrived?
dd

- I would ideally like to know the amount of water that has been donated in gallons, though I recognize that might not be possible. But if the quantity is measured in cases: do the sizes of cases both in terms of numbers of bottles and the bottles themselves, vary, or is there is some standard being used or most commonly donated?
dd

- How much water has been distributed so far?
This changes daily, at last count:
234,490 cases of water
100,593 water filters
32,093 water testing kits

Further questions about donations:

- Is there any determination of how much water would need to be donated before water donations were no longer needed?
dd

- Is there an estimate of how much water is needed citywide on a day or week basis?
dd

- Are water storage sites at all close to capacity, or is there any estimation of when they would be?
Storage capacity is managed daily, currently the state is working to secure additional storage sites, as we know we will need to continue making these resources available to residents. Donation protocol has been established to help better route donations to the appropriate storage spot, this includes the amount being donated, the manner it which it is packaged, etc.

- Is the capacity (in terms of staff and volunteer manpower, etc) to distribute water matching, outpacing, or lagging donations?
Currently donations and volunteers are at adequate levels and the state will continue to monitor both components to ensure residents can continue to receive the resources they need efficiently.

- If a person is looking to donate to help Flint, is there any reason they should reconsider sending water? Are there more effective ways to help?
The city of Flint and its residents are appreciate of donation regardless of the form in which they come. We encourage those wishing to donate to review the different options on our website, http://www.helpforflint.com/

Where are the current gaps in philanthropic support for the Flint crisis -- where are there unmet needs?
At this time it is difficult to determine unmet needs, multiple departments as well as private volunteer organizations are working around the clock to determine the severity of the water issue while also providing the residents with the resources they need.

Effective this current pay period, for any REGULAR AND OVERTIME hours worked on the Flint Water Emergency, please use Index 28900 and PCA 28670 and on the activity tab enter hours for the activity FNTWTR. This will help us to report more consistently with other state agencies and assist the State Budget Office with their tracking.

I know it adds a little extra time when inputting your time, but we really need to monitor time as accurately as possible. If you have problems with DCDS, please contact Nancy and she can walk you through the process.

Thanks so much. Appreciate your efforts.

Good afternoon,

Attached is the SEOC staffing schedule for next week, February 22-28.

Again, if you cannot work a shift you have been assigned, it is your responsibility to work with your team and the Logistics Section Chief in advance to determine a replacement.

NOTE: I am sending this to the entire division recognizing that a few of you will not be reflected on this list. Please find your usual position to determine if you are scheduled for next week.

Thank you,
Wendy

Hi Carol,
Apologies for the tardy reply! I think this would be a great opportunity. Having taught it once (and received excellent coaching and feedback from Dianne et al), I'd be very excited to teach again. And as a part of my day-to-day duties, I try to encourage, facilitate, and assist with local pre-disaster recovery plans – so getting in front of the local leaders who might be making those plans would be a great thing! If you'd like to talk more about this, just let me know.
And Dianne, thanks for the intro!

Hi Carol,

Good talking with you. I wanted to introduce you to Kehla, who taught the course with me in Ohio last September. As discussed, it would be a perfect opportunity to offer this 2.5 day course in Michigan sometime in March.

If the materials are not on the G website soon, I will be happy to provide you with them for this offering. Just let me k now.

Kehla, I know you and I had talked about having such an offering. Carol, as the Michigan State Training Officer, is the perfect person to work with on making this a reality. She already has other potential instructors in mind. Her number is 517-648-8598 if you would like to get in touch.

REGIONAL WEATHER & IMPACTS

Wind advisory Friday for central Indiana
(WTHR)
Indianapolis, IN: It's no surprise to see Central Indiana and the Indianapolis metro area placed in a Wind Advisory from 7am to 7pm Friday. We've been advertising a windy day and we're still expecting wind gusts to peak in the 45 to near 50mph range. Please use caution if driving a high-profile vehicle and take note your garbage can may not be where you left it. That wind comes from a warm direction and delivers the unseasonably mild air you see out in the Central Plains. While we won't hit 70 degrees, temperatures should hit 60 degrees or higher for the first time since February 3rd. Saturday still looks like the pick-of-the-week with equally warm highs in the low to mid 60s with much less wind. Model guidance continues to hint an area of showers to move across parts of the area during the first part of Sunday. The rain chance combined with the passage of a cool front warrants much lower highs Sunday in the low to mid 50s. Seasonably cool air awaits us next week with highs near 40 and lows eventually dropping back into the 20s.

PUBLIC HEALTH & SAFETY

City crews to deliver bottled water to some Detroit residents after water main break
(Associated Press)
Detroit, MI: Bottled water will be delivered to some residents in a southwest Detroit neighborhood following a water main break that has flooded several streets. City officials say Thursday that the 30-inch main broke about 10 p.m. Wednesday on Buchanan Street. About 40 homes have been left without water. Great Lakes Water Authority and Detroit Water and Sewerage Department crews have isolated the break which is expected to be repaired as early as Friday morning. Officials say it could take several days before the repaired line is flushed and treated and the water is deemed safe for the public to use. A water quality test will be done before service is restored.

Elevated lead levels found at Howell's Northwest Elementary School
(WXYZ)
Detroit, MI: The Howell school district says they have received test results that show elevated lead levels in an elementary school. The test results are from Northwest Elementary School. Test results at Southeast, Southwest and Challenger elementary schools all came back within safe limits. Test results from 7 other buildings remain outstanding. They are expected to have results on those facilities soon. Because of the elevated results, the district is placing portable water coolers at Northwest. A second round of tests has also been ordered and will be conducted on Friday, February 19. "We are taking the elevated levels at Northwest very seriously. We will be conducting a second more extensive round of testing with representatives from the City of Howell and their experts and have asked that the test results be expedited. The second round of testing will either verify the test results or disprove them," said Howel Public Schools Superintendent Erin MacGregor in a news release. "If the second round of testing shows that we do indeed have elevated levels, we will immediately begin working to identify and correct the problem. The water coolers will remain in place until we receive test results that are within safe levels." A letter has been sent to all Howell parents about the testing, which was put in place because of the news surrounding the Flint water crisis.

US ends enhanced airport screening for Ebola

(Associated Foreign Press)
National: The United States announced Thursday it will end enhanced screening of passengers for potential Ebola virus infection from West Africa after an epidemic that killed more than 11,000 people. On Friday, Guinea will be removed "from the list of nations affected by Ebola for which travelers are subject to enhanced US visa and port-of-entry screening," said the US Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. "Guinea will be the last of the affected countries in West Africa to be removed from enhanced entry screening measures." The change means that travelers from Guinea -- as well as Liberia and Sierra Leone -- will be able to enter the United States through any available port of entry, instead of being routed to one of five specially selected airports. "Travelers departing Guinea will remain subject to outbound screening measures, and the United States will continue to support Guinea's Ebola prevention and detection measures, including at its primary international airport in Conakry," said the CDC. "Travelers from Guinea, Liberia, and Sierra Leone are still encouraged to watch their health for 21 days after leaving one of these countries and to contact their local health departments or seek healthcare if they develop symptoms consistent with Ebola." Guinea was declared free of Ebola by the World Health Organization on December 29, 2015.

Mumps case confirmed at IUPUI
(WRTV)
Indianapolis, IN: A case of the mumps has been confirmed on the IUPUI campus. According to a letter sent to students and faculty, IUPUI has been working closely with the Marion County Health Department and the student to identify and notify anyone with whom the student may have been in close contact with. The letter says if a person has not been contacted, there is no medical reason to believe they are at risk for potential exposure. In the past few weeks, students have also tested positive for mumps at Butler and IU Bloomington.

Middletown chemical leak detained, investigation underway
(WLWT)
Middletown, OH: Middletown police said a chemical leak at Pilot Chemical has been contained and the shelter in place has been lifted. Pilot Chemical, located at 3436 Yankee Road, called in a sulfur trioxide leak at 11:12 a.m. on Thursday, Middletown Fire Chief Paul Lolli said. Lolli described SO3 as a "corrosive and toxic chemical" and said, "If it gets onto skin, it could cause some serious medical problems." The facility said a truck was transporting 3,500-4,000 gallons of the liquid when an unknown amount leaked out. According to Lolli, the liquid, which turns to gas when it exits the tank, created a small plume prompting the department to issue a shelter in place for nearby residents. Amanda Elementary School, located 1 mile from the facility, was told by the fire department to have staff and children stay in place. Parents were told they could pick up their kids. Concerned parents rushed to the school to make sure their children were safe. Some parents were frantic after they heard about the spill. They didn't want to take any chances and decided to pull their children out of school.

EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT

GPS allows for better, faster tsunami warnings
(HSNW)
National: Existing GPS instruments at monitoring stations worldwide could be used to increase the speed and accuracy of tsunami warnings, according to a new study published in Geophysical Research Letters, a journal of the American Geophysical Union. Real-time Global Positioning System (GPS) measurements can be used to show how major earthquakes displace the ocean floor, cutting tsunami warning times by nearly twenty minutes and potentially reducing harm to coastal communities, according to the study's authors. The AGU reports that current tsunami warning systems use seismometers, instruments that measure how the earth shakes during an earthquake, to pinpoint the epicenter, magnitude, and depth of an earthquake. Since the strength of a tsunami is not always directly related to the magnitude of the quake producing it, the additional information that real-time GPS data can quickly and accurately provide on the earthquake's source is important. As an earthquake increases in size, above 7.5 to 8 MW, its recorded magnitude becomes less reliable: seismometers closest to high-magnitude quakes often inaccurately record their size. Generating an accurate tsunami warning requires that warning agencies wait for the earthquake's energy waves to reach earthquake monitoring stations farther away to generate an accurate model of the earthquake and resulting tsunami: a delay of up to 20 to 30 minutes after the first record of the earthquake, Melgar said.

Flint is poised to receive more state and federal assistance to deal with its lead-contaminated water crisis
(Associated Press)
Lansing, MI: State and federal officials acted to send more help to Flint to deal with its lead-contamination crisis, as the Michigan House approved $30 million on Thursday to help pay residents' water bills and Gov. Rick Snyder announced a $2 million grant to help the city replace some of its pipes. The federal government is giving $500,000 to two health centers that are treating and testing Flint residents exposed to the lead-tainted water. That aid comes as a new congressional report by the nonpartisan Congressional Research Service said the Environmental Protection Agency waited too long to take enforcement action after learning of elevated lead levels in Flint's tap water. The EPA says it urged a quicker state and local response. Snyder, who has apologized for his administration's role in the lead contamination, credited lawmakers for working to get funding to the city quickly. Snyder also announced that the $2 million to help Flint replace some of its lead pipes should happen within the next 30 days. The governor said the pipe project will start with priority lead lines, with the help of estimates from the Lansing Board of Water and Light, which has replaced much of Lansing's lead piping in the past. The new funding would pay for pipe replacement in several hundred homes, but the Flint City Council and the city's chief financial officer still have to take action to receive the grant funding.

Michigan House committee OKs $30M to cover Flint water bills
(AP)

Michigan: A Michigan legislative committee has approved spending $30 million to help cover the water bills of Flint residents confronting a lead-contaminated supply. The budget legislation unanimously OK'd Wednesday moves to the full House for consideration, possibly later in the day. It won approval from the Senate nearly two weeks ago. The bill backed by Republican Gov. Rick Snyder would cover about two-thirds of the water portion of people's water/sewer bills, dating back nearly two years. Republicans blocked Democrats' attempt to spend $60 million to fully cover waters bills, including water not consumed or used to cook or bathe. Separately, Snyder is pushing $165 million in additional spending over this fiscal year and next for lead pipe replacement, bottled water, filters, health care and other services.

University Of Michigan Investigating Possible Norovirus Outbreak; Nearly 100 Students Sickened
(WDIV)

Ann Arbor, Michigan: The University of Michigan in Ann Arbor is investigating a possible outbreak of norovirus after nearly 100 students became ill. In a statement Wednesday, the university said between 75-100 students living in residence halls in the West and South quads sought treatment for symptoms, which include stomach pain, vomiting and diarrhea. "This appears to be a viral-type illness, like norovirus," says a health officer. "Test results sent to the Michigan Department of Community Health won't be complete until late Friday afternoon or early next week." According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, norovirus is a very contagious. "Since norovirus is highly contagious, students who develop symptoms should isolate themselves in their rooms until they are symptom-free for 48 hours," the health officer said.

WHO Issues $56 Million Plan To Combat Virus In Coming Months
(Washington Post)

Americas: The World Health Organization (WHO) says it will take $56 million to kick start a coordinated international response to the Zika virus outbreak racing through much of the Americas, and the WHO plans to tap a newly created emergency contingency fund to pay for the initial efforts. The WHO expects the funds to come from member states and other donors and said that in the meantime it has tapped a new emergency contingency fund for $2 million to finance its initial operations. In an action plan published Tuesday, the organization said a hefty chunk of the money will go toward disease surveillance, which will include tracking new Zika cases and the suspected birth defects and rare autoimmune syndrome that scientists suspect are linked to the mosquito-borne virus. More funding will be used to help provide counseling to pregnant women, as well as to help communities with mosquito-control programs. Still more funds will go toward research to speed the development of new vaccines, treatments and diagnostic tests, as well as to study whether and how Zika is causing serious conditions such as microcephaly. More than half the money will be spread among a collection of international partners, including non-governmental organizations and research institutions such as Unicef, AmeriCares, Save the Children, the International Medical Corps and the University of Texas Medical Branch. The remaining funds will be disbursed within the WHO and its regional offices in the Americas -- known as the Pan American Health Organization -- to help carry out the plan through June.

Enbridge Says Sandpiper Pipeline Won't Start Up Until 2019

(AP)

Minnesota: Enbridge Energy Partners says it expects to push back until 2019 the start-up dates for its proposed Sandpiper pipeline and a replacement for its existing Line 3 pipeline because of the need for an environmental review. Company officials told analysts Wednesday the projects probably won't go into service until early 2019. The company previously said 2017. They also expect costs will be a little bit higher, but declined to say how much. The Minnesota Court of Appeals ruled in August that Sandpiper requires a full environmental review before the state can grant a certificate of need. Sandpiper would carry North Dakota oil across northern Minnesota to Enbridge's terminal in Superior, Wisconsin. The aging Line 3 carries Canadian crude and its replacement would share part of the same route as Sandpiper.

"All Clear" Given After BSU Suspicious Package Investigation

(WANE)

Muncie, Indiana: The Ball State University (BSU) student center was given the "all clear" after an earlier evacuation Wednesday afternoon when a "suspicious package" was delivered to the parking services office in the basement of the building. The building was cleared by police by 3:15 p.m. local time. Nearby Burris Laboratory School was placed on a "partial lockdown," according to an email distributed to parents, but Burris students were dismissed at the normal time. A BSU spokesperson said officials showed an "abundance of caution" in evacuating the building until the package could be examined.

Flint paid highest rate in U.S. for water

Detroit Free Press

Michigan: Flint residents paid the highest water rates in America even as their water was tainted with lead, according to a national study released Tuesday by the public interest group Food and Water Watch. A survey of the 500 largest water systems in the country, conducted last year, found that on average, Flint residents paid about $864 a year for water service, nearly double the national average and about three-and-a-half times as much as Detroiters pay. The figure is based on an annual household consumption of 60,000 gallons. "It far exceeds what the United Nations designates as affordable for water and sewer service," said Mary Grant, one of the study's authors. The United Nations recommends that water and sewer service shouldn't exceed 3% of a household income. In Flint, the charges totaled about 7%, Grant said. A Flint lawyer who sued to reduce the rates says they are high in part because city officials and state-appointed emergency managers have tapped water and sewer money for other needs.

Woman Becomes 4th Case of Zika Virus in Illinois

(NBC)

Illinois: A fourth case of the Zika virus has been reported in Illinois, the Illinois Department of Public Health said in a statement on its website. IDPH told NBC Chicago a woman who is not pregnant has the virus. Further details about her age or her travel history were not disclosed. Most people exposed to Zika, a tropical virus spread by mosquitoes, suffer only mild symptoms. But the risk is far greater for pregnant women because of a possible link to a birth defect and neurological problems.

FDA Issues New Blood Donation Recommendations; WHO Evaluating New Forms Of Mosquito Control

(ABC News)

Global: The U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) issued recommendations Tuesday to safeguard the donated blood supply during the Zika virus outbreak. The agency is recommending that those at risk of having been infected with the Zika virus should not donate blood for four weeks. These include those who have had Zika virus symptoms or sexual contact with people who have traveled to countries known to have ongoing transmissions. Additionally, the FDA recommends that no blood be used from areas where there is active transmission of the virus. No transmissions of the virus between mosquito and human have been reported in the U.S. In a new report, officials from the World Health Organization (WHO) said they are looking into new forms of mosquito control, including "a genetically modified prototype mosquito." The WHO Vector Control Advisory Group is evaluating new tools in an effort to kill the insects that spread the Zika virus. In addition to GMO mosquitoes, the group is also looking at sterilizing a male mosquitoes using a low dose of radiation. Additionally, a bacteria called "Wolbachia" could be used to stop mosquito eggs from hatching. The bacteria is not infectious to humans or other mammals.

Three Arrested In Connection To Reported Shooting At Cleveland Clothing Store

(Cleveland News)

Cleveland, Ohio: Cleveland police arrested three people following a shooting Monday at a Krush Clothing store in the Warehouse District. Officers were called to the store Monday at about 7:00 p.m. local time for reports of gunfire and police were told that a shooter was possibly inside the store. Police shut down nearly all of West 9th Street for over two hours and warned passersby to avoid the area. A SWAT team and a K-9 unit searched store, but didn't find any suspects; no one was hurt. The suspects haven't been formally charged in the incident at a Krush Clothing store on the 1300 block of West 9th Street, a Cleveland police spokeswoman said. Police caught a male with a backpack full of money near the scene although it is not clear if the cash was taken from the clothing store. Detectives seized one gun from the store and another gun from a vehicle. The police department's Gang Impact Unit is continuing to investigate.

Please complete the section applicable to your area of responsibility and return to Pam by COB February 17. I would like to make this a routine update as long as we are engaged in the Flint water event. Please let me know if you have any questions. I am thinking of making this a bi-weekly report.

NATIONAL TERRORISM ADVISORY SYSTEM (DHS): Bulletin (12/16/2015 – 06/16/2016)

NOTEWORTHY EVENTS: Nothing significant to report.

SIGNIFICANT WEATHER (NWS, SPC): Mixed precipitation will continue to affect southern and eastern Ohio this morning. Winter Weather Advisories and Winter Storm Warnings remain active until this afternoon across much of the state, where an additional 2 to 6+ inches of snow was expected to fall. In far southern Ohio, Areal Flood Watches are also active. Heavy rains coupled with snow melt was expected to cause small creeks, streams and ditches to rise, possibly leading to flooding of some low lying areas. Across western and southern Illinois, mixed precipitation is forecast to continue this morning. Winter Weather Advisories there are advising of the possibility of up to 1 inch of snow and a light glazing of ice (<.10"). No significant weather is forecast for tomorrow, while on Thursday, up to a .25 inch of precipitations could bring some light icing across small parts of northeastern Minnesota, north-central Wisconsin and northern Michigan. Travel conditions could be affected there.

HYDROLOGIC CONDITIONS (AHPS): Flood Warnings remain in effect along the Kaskaskia River in Clinton County due to heavy rains. There is an additional Flood Warning active along the Des Plains River at Riverside due to an ice jam. No significant impacts have been reported or are expected at this time.

FIRE CONDITIONS (SPC): Nothing significant to report.

REGION V DISASTER SUMMARY:

- Declaration Requests: None.
- PDA Summary: None.

- Disaster Declarations: FEMA-3375-EM provides emergency assistance for water, water filters, water filter cartridges, water test kits and other necessary related items for a period of no more than 90 days for Genesee County.

TRAINING EVENTS:

- Feb 17-18: L-213 Application Review, Indianapolis, IN
- Feb 29-Mar 1: REP Core Concepts Course (RCCC); Manitowoc, WI
- Mar 1-2: L-276 Benefit Cost Analysis, Indianapolis, IN
- Mar 2-4: REP Plan Review Course (RPPR); Manitowoc, WI
- Mar 3-4: L-214 Hazard Mitigation Assistance Implementation & Closeout
- Mar 21-24: REP Exercise Evaluator Course (REEC); Madison, WI

Sorry, I accidentally sent before I finished.
Eric is the POC for consortium course approvals. If they are willing to bring this course to Michigan for you, that is great. We would approve with no issue. If has been here before and had been very well received! Let us know.

Hello Carol,

There is growing interest within the Michigan National Guard and the Board of Water & Light to attend some of the PIO courses / workshops. Would you be able to help me understanding the requirements necessary to look into hosting this course at JFHQ and also offer this to other organizations throughout the state of Michigan?

I have also emailed TEEX with regards to hosting the Public Information in an All-Hazards Incident MGT-318 course at JFHQ if we can work out the logistics. I attended this course in Howell a few months ago and it was outstanding. With the Flint situation, there is a growing desire for PIO representatives to gain further training and education. I was approached by the TEEX instructors at this course and they asked if JFHQ was interested in hosting some of their courses.

Thank you very much.

State Officials To Investigate Possible Link Between Lead-Contaminated Water And Miscarriages In Flint
(CNN)
Michigan: State officials are investigating to see whether lead-contaminated Flint River water had any effect on the rate of miscarriages in the city, said a spokeswoman for the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services. "It's something that our epidemiologists are looking at, because we know lead can have effects throughout the life course," the spokeswoman said. So far, the state says it's too early to tell whether the Flint water caused an increase in miscarriages. In fact, the state says nobody knows if miscarriages increased while women in Flint drank the contaminated water because statistics are not available yet. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention says there is "consistent evidence" that pregnant women exposed to high lead levels have a higher risk of "spontaneous abortion," or miscarriage, which is defined as the loss of a fetus before the 20th week of pregnancy. High levels of lead can also cause physical and mental developmental problems in children, such as low birth weight.

State's top doc worked part-time as Flint crisis erupted
Detroit Free Press
Michigan: As Flint's water problems slowly emerged as a public health calamity over the spring, summer and fall of last year, the top medical officer at the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services was continuing her course load as an associate professor and medical residency program director at the University of Michigan, working for the health department only part-time, both the university and health department have confirmed. The part-time arrangement for Dr. Eden Wells, the state's chief medical executive, appears to have plainly violated state law. Michigan's Public Health Code states that if the director of the state health department is not a doctor, the director shall appoint a chief medical executive who is and "the chief medical executive shall be a full-time employee." The switch to a part-time chief medical executive began after Gov. Rick Snyder took office in 2011. Every top doctor since has been part-time.

Flint water supervisor warned state of problems before switch to river
MLive.com
Michigan: Just eight days before the city started using the Flint River as its water source, a treatment plant supervisor warned state regulators of a potential disaster on the horizon. "I have people above me making plans to distribute water ASAP," Laboratory & Water Quality Supervisor Mike Glasgow said in an email to the state Department of Environmental Quality on April 17, 2014. The email was among more than 20,000 pages of documents related to Flint's water crisis and released today, Feb. 12, by Gov. Rick Snyder. "I was reluctant before, but after looking at the monitoring schedule and our current staffing, I do not anticipate giving the OK to begin sending water out anytime soon," Glasgow's email says. "If water is distributed from this plant in the next couple weeks, it will be against my direction.

Michigan warning on Flint Legionnaires' outbreak came late
(Yahoo News)
Michigan: State officials knew about an outbreak of Legionnaires' disease and its suspected link to water system issues in impoverished Flint, Michigan, at least 10 months before a public announcement was made, documents released on Friday showed. The state's disclosure of the documents, among thousands of pages of emails and other material released, comes as Michigan's Republican governor, Rick Snyder, faces pressure to resign over his administration's handling of the Flint water crisis. Michigan's Genesee County, which includes Flint, had 87 cases of Legionnaires' from June 2014 to November 2015. Of those cases, 10 were fatal. Flint switched its water supply from Detroit to the Flint River in April 2014 in a cost-cutting move when the city was under a state-appointed emergency manager. More corrosive water from the river leached lead from city pipes, causing a serious public health threat. Friday's documents echoed previous disclosures showing that high-ranking state officials knew about an increase in Legionnaires' disease in Genesee County and a possible link to Flint's water 10 months before the governor said he received information about the outbreak.

Public Health

CDC Says Two Women Miscarry After Infection

(ABC)

United States: Two U.S. women suffered miscarriages after being infected with the Zika virus, according to officials from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). The virus, which usually causes mild symptoms including fever, rash and fatigue, has already been associated with a rare birth defect in Brazil called microcephaly. Officials have also been concerned that the virus could cross the placenta, an organ that develops in a woman's uterus during pregnancy and provides oxygen and nutrients to the fetus. This development could potentially lead to miscarriages. CDC officials confirmed that the women who miscarried were being monitored by their doctors after they were diagnosed with the Zika virus. In total, at least three women in the U.S. have been infected with Zika after returning from abroad with the virus. One woman in Hawaii gave birth to a child with microcephaly in January. That woman is believed to have been exposed to the Zika virus in Brazil last year. In all three cases the Zika virus was found in the placenta.

Large-Scale Vaccine Trials At Least 18 Months Away

United States: The World Health Organization (WHO) says possible Zika vaccines are at least 18 months away from large-scale trials. A WHO official says the U.N. health agency's response is "proceeding very quickly" and 15 companies or groups have been identified as possible participants in the hunt for vaccines. Different types of possible vaccines -- such as live or killed virus, or use of DNA vaccines -- may lead to differences in timing on development, but developers "are all starting at a very basic level for the time being". "Two vaccine candidates seem to be more advanced: a DNA vaccine from the U.S. National Institutes for Health (NIH) and an inactivated product from Bharat Biotech in India," she said. The NIH is working on a DNA-based vaccine that uses the same approach as one being developed for West Nile virus. Bharat Biotech said last week that its experimental vaccine would start pre-clinical trials in animals imminently. The WHO expects suspected links between the Zika virus and two neurological disorders, microcephaly in babies and Guillain-Barre syndrome, to be confirmed within weeks. "We have a few more weeks to be sure to demonstrate causality, but the link between Zika and Guillain-Barre is highly probable," the WHO official said.

Two new Zika virus cases in Ohio, including one in Licking County

(Dispatch)

Ohio: Two more cases of the Zika virus have been reported in Ohio, one involving a Licking County man who was in Haiti. That brings to four the number of cases reported by the Ohio Department of Health in the past week. None was contracted in Ohio.The newest cases of the virus were detected in a 56-year-old Butler County woman returning from Guyana, and the Licking County man, who is 60. Though there are no known cases of Zika being transmitted by mosquito in the continental United States, the number of infected Americans continues to grow. Prior to Ohio's new cases, the CDC had reported 52 travel-associated cases of Zika virus in 16 states and the District of Columbia, an increase from 35 cases in 12 states since Tuesday.

Virus May Hide In Organ Protected From Immune System

(Reuters)

Global: The Zika virus may be particularly adept at entrenching itself in parts of the body that are shielded from the immune system, making it harder to fight off and possibly lengthening the timeframe in which it can be transmitted, top U.S. experts said on Friday. Researchers reported that Zika virus can be detected in semen for 62 days after a person is infected, adding to evidence of the virus's presence in fetal brain tissue, placenta and amniotic fluid. "Right now, we know it's in the blood for a very limited period of time, measured in a week to at most 10 days. We know now, as we accumulate experience, it can be seen in the seminal fluid. We're not exactly sure after the infection clears, where else it would be," said an official with the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases said. Several organs in the body, including the testes, the eyes, the placenta and the brain, are "immune privileged" - protected from attacks launched by the immune system to neutralize foreign invaders. These sites are safeguarded from antibodies to prevent the immune system from attacking vital tissues. But if a virus enters these protected sites, it is much harder to fight them off. An official said the key concern about Zika harboring in immune protected sites is that it could be transmitted sexually through semen. U.S. health officials advise that men who come to the country from Zika outbreak areas should consider using condoms even with nonpregnant partners because the virus may persist in semen even after it clears the bloodstream. So far, there is little to suggest sexual transmission is common, said an infectious disease expert at the Harvard School of Public Health, "but it will bear looking at so that we can counsel individuals about the risk that they pose to others."

IUPUI student diagnosed with tuberculosis
(The Indy Channel)
Indiana: An IUPUI student was recently diagnosed with tuberculosis, according to the Marion County Health Department. A statement from IU says the student was hospitalized and is no longer attending classes. The health department's TB Control Program is helping IUPUI identify students, faculty and staff who were closest to the infected person. About 390 people were singled out for TB testing. University official says if students were not notified, there was no medical reason to believe they were at risk for potential exposure. There are no other cases of TB at IUPUI. Tuberculosis is an airborne disease. It's detected with a skin test. Symptoms of TB include: feeling sick or weak, weight loss, fever and night sweats.

Law Enforcement and Intelligence
Authorities Investigating Incident As Potential 'Lone Wolf' Attack; No Indication Of ISIL Links
(CNN)
Columbus, Ohio: Authorities investigating Thursday's machete attack at a Columbus restaurant have no current indication that the Islamic State (ISIL) group or any other terror group directed it, a law enforcement official told CNN on Friday. But they are investigating it as a potential "lone wolf" terror attack, the official said. A man wielding a machete stormed the restaurant Thursday night and attacked several people before police killed him following a car chase, authorities said. Officers say the bomb squad was called in to check out the man's vehicle, but nothing was found. His motive remains unclear, but investigators are trying to determine if the Middle Eastern restaurant was chosen under the mistaken belief the restaurant had a Jewish owner. A proprietor of the restaurant said that the attacker had came in half an hour before the incident and asked about him. Columbus police identified the slain suspect as a 30-year-old Somali native with a criminal history that includes a history of drug use, a law enforcement official told CNN. Four people were injured, one critically, during the attack, according to police. The FBI is helping local police with the investigation, which includes trying to determine a motive.

Nuclear
Perry Nuclear Power Plant Reactor Shut Down Due To Technical Issue
(Cleveland Plain Dealer)
Perry, Ohio: FirstEnergy's 1,260-megawatt Perry nuclear reactor was shut down earlier this week. Operators shut down the reactor when automated valves in high-pressure steam lines delivering steam from the reactor to the plant's steam turbines opened, shuttling the super-hot steam to a condenser where it is cooled and becomes water. Operators knew that automated valves had reacted to "spurious" signals from temperature and pressure gauges, according to a report filed with the Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC). But they also knew that the temperature of the water in the condenser, called a "suppression pool," was rising and would keep rising unless they shut down the reactor. There were no injuries, no leakage of radioactivity into the environment, and no damage to the reactor core. An engineering team assigned to track down the cause of the false data found air in the instrument line that sent the signal indicating the steam line had become over-pressured. That signal activated the automated valves. Operators restarted the reactor Thursday afternoon, only to encounter a brief electrical disruption in circuits to electric pumps supplying cooling water to the reactor. Although the plant's design includes three sets of cooling equipment, the operators initiated a second shutdown, a FirstEnergy spokeswoman said. Another engineering "root cause" team was looking into what caused the power disruption Thursday evening. NRC inspectors who are in the power plant every day had been notified.

- Watch Officer Notes: The event is a non-emergency classification and being monitored by the RWC. (NRC Event Number 51729)

Emergency Management

Illinois Gets Extension To Determine Flooding Damage

Illinois: Illinois has received additional time to determine whether to seek a federal disaster declaration for early-winter floods. The Illinois Emergency Management Agency says its federal counterpart has extended by two weeks a Friday deadline to make such a request. The state agency had sought to push the deadline back to mid-March. Federal Emergency Management Agency workers came to Illinois early this month to work with the U.S. Small Business Administration, IEMA and county emergency management agencies to document the extent of damage to homes and businesses in central and southern Illinois. IEMA director James Joseph says that more time is needed to review joint damage assessments only completed earlier this week. A federal disaster declaration could provide financial help to Illinois residents as well as local governments.

FBI, British Police Arrest Hacking Group Member Suspected In High-Profile Breaches

(ABC)

Global: British police, with help from the FBI, have arrested a teenager reportedly involved in a series of hacks targeting personal accounts of top officials at the CIA, FBI, Department of Homeland Security, the White House and other federal agencies, ABC News reported Friday.Police in South East England confirmed that officers arrested a 16-year-old boy in East Midlands on Tuesday for a series of computer-based crimes. For the past several months, a hacking group has been disclosing private information associated with high-ranking federal officials. When the hacks became known four months ago, someone claiming to be one of the hackers said it was the work of a group of teens. U.S. authorities began to identify what they thought was a group of suspects at least two months ago, ultimately narrowing in on the 16-year-old in England, the sources said.

Good afternoon,

Yesterday, you were asked by Captain Zarotney to provide an estimate number of pages/documents that you have within your email, on your computer, texts messages, or those saved on the S Drive as it relates to the Flint Water Emergency. This was due at 2:00 today, and has not yet been received. This will be from your Michigan.gov email address, different than your position specific email/files within the SEOC. If your SEOC position has not completed that yet either, please assist in completing that as well.

If you have no documents to report, please send a quick reply indicating that so Lori is able to track what she is missing. Otherwise, please provide an estimate to Lori by 4:30 PM today.

Thank you for assisting in this process.

Please remember to send Lori Hinkley an estimate of the number of records in your possession pertaining to the Flint water crisis.

"Records" is defined as: e-mails, hand written notes, documents, text messages and anything else pertaining to the Flint water crisis. This includes ALL records you've received or generated, including general govdelivery correspondence, news releases – essentially anything that says "Flint Water."

To recover deleted e-mails in outlook, go to your toolbar and select: Folder - Recover Deleted Items. This will provide you with a list of everything you have deleted within the last 30 days. Please recover all Flint related records and archive them for future reference and include them in your estimate to Lori.

You will need to send this information to Lori Hinkley no later than 2:00 today. Further information regarding the need for printing documents will be provided to you next week. We are only looking for estimates of the number of records right now.

Let me know if you have any questions.

Tough Winter? Not So Much - Subzero Saturday; Touch of March Next Week
(Star Tribune)
Minnesota: Before you grumble about the latest cold front try and keep things in perspective. Tonight will be the 10th night below zero at MSP. During an average winter the metro picks up 23 nights below zero. Heating degree data from NOAA confirms we've all saved 17 percent on heating bills, compared to average. Since December 1 meteorological winter is the 11th warmest since 1872, to date. By historical standards this winter has been fairly tame, with only 1 real snowstorm (9 inches on Groundhog Day). The last time we came out of a major El Nino was 1998. The spring that followed was wild: an EF-4 tornado in Comfrey, 57 tornadoes overall - with nearly $2 billion in hail and wind damage, statewide. Every El Nino is different, but I wouldn't be surprised to see an active severe season in 2016. After waking up to a refreshing -10F Saturday morning and trudging through a couple inches of fresh snow Sunday the mercury rebounds next week. We could see March-like 40s and a little rain one week from today.

Polar vortex will send Michigan temps below zero
(MLive)
Michigan: The polar vortex is making a move toward Michigan this weekend. Its move south will send Michigan's temperatures below zero this Valentine's Day weekend. Fortunately this won't be a direct hit of the polar vortex, but rather a glancing blow. This movement south of the polar vortex is still not as aggressive as the movement was a few times in the past two winters. And the good news for cold haters is this will be a short lived arctic outbreak. Saturday will be the coldest day. Morning temperatures will start in the single digits above zero in far southern and southwestern Lower Michigan, including Detroit, Ann Arbor, Jackson, Lansing, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo and Muskegon. From Flint and Saginaw northward into northern Lower, temperatures will drop into the single digits below zero. Wind chills Saturday morning will be -10° to -20°. The chart below shows frostbite can occur in 30 minutes at those wind chill levels.

Arctic Air Returns This Weekend
(NBC44i)
Columbus, OH: A few light snow showers will develop this afternoon. As that system exits Arctic air will plunge into the region tonight. Temperatures will drop to the single digits tonight with wind chills that will be well below zero. It will be the coldest since January 18th when the high was 13. The cold snap will continue Sunday with the coldest morning of the season with lows near zero. It will be milder again on Monday.

Metro Detroit Woman May Have Zika Virus
(WXYZ)
Michigan: A metro Detroit woman could be the first person in Michigan to have contracted the Zika virus. The Grosse Pointe Farms woman is a patient at St. John Hospital. She says that doctors at St. John, along with Centers for Disease Control and Prevention officials also believe a mosquito bite she got last week in Florida is the cause. Donna Sutton says she's been suffering flu-like symptoms along with pink eye for days. But, without a cure or vaccine for the Zika virus, she can only rely on rest, staying hydrated and basic fever medicine.

DHS Secretary Warns Terror Groups Remain Focused On Targeting Aviation

(Fox News)

United States: The Department of Homeland Security (DHS) Secretary warned Thursday that terror groups remain focused on targeting aviation, on the heels of an attempted bombing last week in Somalia - and after a top U.S. intelligence official warned that the Islamic State (ISIL) will try to attack the U.S. this year. The Secretary stressed that his department is moving to reduce the number of access points to airport employees to reduce any insider threat. "We have the ability, through airlines, through our relationship with other countries, to put out guidelines that influence the behavior of airport authorities and airport security at overseas airports," he said. "In particular, last point of departure airports, and those are mostly in Europe. Some are in the Middle East." He said passengers and staffers at airports with direct flights to the U.S. now face extra screening, and that authorities can stop certain flights from landing in the U.S. if those airports fail to meet new standards. Such measures were also added at regional airports, he said, citing the November bombing of a Russian passenger jet that had taken off from the Red Sea resort of Sharm-e-Sheikh, Egypt. ISIL claimed responsibility for that attack. A top U.S. intelligence official said Tuesday that ISIL will very likely try to attack the U.S. with its own trained operatives. The DHS Secretary said that Homeland Security is working to identify potential attackers who "self-radicalize."

Top U.S Intelligence Official Says ISIL Can Produce Chemical Weapons

(AFP)

International: A top U.S. intelligence official has said that Islamic State (ISIL) fighters have used chemical weapons and have the capability to make small quantities of chlorine and mustard gas, CBS News reported Thursday. "We have a number of instances where ISIL has used chemical munitions on the battlefield," the official said. The Central Intelligence Agency believes that ISIL has the ability to make small amounts of mustard or chlorine gas for weapons. "There are reports that ISIL has access to chemical precursors and munitions that they can use," the intelligence official added. The official also warned of the possibility that ISIL could seek to export the weapons to the West for financial gain.

At Least 6 Injured In Stabbing Attack At Columbus Restaurant; Suspect Killed By Police

(WSYX)

Columbus, Ohio: Columbus police have shot and killed a man after they say he went into a Mediterranean restaurant on the Northeast Side Thursday evening and attacked several patrons with a machete. According to a dispatcher, police were called just after 6 p.m. local time to the Nazareth Restaurant on N. Hamilton Road. Two people who were inside the restaurant at the time described the scene as "carnage" saying it seemed like a "systematic attack." The dispatcher said that six people were transported to area hospitals from the restaurant, though their names and the extent of their injuries aren't known at this time. Two of the victims were reportedly in critical condition. The suspect then reportedly fled and was stopped by police about 5 miles away, off Stelzer Road and just south of Montclair Drive. He was shot by police, the dispatcher said, and died at OhioHealth Grant Medical Center at 6:24 p.m.

No Threat Found After Bomb Threat Investigation At Eaton Business

(WHIO)

Eaton, Ohio: No threat was found and people were allowed to return to the L&M Products Inc. building in the 200 block of East Lexington Road Thursday afternoon. A threat was phoned into the Preble County Sheriff's Office around 1 p.m. local time, and Eaton Police responded to the situation. The L&M building was evacuated and officials searched the facility for a bomb. The Preble County Sheriff's Office along with Dayton International Airport police had K-9 units on scene. Officials closed East Lexington Road between North Barron Street and North Maple Street during the investigation.

New ISIL Online Support Platform Discovered

(Newsweek)

Global: The Middle East Media Research Institute has reportedly discovered a new Islamic State (ISIL) group "help desk" aimed at assisting ISIL members in encrypting their messages to escape authorities' notice. The Hill reported Wednesday on the existence of the Electronic Horizon Foundation, which was started last month to spread "security and technical awareness." The foundation reportedly uses a secret message board, Twitter and Telegram, an encrypted messaging service, to distribute information to followers of the terrorist group designed to help them avoid being tracked and discovered by international intelligence efforts. This can include something as simple as best practices for social media use to actually avoiding detection by government agencies online. The Daily Dot reported on the foundation last week as well, writing that it had about 2,200 followers on both its Twitter and Telegram accounts. A senior Telegram executive has said a significant campaign to remove ISIL channels has resulted in over 660 public channels being banned, although he has not addressed the issue of private channels. Several public channels seen by Newsweek have more than 3,000 followers, while dozens of private channels with an unknown number of members also exist.

Subject: RE. Question about attempting to revoke donations

Wendy asked me to draft something that would address the situations where a donor seeks to revoke their gift. I understand one donor wanted a semi-load of water back. This would put people on notice that their gift is irrevocable, as well as serving as documentation that they made a gift. We could modify it for other types of gifts, if that is needed."). This doesn't have to be particularly formal, but you may want to have the Flint Water Response and/or EMHSD logo on it to give some sense that it is an "official" receipt.

Donation Receipt

Thank you for your donation of [number and type of container] of water to the State of Michigan. The water will be distributed to Flint residents free of charge as part of a multi-agency emergency response effort addressing lead and other issues that has been identified in Flint's drinking water system. This receipt acknowledges that no goods or services were provided in exchange for your donation.

Please note that due to the high volume of water distributed every day, and the resources required to load and unload water, your donation is irrevocable.

Ohio EPA cites Sebring in handling of water crisis
(Cleveland.com)
Sebring, Ohio: The Ohio EPA on Tuesday issued a violation notice to the village of Sebring for failing to provide test results and guidance to homeowners who had requested voluntary water sampling, and for failing to submit required weekly reports on water chemistry. On Jan. 21, EPA Director Craig Butler ordered the Mahoning County village to offer free water testing for any resident who requested it to give them peace of mind about the quality of their drinking water. Since then, 34 of the 698 samples tested found lead concentrations in drinking water above federal allowable limits. Sebring was required to notify any resident of his or her lead results, and to provide them with an information sheet detailing how to minimize their risks.

Flint mayor hopes to begin pipe replacement next month
(Detroit Free Press)
Flint, Michigan: Flint Mayor Karen Weaver on Tuesday outlined an estimated $55-million public works project expected to begin within a month to remove Flint's lead-contaminated pipes from the water distribution system. First priority will be given to high-risk households with pregnant women and children, Weaver said at a news conference at City Hall. "In order for Flint residents to once again have confidence and trust in the water coming from their faucets, all lead pipes in the city of Flint need to be replaced," she said. "The success of the Fast Start plan will require coordination between the city, state and federal officials as well as funding from the Michigan Legislature, Congress or both. I'm asking Gov. Snyder and the state to partner on this effort. "We'll let the investigations determine who's to blame for Flint's water crisis, but I'm focused on solving it. It's going to take time to get this done, but we're going to move quickly to get this done." Last week, Weaver called for the immediate removal of the city's lead-contaminated pipes and announced a plan that included help from Lansing Mayor Virg Bernero, who has offered technical assistance from the Lansing Board of Water and Light. Lansing has removed about 13,500 lead pipes in the city.

CSX train derailed in Marysville
(Columbus Dispatch)
Marysville, Ohio: A CSX train loaded with cargo boxes and bound for the Honda plant hit a stationary rail car on a track behind the Scotts Miracle-Gro chemical plant in Union County this morning, derailing 10 cars and an engine and injuring two CSX employees. The collision happened about 10 a.m. and shut down Scottslawn Road, just south of Industrial Parkway because some of the crumpled cars are blocking the crossing there. The road is expected to be closed until at least late tonight, and might not reopen until Wednesday morning, Brooks said. The train wasn't carrying anything hazardous but there was some fuel spilled, said Brad Gilbert, director of the Union County Emergency Management Agency. The Ohio Environmental Protection Agency is on the scene.

Webinars promote algae research communication
(The Blade)
Great Lakes Region: The National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration began a series of three Great Lakes algae webinars on Tuesday by asking university and private researchers to communicate more about what they're doing. The goal of an interagency working group formed under the Harmful Algal Bloom and Hypoxia Research and Control Act is to tie more research together. NOAA and other federal agencies, such as the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, can better identify data gaps, Mary Erickson, director of NOAA's National Centers for Coastal Ocean Science, said. Researchers, public interest groups, and individuals who want to comment on algae-research priorities are encouraged to email questions and comments to iwg-habhrca@noaa.gov. The next two webinars are scheduled for today and Thursday, both starting at 1 p.m. Each lasts an hour.

Ohio confirms first case of Zika virus

(NBC4i.com)

Cuyahoga County, Ohio: The Ohio Department of Health has confirmed two people in the state have the Zika virus. According to the ODH, the first case was a 30-year-old Cuyahoga County woman who recently returned from Haiti. She was in the country for work, an ODH spokesperson said. A private physician confirmed her diagnosis. Late today, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention notified ODH of a second Ohio case of Zika virus in a returning traveler from Haiti, a 21-year-old Stark County man. The two cases are not linked. "Given the number of travelers between Ohio and Zika virus-affected countries, it would not be a surprise to see more cases," said ODH Medical Director Dr. Mary DiOrio. "There is no vaccine available for Zika virus so it's important for Ohioans traveling to affected areas to take steps to prevent mosquito bites." Zika virus is primarily transmitted through a mosquito bite, and there is no indication that it can spread from person to person through casual contact. CDC has confirmed a U.S. case of Zika virus infection in a non-traveler after the person's sexual partner returned from an affected country and developed symptoms.

Minnesota to adopt Next Generation 911 changes

(ABC 5 News)

Minnesota: Allina Health Emergency Medical Services in St. Paul is partnering with Minneapolis, Edina, the Hennepin County Sheriff's Office and Hennepin EMS. Together, they'll be one of the largest 911 centers in the country to launch Next Generation 911. In addition to phone calls, the technology will allow you to text 911 on your cellphone. Thanks to GPS in cellphones, Next Generation 911 will give dispatchers and emergency responders more accurate call locations as well as the ability to look at pictures and video from people in trouble. Not only will this new technology help paramedics as they respond to emergencies out in the field, but it's also going to help doctors better prepare inside emergency rooms.

The water will be distributed to Flint residents free of charge as part of a multi-agency emergency response to the drinking water problems the Flint drinking water system. Please note that due to the high volume of water distributed every day, and the resources required to load and unload water, your donation is irrevocable.

Subject: Additional DCDS Coding - City of Flint
Attachments: Activity Tab DCDS.png

Good Afternoon:

The State Budget Office (SBO) has requested some additional coding in DCDS for staff that work on the City of Flint Water Emergency. We will still be coding all overtime costs to PCA 28670. But at their request, we will also be utilizing the "Activity" code in DCDS.

To enter Activity Code

- Open Employee Data Collection
- Click on Activity Tab of DCDS timesheet
- On the Unit Entry tab, under Activity column at left, enter F in drop down box and select FDWP when it appears.
- Enter total of "regular and overtime hours" related to the Flint Water emergency in cell for each date worked.
- These hours should match the total hours for each day you have entered into your timesheet.
- Save when you have entered your activity hours.

Again, this is only for hours spent working on the City of Flint Emergency and should begin with this current pay period. Please let me know if you have questions.

Thanks,
Penny

Oralya,

We did process the requested changes from the Capt. and submitted the updates (we shot further footage of the inspection process and integrated this into the video).

Click on the title below to access the training in MI-TRAIN (both LANX and Blauer CPO donning/doffing refreshers are available for review here):

2016 CBRNE Defensive Operations Chemical Protective Overgarment Video
(you will have to log into MI-TRAIN to complete and withdraw from the class to re-review if desired)

The deadline for completion was chosen so that the CPO Refresher video could be completed prior to the Annual HazMat FRA refresher which is designated by OO to take place from February-April each year.
If Capt prefers they run concurrently we can change the dates. We didn't want any confusion since this refresher will be required on a biennial basis and the FRA will continue to be required annually.

The FRA video updates are currently in final edit and review; and should be ready for Capt's review in about a week or so.

The Captain has expressed concerned over the content in the video and what it covers. He recalls viewing an earlier submission of this video and requesting changes, but has not seen it since it was edited. (Assuming it was edited per his requested changes).

He would also like to know why we have a February 29 deadline attached to this, when February, March and April tend to be high volume training months for enforcement personnel. Is it required in one of the official orders?

Please provide an answer to the question above, and a link to the video so that Captain can view it before he approves it.

Subject: Permission to Distribute Training Information

Good afternoon,

I am an analyst with the DSEMIIC operating under the MIOC/MSP and I am currently writing a product geared towards first responders and public safety. I received the below email highlighting some trainings that I would like to advise first responders and public safety about. I am requesting permission to include some of these trainings in this product? Please advise me if that would be alright.

As we continue through the winter months, it is not time to hibernate, instead it is time to take action and enhance your skill set by attending a course, or two, offered by the Michigan State Police, Emergency Management and Homeland Security Training Center (EMHSTC)
The 2016 training course schedule includes a variety of courses and tabletop exercises to train individuals at the beginner level and all of the way through to the advanced level
One example of a course being offered this year is the USFA All Hazards Incident Management Team 0-305 session, which focuses on the importance of developing and operating as a functional All Hazard Incident Management Team (AHIMT) and emphasize the nature and purpose of an AHIMT
Register today by clicking on the below course names before the spots fill up!

Course	Date(s)	Location
Virtual Tabletop Exercise Program (VTTX) - Cyber	February 9	Lansing
Sports and Special Incident Management (MGT-404)	February 9-10	Saginaw
Hazardous Materials Incident Response Operations EPA 165.5 (40-Hour HAZWOPER)	February 29-March 4	Lansing
Hazardous Waste Operations (HAZWOPER) 8-Hour Refresher	March 7	Lansing
Michigan Specific Core Emergency Management Knowledge Requirements	March 8-9	Lansing
Campus Emergencies: Prevention, response, and Recovery MGT 324	March 8-9	Ann Arbor
Public Safety WMD Response — Sampling Techniques and Guidelines PER-222	March 8-10	Battle Creek
USFA All Hazards Incident Management Team 0-305	March 14-18	Lansing
Incorporating Whole Community Inclusive Planning into the EM Process (AWR-330)	March 15	Marquette
Incorporating Whole Community Inclusive Planning into the EM Process (AWR-330)	March 16	Flint
Social Media for Disaster Response and Recovery (PER-304)	March 16	Kimball
Social Media Engagement Strategies	March 17	Kimball
Virtual Tabletop Exercise Program (VTTX) - Flood	March 22	Lansing
ICS 300 Intermediate ICS for Expanding Incidents	March 23-25	Lansing
Chemistry Refresher	March 29	Lansing

Thank you in advance.

Subject: Webinar with Local EMs

I apologize for the late notification of this webinar. We are currently trying to get everything up and running at our new facility and should hopefully run more smoothly for the next meeting.

Our March webinar is scheduled for March 4, 2016 at 10:00 a.m. The access numbers and address for the webinar have not changed. If you have agenda items for the March meeting, please forward them to me by COB February 22, 2016.

The agenda and connection information can be found below. We look forward to catching up with you tomorrow.

The connection information and link for the webinar is below:

To join the meeting: http://breeze.mdch.train.org/emhsd1/
Call In: 1-877-336-1831
Participant Access Code:
When you get to the URL above choose the option for "Enter as a Guest". Type in your Agency and your Full Name then click the button "Enter Room".

Importance: High

Okay – Jackie just informed me there is a webinar tomorrow. I will use this list and add a few February items –(maybe cut off the April list)

Anything to add (ASAP – no pressure!)

Importance: High

Okay – Jackie just informed me there is a webinar tomorrow. I will use this list and add a few February items –(maybe cut off the April list)

Anything to add (ASAP – no pressure!)

Subject: Permission to Distribute Training Information

Good afternoon,

I am an analyst with the DSEMIIC operating under the MIOC/MSP and I am currently writing a product geared towards first responders and public safety. I received the below email highlighting some trainings that I would like to advise first responders and public safety about. I am requesting permission to include some of these trainings in this product? Please advise me if that would be alright.

As we continue through the winter months, it is not time to hibernate, instead it is time to take action and enhance your skill set by attending a course, or two, offered by the Michigan State Police, Emergency Management and Homeland Security Training Center (EMHSTC).
The 2016 training course schedule includes a variety of courses and tabletop exercises to train individuals at the beginner level and all of the way through to the advanced level
One example of a course being offered this year is the USFA All Hazards Incident Management Team 0-305 session, which focuses on the importance of developing and operating as a functional All Hazard Incident Management Team (AHIMT) and emphasize the nature and purpose of an AHIMT
Register today by clicking on the below course names before the spots fill up!

Course	Date(s)	Location
Virtual Tabletop Exercise Program (VTTX) - Cyber	February 9	Lansing
Sports and Special Incident Management (MGT-404)	February 9-10	Saginaw
Hazardous Materials Incident Response Operations EPA 165.5 (40-Hour HAZWOPER)	February 29-March 4	Lansing
Hazardous Waste Operations (HAZWOPER) 8-Hour Refresher	March 7	Lansing

Michigan Specific Core Emergency Management Knowledge Requirements	March 8-9	Lansing
Campus Emergencies: Prevention, response, and Recovery MGT 324	March 8-9	Ann Arbor
Public Safety WMD Response — Sampling Techniques and Guidelines PER-222	March 8-10	Battle Creek
USFA All Hazards Incident Management Team 0-305	March 14-18	Lansing
Incorporating Whole Community Inclusive Planning into the EM Process (AWR-330)	March 15	Marquette
Incorporating Whole Community Inclusive Planning into the EM Process (AWR-330)	March 16	Flint
Social Media for Disaster Response and Recovery (PER-304)	March 16	Kimball
Social Media Engagement Strategies	March 17	Kimball
Virtual Tabletop Exercise Program (VTTX) - Flood	March 22	Lansing
ICS 300 Intermediate ICS for Expanding Incidents	March 23-25	Lansing

Good morning Carol,

Thanks for contacting Allison on this! When Don had call last week about this he said he had been in contact with Allison shop so it sounded all set.

FYI—the NAWAS phone is being installed in your old office. Don indicated the conference room would not be a good location due to the daily tests that would be disruptive for a conference/training room. I will meet with the installers this morning to ensure they get the right location.

Thanks!

I did speak with Allison yesterday and confirmed it would be installed next to the sat phone in the meeting room.

All, please suspend any action on the Avaya equipment. We need to assure all Flint operations PIO activity is redirected to the new system. There were plans to redirect it to the new system that were suspended. DTMB redirected the number to the Flint JIC. There is voice mail traffic related to the Flint Operations still directed to the system.

Ron, we need specific direction from the PIO office through the MSP EMHSD Operations Group Chief as to the PIO requirements and timing for changes. Then DTMB, Technical Services Section and MSP Communications can implement.

We also need to know if there is a need to retain the voice mail on the system for the incident. Allison could you please investigate with the DTMB telcom team that manages the Avaya switch and firewall to see if there is a way to remove the voice mail recordings from the system to give the EMHSD PIO the option?

Pam, could you please send the telecom move worksheet version to Allison and Kelly that contains the PIO call pickup group programming we require on the new system so they have it to work with?

Jim,

Thank you for asking. All of this old Avaya equipment/switch can go to Salvage. Peggy has emailed me asking if she can repurpose some of the phones which is just fine since MSP does not need to hold onto any of this equipment. The couple MSP locations left on the Avaya system are slated to be upgraded to Cisco in the next year.

Thank You,
Allison

We just need MPS's ok if they don't have any use for it. Just let me know. Thanks!

Carol and Tonya,

I had a couple of hours to think about this tonight (the litigation issues regarding Flint are taking all of my time), and I have come to the conclusion that this meeting should be understood as a "scoping the problem" meeting.

You identified hospitals and ambulance service as issues, but I am concerned there may be other issues I can't address specifically on-the-fly. I am confident the State is ultimately covered, but I need to hear directly from FEMA, or whatever other parties are raising issues, the specific concerns.

Bureau Commanders,

The attached PDF file is correspondence that was posted this week regarding the Department's annual fixed asset inventory process.

The attached Secure Zip file contains a folder for all Bureaus and the Office of the Director. Within each folder the fixed asset reports are separated into their District/Division folder. Each District/Division folder contains the inventory list file and an instruction file.

I am asking each Bureau to coordinate the completion of the annual fixed asset inventory for their worksites and return the completed fixed asset reports to Ms. Erin Moon-Tulloch, Departmental Services Division, by the close of business on Friday, February 5, 2016.

Questions regarding the fixed asset inventory reports should be directed to Ms. Moon-Tulloch, (517) 636-4556.

Hi Carol,

Good talking with you. I wanted to introduce you to Kehla, who taught the course with me in Ohio last September. As discussed, it would be a perfect opportunity to offer this 2.5 day course in Michigan sometime in March.

If the materials are not on the G website soon, I will be happy to provide you with them for this offering. Just let me k now.

Kehla, I know you and I had talked about having such an offering. Carol, as the Michigan State Training Officer, is the perfect person to work with on making this a reality. She already has other potential instructors in mind. Her number is Thanks Vince (and Carol).

Yes, I remember that site, as I went out and spoke with the school board member, warehouse manager and Bob. I'm not sure about a confrontation, but we met to discuss the confusion around the warehouse. Bob was going to lease it to us before he owned it and the seller contacted our leasing agent concerned with the legalities of leasing it until the final paperwork was complete. We needed a location ASAP and was able to find one that day that actually suits our needs better. We really need a facility no smaller than 70k sq ft and it cannot be shared space.

We very much appreciate Bob's hospitality and his staff's efforts in getting our commodities offloaded and then reloaded. If we, at some point, are able to condensed to a smaller facility, we will certainly contact Bob again. His facility was in a great location.

We very much appreciate your leg work on this and hope that if you come across a space at 70k sq ft or larger with 2+ dock doors, as well as a garage (lower double) door, with ample parking lot space for the dozens of trucks we have lined up at one time, that would be fantastic! We are still looking.

Thanks again,
Wendy

Four doors at Dort HWY facility with 15K sqft. Two doors 30K sqft at CORT ST facility.
Space is shared, but they handle the tenants -- facility is secured inside, and Flint Dist is responsible for inventory control (count in vs. count out and count in storage).
Both building have security alarms and cameras monitored by a 3rd party security firm.
No parking lot security after 8PM. No issues are foreseen.
Includes staff and equipment to handle your business from 8AM to 8PM available. 6 days a week.
Both facility have ample parking.

Some background that Bob, Owner of Flint Distribution, shared in our conversation today:

Bob worked out agreement with ST of Michigan 3 weeks ago to store water in a facility that he was purchasing in which the School Board either was owner or Tenant. However, St of Michigan handed the project over to the Red Cross. No. That is exactly what happened. But there is more.....

Yesterday, when you contacted Renee about what days the cars were reserved, she started grilling Ron about it. Ron got frustrated and told her, I didn't sign them out and I don't know what is going on. I just do what I am told. He was pretty upset. He said it was ridiculous that Renee was probing him for information when he wasn't even the one that took the vehicle and that he also thought it was ridiculous that the guys would be expected to come in at 4 in the morning on Monday to pick up a vehicle. I assured him, that wasn't the case and that is not what we were expecting. However, all we have asked is that if they need the vehicle before the class, that they send an email to you and get permission to take it for longer. I explained that even state employees can't take vehicles home the night before without running it by you. If they would have just asked, I didn't see a reason they couldn't have picked it up tomorrow night or this weekend, but didn't understand why they needed it yesterday at noon for a Monday class. We also tried explaining with the Flint thing, we need to know where the cars are, in case they are needed and these cars were not reserved for Thursday – Sunday. In the end, he said whatever and went home.

Stacy and I talked about this after he left and we both agree, it is common curtesy to send an email and we don't know why this is such a big issue with them. We also don't understand why after talking to Ron, apparently Renee called Phil on his cell phone and questioned him. I don't know what happened in that conversation, she told Stacy she called him and he was almost home. I just want you to be aware as I know the situation with Phil is already tense. I don't know if she also called Tony or not.

Carol,

I spoke briefly with Phil; he checked out the Ford for a health dept. conference on 1/26/16 (he said you knew about this). After he was done there, he went straight to the ICS 300 class at MDARD.

Ron told me that Jason was going to take the Dodge to Snethkamp's today to have parts put in indicated in a recall notice, but is sick, so that didn't happen.

According to Tony's email, in which he stated, "Renee will you please reserve the Ford Pick up for Phil and Dodge for me for that week?" he and Phil needed the Dodge and Ford P.U. reserved for the class next week in Augusta. I wrote on the calendar both of those vehicles would be used by both Tony and Phil from Monday – Friday because I knew when the class was and no additional days were requested in Tony's email. I had no idea these vehicles would be taken this much in advance of the class next week. Also, if additional days had been requested, I'd have asked him about that so he could have requested permission from you.

Ron will be using the Suburban on Tuesday (2/2/16) and Thursday (2/4/16) for the class in Battle Creek/Augusta.

Hope this helps a bit.

It's That Time! It's Time to Move!!!

As you may be aware, the State Emergency Operation Center (SEOC) will be relocating from 4000 Collins Road, Lansing to 7150 Harris Drive, Dimondale (known as the General Office Building – GOB) on Friday, January 29, 2016.

All EMHSD staff ASSIGNED to work in the SEOC on Friday, January 29 for the Flint Water Emergency need to report to the new facility at 8 a.m.

Please park in the standard area and enter at the main entrance of the GOB (see attached parking and entrance map). EMHSD staff will be on site by 7:45 a.m. to greet and escort you to the new SEOC.

Please be patient as we all learn our way around, and with new equipment. It may be necessary for us to assign "temporarily" locations of computers in the SEOC; therefore, your position may not be located in its permanent sitting position until early next week.

It has been mentioned to those working within the SEOC, it is important that you secure documents and files you may have stored on the PC's or desktops at Collins Road by saving to a memory stick or you may also talk to the IT support within the SEOC (Rich or Jaclyn) about saving information to the S Drive. You will most likely be working on a different PC, and we want to ensure you have the files you need to continue operations with as little interruption as possible.

Please return your ADT access card for Collins Road, by Thursday night. A container will be placed near the SEOC sign in-sheet for this purpose.

New phone numbers will be established in the SEOC and will be provided as soon as permanent locations are set. Until then, we recommend using your cell if someone needs to contact you.

EMHSD Staff not assigned to an SEOC position on Friday, January 29

By COB Thursday night, our janitorial staff will provide blue recycle bins throughout the building – marked for "trash". Please remove all trash by 10:00 am on Friday and place in these designated bins. She will also leave an extra trash bag in your office. Place this fresh trash bag in your wastepaper basket as this will be used to pack your PC accessories for transport.

Please report to Collins Rd at your normal time on Friday, Jan 29. This will be the final day in this building.

Jeans will be permitted on Friday, Jan 29 and Monday, Feb 1 if you are NOT assigned to the SEOC.

DTMB will begin tearing down computers early Friday morning, thereby making worktime on your PC uncertain. Please accomplish tasks that need to be completed via your computer by COB Thursday.

All EMHSD Staff that are remaining at Collins Road please report to the Kitchen at 8 a.m. Friday morning for a briefing. Friday will be used to scan the entire building to ensure all items are packed and ready for transport.

As noted previously, we MUST ensure there are no paperclips, staples, etc. left in our areas. All drawers, cabinets, shelves, and floors should be double checked. Refrigerators will need to be cleaned once again; NOTHING CAN BE LEFT BEHIND except for furniture that is not being relocated to Harris Rd.

An area has been designated in the kitchen for surplus....it is hopeful that you will not have much left by now, but if you run across small items that have been missed and are intended for surplus, please put them in this area. If it is a quality, useable item, please pack it for transport.

Please ensure you have updated your voice mail message with your new phone #, noting that it will be effective on Monday, February 1. You will be able to check voicemail from Collins Rd for a very short time once we move.

Please leave your ADT access card at the desk of Pam Strobel before you leave on Friday.

You will report at your normal scheduled time to 7150 Harris Drive, Dimondale, MI on Monday, February 1. Please DO NOT come in over the weekend as the movers will be unpacking and placing items throughout the weekend.

Please park in the standard area and enter at the main entrance of the GOB (see attached parking and entrance map). Greeters will be on hand to welcome you to our new work site and find your designated workspace. Assistance will be available throughout the day to help with computers, phones, etc. if needed. A welcome mat will be on your desk indicating key items you need to be aware of. Please take a moment to look it over thoroughly.

This has been a big project for all, and we are confident you will find the new division location a welcoming and efficient area to accomplish all that you do. Be patient as we become acclimated. New phones and new workspace will take time to get accustomed to.

Thanks for all of your patience and hard work. It takes EVERYONE to ensure a smooth move.

If you have any questions, please contact me.

Hi Carol,

I just want it noted that the four trucks/suburbans borrowed for the Flint Response were returned with a lot of junk (boxes, garbage, etc.) in the back of them. In fact we even found a box of 4 Brita filters that should be returned to Flint. If you know of any division staff going to Flint next week we could ensure the filters get in their hands for a return. Also our lift gate on the Ford is acting up now so Ron is going to work on that.

I think a take away from this is when things are borrowed for an event like this there needs to be an official check in and a check out process so there are no surprises like this. I am wondering if all of the donated Penskes that were borrowed had some kind of checkout from the event before they were returned. It just seems to be an area of improvement to keep in mind for future events. Thanks!

It would be a good offering. This was the one we had discussed a month or so back, yes? Flint would be good, or possibly even Brighton as a central spot. The Detroit metro folks should be encouraged to attend this too.

Hi Dianne

Sorry for the previous odd communication from me, I meant to send to another course instructor and accidently sent to you. However, I still need to discuss the subject course with you.

Paul Benyeda provided me your contact information.

We are very interested in hosting this class in Michigan in the next year or so. I realize the "G" version of the course was just release by EMI. Do you have other qualified instructors we could use? Would it be possible to arrange an "L" course delivery with EMI?

Maybe we can discuss after the holidays? Please let me know.

It's That Time! It's Time to Move!!!

As you may be aware, the State Emergency Operation Center (SEOC) will be relocating from 4000 Collins Road, Lansing to 7150 Harris Drive, Dimondale (known as the General Office Building – GOB) on Friday, January 29, 2016.

All EMHSD staff ASSIGNED to work in the SEOC on Friday, January 29 for the Flint Water Emergency need to report to the new facility at 8 a.m.

Please park in the standard area and enter at the main entrance of the GOB (see attached parking and entrance map). EMHSD staff will be on site by 7:45 a.m. to greet and escort you to the new SEOC.

Please be patient as we all learn our way around, and with new equipment. It may be necessary for us to assign "temporarily" locations of computers in the SEOC; therefore, your position may not be located in its permanent sitting position until early next week.

It has been mentioned to those working within the SEOC, it is important that you secure documents and files you may have stored on the PC's or desktops at Collins Road by saving to a memory stick or you may also talk to the IT support within the SEOC (Rich or Jaclyn) about saving information to the S Drive. You will most likely be working on a different PC, and we want to ensure you have the files you need to continue operations with as little interruption as possible.

Please return your ADT access card for Collins Road, by Thursday night. A container will be placed near the SEOC sign in-sheet for this purpose.

New phone numbers will be established in the SEOC and will be provided as soon as permanent locations are set. Until then, we recommend using your cell if someone needs to contact you.

EMHSD Staff not assigned to an SEOC position on Friday, January 29

By COB Thursday night, our janitorial staff will provide blue recycle bins throughout the building – marked for "trash". Please remove all trash by 10:00 am on Friday and place in these designated bins. She will also leave an extra trash bag in your office. Place this fresh trash bag in your wastepaper basket as this will be used to pack your PC accessories for transport.

Please report to Collins Rd at your normal time on Friday, Jan 29. This will be the final day in this building.

Jeans will be permitted on Friday, Jan 29 and Monday, Feb 1 if you are NOT assigned to the SEOC.

DTMB will begin tearing down computers early Friday morning, thereby making worktime on your PC uncertain. Please accomplish tasks that need to be completed via your computer by COB Thursday.

All EMHSD Staff that are remaining at Collins Road please report to the Kitchen at 8 a.m. Friday morning for a briefing. Friday will be used to scan the entire building to ensure all items are packed and ready for transport.

As noted previously, we MUST ensure there are no paperclips, staples, etc. left in our areas. All drawers, cabinets, shelves, and floors should be double checked. Refrigerators will need to be cleaned once again; NOTHING CAN BE LEFT BEHIND except for furniture that is not being relocated to Harris Rd.

An area has been designated in the kitchen for surplus....it is hopeful that you will not have much left by now, but if you run across small items that have been missed and are intended for surplus, please put them in this area. If it is a quality, useable item, please pack it for transport.

Please ensure you have updated your voice mail message with your new phone #, noting that it will be effective on Monday, February 1. You will be able to check voicemail from Collins Rd for a very short time once we move.

Please leave your ADT access card at the desk of Pam Strobel before you leave on Friday.

You will report at your normal scheduled time to 7150 Harris Drive, Dimondale, MI on Monday, February 1. Please DO NOT come in over the weekend as the movers will be unpacking and placing items throughout the weekend.

Please park in the standard area and enter at the main entrance of the GOB (see attached parking and entrance map). Greeters will be on hand to welcome you to our new work site and find your designated workspace. Assistance will be available throughout the day to help with computers, phones, etc. if needed. A welcome mat will be on your desk indicating key items you need to be aware of. Please take a moment to look it over thoroughly.

This has been a big project for all, and we are confident you will find the new division location a welcoming and efficient area to accomplish all that you do. Be patient as we become acclimated. New phones and new workspace will take time to get accustomed to.

Thanks for all of your patience and hard work. It takes EVERYONE to ensure a smooth move.

If you have any questions, please contact me.

Bet the MSPs hands are full with Flint....

The video should be a good tool for training new and old members of the force..... And along with the mass.... Two objects cannot occupy the same space at the same time.... ☹

Please let me know who/when the new Haz-Mat manager is in place.

Have a safe day.

Hi Greg and sorry for the delayed response.

That footage is um . not good for sure. Thanks for forwarding. In physics I learned mass x acceleration = Force. And well, you don't mess with the "mass" of a train!
That train punched a powerful force and he is lucky he wasn't killed!

I have been in the SEOC since last Monday – very busy here! We are also moving (a couple of us) AND .. hiring a new HazMat manager – hope to get a start date by March sometime.

HI Randy,

We appreciate the status of the Hazmat Tech training bid we sent you. Yes, the exchange rate is unfavorable for this.

Our next weekday offering of the Hazardous Materials Technician Part I course is April 11-15 and there are seats available. The cost is $400.

The next Hazardous Materials Technician Part II course is May 9-13 and there are seats available. The cost is $400.

Please let us know if we can be of further assistance. We look forward to training your staff in the coming year! Have a great day!

Hi Stacey:

Thanks for getting back to me. I am going to have to put our discussion regarding your staff coming here to deliver training on hold for now. The dramatic change in the exchange rate between the US and Canadian dollar has left me with insufficient funds to support this initiative at this time.

If the exchange rate changes or I am able to access more funding I will commence those discussions once again.

For your information, I still intend to send some of our staff to your facility in Lansing for courses this year, that aspect of the training is still affordable.

Take care,

Randy

Good morning Randy,

Sorry we have not been able to touch base since my return I came back just before the holidays and since then I have been working in our state's EOC due to the Flint Water Crisis. If you can let me know what you need via email I will try to get you a response when I have a moment or I can get you to another staff member to assist.

Thanks for your patience.

Hi Carol –

Thanks for your call tonight. We've started our outreach to locate 3 electric forklifts and 4 manual pallet jacks for your use.

As I mentioned, I'm traveling a good bit of the day tomorrow, so I'm copying ALAN board member Mark Richards for backup until we confirm who will be working this case.

Subject: IMPORTANT: Informational Update for all State Agency Emergency Management Coordinators and First Alternates
Attachments: GOB Parking and Entrance Map.pdf

Dear State Agency Emergency Management Coordinators:

As you are aware, the State Emergency Operation Center (SEOC) will be relocating from 4000 Collins Road, Lansing to 7150 Harris Drive, Dimondale (known as the General Office Building – GOB) on Friday, January 29, 2016.

All State Agency Emergency Management Coordinators (SEMC) currently working on the Flint Water Emergency need to report to the new facility at 8 a.m. on Friday, January 29, 2016.

Please park in the standard area and enter at the main entrance of the GOB (see attached parking and entrance map). EMHSD staff will be on site by 7:45 a.m. to greet and escort you to the new SEOC.

We ask for your patience as we all learn our way around and with new equipment. It may be necessary for us to assign "temporarily" locations of computers in the SEOC; therefore, you may not be located in your permanent sitting position until early next week.

It has been mentioned to the SEMC or alternate working within the SEOC throughout the week, it is important that you secure documents and files you may have stored on the PC's or desktops at Collins Road by saving to a memory stick or you may also talk to the IT support within the SEOC (Rich or Jaclyn) about saving information to the S Drive. You will most likely be working on a different PC, and we want to ensure you have the files you need to continue operations with as little interruption as possible. If you have manuals specific to your discipline in the current SEOC, please take those with you on Thursday and bring them to the Harris Road SEOC on Friday morning. If you are not working in the SEOC at this time and have manuals specific to your discipline, please stop by before Thursday night to retrieve them. Any materials left behind will be discarded.

Please return your ADT access card for Collins Road, by Thursday. A container will be placed near the SEOC sign in-sheet for this purpose.

New phone numbers will be established in the SEOC and will be provided as soon as permanent locations are set. Until then, we recommend using your cell if someone needs to contact you.

If you have any questions, please contact me.

Thank you,
Pam

All-

The US Coast Guard and Enbridge Oil are planning a Full Scale Exercise for May 26, 2016. Yesterday we (Jen, Matt, Mark and I) met with the USCG planning team to work on the development of the exercise. We would like to come together to talk about the interest of opening the SEOC as part of the exercise and develop some objectives. We believe that each of your agencies would be impacted in this type of event. Please review the attached materials prior to the meeting and think of ideas of what type of impacts your agency would see in this type of event. If USCG passes along any update materials before the meeting I will make sure to pass them along

Who is the donations coordinator? Below is information I received today about United Dairy Industry Of Michigan's milk donation plans for Flint area, possibly you are already aware through MDARD at SEOC but if not, I wanted to be sure the donations person was in the loop.

At the United Dairy Industry of Michigan (UDIM), they are working on getting an initial donation going of a million glasses of milk. One of the dairy cooperatives and Kroger are donating 12,000 gallons tomorrow to the Flint Food Bank. UDIM is working with companies to try to get another 30,000 gallons donated, which we will match. Their intent is to provide a steady stream of calcium one of the key nutrients that helps to reduce lead absorption. This is one step of many, but certainly there is a much longer road ahead of this community!

With winter upon us, it is not time to hibernate, instead it is time to take action and enhance your skill set by attending a course, or two, offered by the Emergency Management and Homeland Security Training Center (EMHSTC).

The 2016 course schedule begins with a variety of courses to train those who are just beginning, all of the way through to the advanced level. One example is the USFA All Hazards Incident Management Team 0-305 course that is being offered. This course focuses on the importance of developing and operating as a functional All Hazard Incident Management Team (AHIMT) and emphasize the nature and purpose of an AHIMT.

We are also conducting other classes and a few tabletop exercises. Don't wait and register today before the spots fill!

Course	Date(s)	Location
Introduction to CAMEO Suite Train-the-Trainer (PER 229.1)	January 22	Farmington Hills
USFA All Hazards Incident Management Team 0-305	January 25-29	Lansing
Medical Management of CBRNE Incidents (PER-211)	January 25-26	Alpena
Medical Management of CBRNE Incidents (PER-211)	January 28-29	Gaylord

I think we will now find many other municipalities with "lead in their pipes". Our infrastructure is a mess, and has been well documented by the American Society of Civil Engineers in a report over 5 years ago. That does not mean I don't feel for the children...I do. SOM does need to help them, and I mean years! I know that MSU's School of Medicine has already volunteered to do a long range study and treatment…all other Michigan Medical Schools should help, perhaps at the state expense. They will need treatment and should be helped with any means available. DHHS better start thinking about what they will need to do, strategically for many years to come.

3. Don Kildee-the rep from Flint was the only one who really took the side of citizens there, he was constantly demanding help from the beginning. From a political standpoint, he can probably use this to his advantage and run for governor. My husband and most journalists in Lansing think very highly of him. More will be heard from him in the future.
4. As I wrote and developed one of the first crisis leadership courses, I can tell you our governor did everything wrong from the beginning. I know he is trying to correct the problem but he has totally lost public trust. He will probably never regain that and that will make his administration and policies very hard to implement and support.

Enough ranting, our only concern needs to be the people's health and safety in Flint. It all comes down to that. I am sure that is what you are all working for, day and night. My thoughts are with you, as there is no plan for this kind of thing. I am wishing you still had Doran there, he is a strategic thinker. You need all the help and support you can get.

PS Lunch would be great! Just let me know.

Hi Lori

I never answered you since I had bunion surgery on December 11th. Now it is good, but the day after I was wondering why I did this to myself! In the long run I think I will be pleased.
Hope your holiday-Christmas and New Year (not PC) and daughters' wedding went well! Are you happy with your new son-in-law? Our kiddos were hoping to snow ski – but that didn't work out this year!

Would like to hear your thoughts on the Flint Water issue – knowing you to have strong opinions☺. Amanda has been working in the SEOC almost non-stop. People are getting burned out a bit. EMHSD is moving in two weeks now—so are Amanda and I. Robb's last day is Friday – going to FEMA Region V. (you probably know all of this,)

We should do lunch in the next couple of weeks – could meet you nearby.

News you may already know – Jen Boyer moved to Midland to replace Roger as the EMC and Therese Cremonte is retiring in two weeks and will be the Livingston County EMC.

Always good to hear from you!

Happy Holidays to all of you! (Yes, I can be "politically correct, when I choose to).
Just wanted to touch base with all of you. I think and miss you all, life here at Treasury is the same, I am fortunate to work with some excellent people but my heart will always be with EM. I am still doing training somewhat, but I have learned to do a lot more system training. (Not my favorite but I am glad I have learned how to do it.)
My family is doing well and my oldest daughter is getting married (no date set). If you are wondering if I am retiring soon, the answer is no. I would like to put in another 5 years I know we have seen so many come and go and many are getting ready to leave. A large loss for SOM but this oldie is not leaving yet.

Have a great holiday and a wonderful New Year!
P.S. Why isn't the Radiological Program a tab on the website? Seems it should be. Also the picture on the web under Grants has about 3-4 retired (not recent) people in it.

I have been working in support of the SEOC activation the past two days. When I entered the OT into DCDS I get a restriction error related to my former FMLA status. Can this restriction against my time be changed in the system?

I should obtain my final note first thing Monday morning at my appointment. (I had no time frame restriction, only the 'not a lot of walking' and periodic elevation restriction).

I am working in the SEOC all week (away from my desk).

I am the worksite commander at the EMHSTC -- there are no problems with accomodating my work.

I will get a full return note next Monday at my appt.

I never heard from you on this. I may have to work overtime this week in the SEOC due to the Flint water disaster. Are there any restrictions on my time due to the recent FLSA?

Attached is a scanned copy of the note from the doctor for me to return to work on 1/4/2016. I will still have my surgical boot on for another week (till the 11th) but will be returning full-time on the 1/4/2016. I will just need to elevated and ice my foot now and them for another week or so.

Carol,

In checking your DCDS error, it's a FLSA error which has nothing to do with your FMLA. Try entering your overtime with OTX1 as your overtime pay code, you'll find it in the drop down. This is the overtime pay code for employees like yourself with an overtime exemption. If this doesn't work let me know I'll put you in touch with payroll.

I'll watch for your updated medical to come in Water Response Team – Door to Door Canvas

February 8, 2016

Recovery Staff Proposed Changes:

- Approve ARC to go from 10 to 5 ERVs/Teams.
  - ARC requested going from 10 to 5 ERV teams a week or so ago. They continue to train new drivers to give current staff breaks.
- Approve ARC to assist with 211, Rapid Response and AFN Lists.
  - Recovery is working on an Access and Functional Needs list for the Local EOC for ongoing service to AFN citizens and the goal is to have ARC assist with that, dispatched from Local EOC.
- Approve ARC to run water only teams
  - ARC is already doing water only delivery with event based volunteers rather than sending them out on the WRTs.
  - Report amounts of water taken from warehouse/delivered to citizens.
  - Report Areas (38 as broken out by GIS) visited daily for situational awareness.
  - Not required to be tracked on iPad.

Status of parcels and citizen contact:

- WRTs are finishing up list of homes that had zero contact/no filter over the last 3 weeks of canvassing.
- WRTs are finishing up "Vacant/Active/No Filter" list.
- 99.3% of parcels have been engaged in water response efforts.
- WRTs are down to 195 (1%) parcels that have not had personal contact – this can be continued to get to 100% contact with the 5 ERVs in the coming days.

Other Activities for ARC Volunteers

- Community Centers have expressed need for help passing out water
  - Can be coordinated thru LEOC/per meeting held with BJ and Jay.

Carol,

I was able to print most of the inbox emails but it took all of the day. Jan 9-16 in the inbox archive still needs to be printed. The sent boxes (4 total— 1 in the email box, 3 in archive) will need to be printed today. The other 2 planning computers will also need to be printed, when a printer is available. We also did not get a chance to copy any of the notes yet.

I also spoke to Lori and group about printing of the shared drive.

- We have several folders:
  - Agency Brief Notes
  - Agendas
  - Gov Report
  - MI CIMS Data for Sit Rep
  - Sit Reps
  - Objective and Tactics
- Any of the reports that are in excel files can be put on a thumb drive (FOIA has an extra one we can use).
- Any word document or PDF document will need to be printed.

Another addition was Capt. asked us to compile a daily list of any of the teams that are going out in the field along with the number of houses they reach and number of samples they take. He needs this information to use during his 7:30 nightly call.

- The file for the template can be located here: S:\DISASTER\2015-10 Flint Water\MI CIMS Data for Sit Rep\Field Teams. The PSC directions have also been updated to include this.
- We have asked all the agencies to put that information in their Sit Reps each day, so we can pull the list around 6 pm and compile it for Capt.
- MDEQ or MDCH might also email you the information.
- Please provide it to Capt. around 6:45 pm so he has time to ask any questions. Yesterday's sent email is still in the box. I have a feeling he might ask for additional information, depending on what questions he was asked during his call, so feel free to update the form if that happens.

The Governor's report also changed a little bit again today.

- Sam and I stayed to update the form for all of you. I believe that Ben said he would be in to work on it again today, but we wanted to make sure the majority was done if he did not come in by 12.
  - You will need to update the items to note.
  - Ben and Nat worked all day to add in the data for the Sentinel Teams. You will need to find out from DEQ if the Sentinel Matrix data on the shared drive in the GovReport folder is up to date. This is not something we receive an email on them from.
- When you look at the updated GIS data for homes visited went up by 33 homes but the number of homes confirmed with filters only went up 5. This made the unconfirmed number go up, not down—which is not usually the case. This makes the data look off, but after checking the math several times, we know it is valid. I just wanted to make sure you knew the reason in case someone asks.
- Before you print, double check the numbers. The path for each are located in the PSC procedures.
- You no longer have to select each tab when putting the file into a PDF! That was one great update for today.

The Flint Water Timeline will need to be updated with commodities totals once the Gov report is complete.

Please do not hesitate to call Sam or me if you have any questions.

Amanda

Update 2/11/16 – 38th Day (37th Full Day) After Governor's Declaration of an Emergency

Mission focus for the day:

- Ensure adequate quantities of supplies to support operations.
- Continue door to door/Flint Water Response Teams (FWRTs), ARC only.
- Prepare appeal on denial of Category B under the Presidential Emergency Declaration.
- Shift Water Response Teams operations to a targeted effort to provide filters into homes where data shows filters have not been provided.
- Work on plan for Volunteer Expansion (to increase the utilization of the volunteer force to distribute commodities over the longer term), Ongoing Resourcing, and Long Term Recovery - recovery plan/transition of PODs.

Status on Governor's request letter to the President:

- Appeal denial received on the Major Disaster Declaration. Nothing more can be done on this.
- Denial of Individual Household Program and Category B under the Emergency Declaration received January 22, 2016. We have 30 days to appeal and EMHSD staff is gathering information for the appeal.

Attached:

1. Sit Rep #37.
2. Maps: Residential Water Sampling Results – Lead and Copper

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- Due to the boil water advisory in the city of Flint the SEOC will continue to monitor supplies closely in anticipation of burn rates increasing.
- 9 American Red Cross Teams scheduled for Friday, February 12, 2016.

Items to Note

- MDE is reporting that a portion of the emergency funds that were approved for the Flint Water Crisis included $340,000 for Flint Community Schools to hire/contract for nine school nurses.
- U.S. Department of Education is scheduled visit Flint on February 12, 201 at 0830 at the Genesee Intermediate School District. MDE Deputy Superintendent and the Director of Special Education will attend. Family alliance members will also attend.
- MDEQ has 10 - 3 person Sentinel Sampling Teams on the ground again today. Each team is composed of 1 local resident, 1 licensed plumber and 1 MDEQ staff person providing training on water sampling to residents throughout the City of Flint. These residents have agreed to conduct ongoing sampling with their water to be analyzed by the MDEQ laboratory. These residents will also be part of the Sentinel Sampling Program and samples will be collected every two weeks and will provide analysis for lead and copper. Over 100 homes were visited yesterday on Day 1 of the effort.
- Attended Community Stakeholder meeting. In addition MDEQ continues to lead an Initial Site Assessment Team for high copper and high lead. This team is composed of 1 licensed plumber, 1 law enforcement officer from Flint PD, 1 MDEQ staff person and 1 MDHHS representative. This team is providing initial assessment in information to residents whose homes have water sampling results above the federal action levels for lead and copper. Our goal is to provide these visits and assessment within 48 hours of receiving the results.

Unified Coordination Group (UCG):

- WQTF: 1st round of sequential paired with the MDEQ sentinel site sampling will provide a good picture of how the system is improving.
- HMTF: Met with the Mass Transportation Authority (MTA), they have a lot of resources to get people to places of interest e.g. care facilities, good food sources, etc.
- PEATF: Dr. Mona, Chelsea Clinton, and Dr. Lurie are in town. A lot of community outreach going on over the weekend. Surgeon General will be in town next week.

Local EOC

- Attended Community Stakeholder meeting.
- Long-term distribution plan, based on discussions with City of Flint and SEOC representatives on 02/09 and 02/10/2016 in Lansing, will be presented to Deputy State Director of Emergency & Homeland Security on 02/12/2016.
- Developing logistics procedures to aid transition to local EOC staff.
- 10 Sentinel Site Monitoring Teams and Elevated Lead and Copper Initial Assessment Task Force out in the field.

Subject: Daily Summary

Capt. Kelenske,

Below is today's summary of events. The Sit Rep has been reviewed by Peter Manning.

Update 2/11/16 – 38th Day (37th Full Day) After Governor's Declaration of an Emergency

Mission focus for the day:

- Ensure adequate quantities of supplies to support operations.

1. Sit Rep #37.
   * There are no Water Sampling Results Maps available for today. GIS is resolving a problem with the maps and they will be available tomorrow. Some anomalies in the data were discovered that are being corrected.

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- Due to the boil water advisory in the city of Flint the SEOC will continue to monitor supplies closely in anticipation of burn rates increasing.
- 8 American Red Cross Teams scheduled for Friday, February 12, 2016.
- The second warehouse will open tomorrow on Pierson Road. This warehouse will primarily receive donations that are not on pallets.

Subject: Daily Summary

Capt. Kelenske,

Below is today's summary of events. The Sit Rep has been reviewed by Peter Manning.

Update 2/11/16 – 38th Day (37th Full Day) After Governor's Declaration of an Emergency

Mission focus for the day:

- Ensure adequate quantities of supplies to support operations.
- Continue door to door/Flint Water Response Teams (FWRTs), ARC only.
- Prepare appeal on denial of Category B under the Presidential Emergency Declaration.
- Shift Water Response Teams operations to a targeted effort to provide filters into homes where data shows filters have not been provided.
- Work on plan for Volunteer Expansion (to increase the utilization of the volunteer force to distribute commodities over the longer term), Ongoing Resourcing, and Long Term Recovery - recovery plan/transition of PODs.

Status on Governor's request letter to the President:

- Appeal denial received on the Major Disaster Declaration. Nothing more can be done on this.
- Denial of Individual Household Program and Category B under the Emergency Declaration received January 22, 2016. We have 30 days to appeal and EMHSD staff is gathering information for the appeal.

Attached:

1. Sit Rep #37.
   * There are no Water Sampling Results Maps available for today. GIS is resolving a problem with the maps and they will be available tomorrow. Some anomalies in the data were discovered that are being corrected.

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- Due to the boil water advisory in the city of Flint the SEOC will continue to monitor supplies closely in anticipation of burn rates increasing.
- 8 American Red Cross Teams scheduled for Friday, February 12, 2016.
- The second warehouse will open tomorrow on Pierson Road. This warehouse will primarily receive donations that are not on pallets.

Items to Note

- MDE is reporting that a portion of the emergency funds that were approved for the Flint Water Crisis included $340,000 for Flint Community Schools to hire/contract for nine school nurses.
- U.S. Department of Education is scheduled visit Flint on February 12, 201 at 0830 at the Genesee Intermediate School District. MDE Deputy Superintendent and the Director of Special Education will attend. Family alliance members will also attend.
- MDEQ has 10 - 3 person Sentinel Sampling Teams on the ground again today. Each team is composed of 1 local resident, 1 licensed plumber and 1 MDEQ staff person providing training on water sampling to residents throughout the City of Flint. These residents have agreed to conduct ongoing sampling with their water to be analyzed by the MDEQ laboratory. These residents will also be part of the Sentinel Sampling Program and samples will be collected every two weeks and will provide analysis for lead and copper. Over 100 homes were visited yesterday on Day 1 of the effort.
- Attended Community Stakeholder meeting. In addition MDEQ continues to lead an Initial Site Assessment Team for high copper and high lead. This team is composed of 1 licensed plumber, 1 law enforcement officer from Flint PD, 1 MDEQ staff person and 1 MDHHS representative. This team is providing initial assessment in information to residents whose homes have water sampling results above the federal action levels for lead and copper. Our goal is to provide these visits and assessment within 48 hours of receiving the results.

Unified Coordination Group (UCG):

- WQTF: 1st round of sequential results in a week-week and a half, this paired with the MDEQ sentinel site sampling will provide a good picture of how the system is improving.
- HMTF: Met with the Mass Transportation Authority (MTA), they have a lot of resources to get people to places of interest e.g. care facilities, good food sources, etc.
- PEATF: Dr. Mona, Chelsea Clinton, and Dr. Lurie are in town. A lot of community outreach going on over the weekend. Surgeon General will be in town next week.

Local EOC

- Attended Community Stakeholder meeting.
- Long-term distribution plan, based on discussions with City of Flint and SEOC representatives on 02/09 and 02/10/2016 in Lansing, will be presented to Deputy State Director of Emergency & Homeland Security on 02/12/2016.
- Developing logistics procedures to aid transition to local EOC staff.
- 10 Sentinel Site Monitoring Teams and Elevated Lead and Copper Initial Assessment Task Force out in the field.

Subject: New report

Hey Amanda

After allowing my brain to think last night, I am still not sure about this new reporting. When Nat was talking right before we left and said that he did not have a specific time for when he wanted the new report. He was doing it to make sure that it was done by 5:00 pm. I am thinking that doing the reporting at night is still the best, since we are going through all of the numbers for the Sit Rep anyway and everything is familiar. Having the same people do the reporting that have been working on everything allows for less confusion. It will be someone else doing the reporting in the morning and this has caused confusion on other things when the new person is working.

Justification for nightly reporting and process:

- We need almost all of the data at night for the Sit Rep (except DEQ)
- Make all state agencies provide the data by 1800 every day.
    - If this means that DEQ only has partial data, then they can make up the difference the next day; the same as the way that the PODs are being reported.
- The Sit Rep is started at 1700.
- The POD data should be entered by 1700.
- The FWRT data should be completed by 1800.
- The warehouse data should be in by 1800.
- The numbers sheet should be completed by 1830, if the above data is complete.
- As long as the above is all done, then the Sit Rep should be done by 1930ish.
- Peter Manning, SEOC LOG, SEOC OPS, and State Director should have the Sit Rep reviewed by 2000.
- Everything entered and complete by 2015-2030.
- The issue that comes into play is the Governor data.
    - If the SEOC can make the statement that the Governor Data sheet will be used from the previous day and any changes will not take affect till the next day, then this should be able to be done by 2000 as well.
        - As you are aware, the issue comes into play when the Governor Data sheet changes the day the data is due.

In the end it is up to Capt. to make the decision of when he wants the data, but if the data is not going to be done until noon, then it might as well be done the night before.

Just my 2 cents.

We can talk later.

Thanks
Sam

Dr. Katie Wilson, Deputy Under Secretary @ USDA Food Nutrition Services visited a Flint elementary school and the health department today to discuss how USDA programs can help provide relief to those affected by water contamination. From that visit, came a USDA media release that highlighted the efforts between the USDA, MI Dept of Education and all Health/Human Services partners to expand nutrition programs such as Community Eligibility Provision, Summer Electronic Benefits Transfer (EBT), Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Program, Ready to Feed Formula program through WIC, nutrition education programming through Child and Adult Care Food Program, USDA Foods programs including The Emergency Food Assistance Program (TEFAP), kay and that WIC funding will help cover the cost of lead testing for WIC participants. Embedded within that media release was nutrition education information further detailing the targeted nutrients, direct links to nutrition education materials from MSU Extension, and details about expanded benefits and nutrition education at the Flint Farmers Market.

Attached:

1. Sit Rep #38.
2. Maps: Residential Water Sampling Results – Lead and Copper

Key items for tomorrow to note are:

- Although the boil water advisory has been lifted in the city of Flint, the SEOC is continuing to monitor supplies at the PODs closely in anticipation of burn rates increasing over the holiday weekend.
- 8 American Red Cross teams scheduled for Saturday, February 13 – extra vehicles on hand for surge in event based volunteers.

Items to Note

- Elevated Lead and Copper Initial Assessment Task Force is beginning identification of companion animals in visited homes for start of dog blood level testing.
- The JIC issued news release this afternoon upon lifting of boil water advisory. They also held media availability at the Genesee County Emergency Operations Center to give the news media access to a sentinel team briefing prior to disbursing throughout Flint.
- Per MDEQ, all of the results from the samples collected in response to the water main break were non-detect for coliform bacteria.
- SEOC staff is working to estimate record numbers to comply with FOIA request.
- The CHECC remains active at a Level 2, and continues to staff the hotline Monday through Friday to answer any lead health-related questions referred by 2-1-1 in support of the GCHD.
- 80 volunteers were active across the operation today (56 event based, 15 ARC, 9 NCCC).

Unified Coordination Group (UCG):

- WQTF: Has a new team listed in the ICS-204 community involvement teams.
- Transitioned to using vulnerable populations as standard language instead of special populations.

Local EOC:

- 10 Sentinel Site Monitoring Teams and Elevated Lead and Copper Initial Assessment Task Force out in the field.
- Sentinel teams inspected approximately 170 homes since 02/10/2016, Initial Assessment Task force inspected approximately 65 homes with elevated lead levels and 30 days with elevated copper levels since 02/04/2016.
- Planning for staffing and transition from state agency support personnel to local personnel at Genesee County EOC.
- Liaison Officer and Incident Commander visited UCG and made contact with the Federal Health Coordinating Officer.
- Boil Water Advisory issued by City of Flint in response to water transmission line break was lifted at approximately 1700.

Subject: ~~RE: Local EOC Bullets~~ Recycling Trail

Do you know if they are looking for something in particular? Bags distributed? Amount of water bottles collected? Additional households signed up with Republic Services?

So far, I can only give you the following numbers:
Recycling bags, door-to-door: 6000 (all donated by Republic Services) Recycling bags, community events: 3000 (approximately 1000 donated by Republic Services, 2000 by Schupan Recycling) Recycling bags, PODs: 11,000 (all donated by Republic Services, 6500 were distributed to the PODs on Tuesday and they should all still have some on site).
Door hangers, door-to-door: 8000 (include sign-up information for curbside recycling)

In regard to the amount of water bottles, I don't have a figure on that yet. Schupan Recycling was planning to report volumes that they pick up at the stations. However, they only had to empty their trailers once so far.
As far as the Young's Environmental Cleanup sites go: Young's only provides roll-off containers that do get emptied by another recycling company. It is my understanding that Young's does not receive totals of collected recyclable material.

If requested, I can also ask Republic Services if they can provide an overview of new signups since the recycling program started. I don't know if they would volunteer that information, though.

The issue with reporting these numbers is that the recycling effort is mostly driven by private contributions from local and statewide recycling stakeholders. The state's involvement is mostly providing printed materials and bringing awareness to the issue through news releases through the JIC. With this being an effort that is mostly driven by organizations outside the emergency response system, it is hard to establish the same level of accountability with them that we are used to from the involved government agencies, or contracted businesses.

Henrik

I received a request from Nate from the governor's office regarding tracking and counting the quantity of recycling on Sunday when I was in Planning. He asked again where were are with this and if and how we are tracking.

Do you have any information or update on this request? Thanks!
